AIR CRUISER EN ROUTE

Graf Starts for Los Angeles

Sudden Weather Change at Tokio Hastens Departure

Globe-Circler Under Way Since 10:13 p.m. Yesterday

KASUMIGAURA (Japan) Aug. 23. (Friday) (AP)—The globe-circling Graf Zeppelin, a day and a half behind schedule, took the air for her projected 5470-mile journey to Los Angeles at 3:13 o'clock this afternoon (10:13 p.m., Thursday, Los Angeles time.)

KASUMIGAURA (Japan) Aug. 23. (Friday) (AP)—Unexpected improvement in weather conditions resulted this afternoon in preparations for immediate departure of the mighty Graf Zeppelin for Los Angeles.

The ground crew, summoned to move the large ship out of her hangar took positions at 1 p.m.

The change in plans followed lessening of the north wind which had been blowing across the entrance of the hangar, making handling of the ship difficult and possibly dangerous. Even as late as noon (7 p.m. Thursday, Los Angeles time) it had been stated that a time for the departure could be set.

H. Hugo Eckener, commander of the airship, in view of the weather conditions, had set no hour for the next attempt to resume the flight to Los Angeles, but arrangements were made so that passengers and mail could be assembled on short notice. The ship itself is in perfect condition for the long trans-Pacific flight.

CUPOLA DAMAGED

The giant airship first was balked yesterday as it was being drawn into its hangar yesterday. A rear cupola struck the earth and, although it was not otherwise of serious consequence. The direction and strength of the wind made handling of the huge craft difficult and perhaps precarious for the ground crew. At that time it appeared the weather condition was only temporary, but when the wind failed to settle from the unwanted quarter any attempt to fix a fresh time for departure was abandoned.

WEATHER REPORTS

Arrangements have been made for the Zeppelin to receive official weather reports three times a day during the outward flight puts the ship in direct contact with American radio stations. The Tokio Weather Bureau pointed out that although it must be crossed over the Pacific at this season these storms extend upward more than

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Aug. 22. [To the Editor of The Times:] There is one thing that is in the paper every morning just as regular as heat prostrations everywhere but here. And that is "Russia masses troops on China front." If they have massed as many on that front as they have on the front page why they have done what I would call some mass production in massing.

Col. Lindbergh is learning Ann to fly so they can go up and break the endurance record. That would just suit them to go up there and be away from everybody for a couple of months.

Gold Dust has merged with the United Cigar Stores. Their slogan will be "reach for a cigar and then wash out your mouth with Gold Dust."

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Derbyists Reach Fort Worth

Twenty Thousand Crash Lines as Miss Earhart Lands Second

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Completing the longest and most hazardous hop of their dash from Santa Monica to Cleveland, thirteen entrants in the women's air derby landed here late today to be acclaimed by more than 20,000 persons that broke down staunch police lines.

First to swoop down at the local municipal port was Louise McPhetridge Thaden, Pittsburgh, who is leading the heavier planes in the derby. She was followed a few seconds later by Amelia Earhart, noted trans-Atlantic flyer. Thirty policemen were powerless to hold back the crowd that broke through and swarmed about Miss Earhart's plane.

Although fatigued by the 600-mile air grind from El Paso, much of it over rugged, mountainous terrain, the derbyists were bustled into

NEW WAVES STIR DEATH

Savant Vibrates Cold Heart

Supersound Impulses Rouse Rhythmic Beat in Organ Taken from Turtle

Physiologists See Process Demonstrated at Boston Scientists' Congress

BOSTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—A dead heart was set beating rhythmically by supersound waves in a demonstration before the thirteenth International Physiological Congress today by Prof. E. Newton Harvey of Princeton University.

Dr. Harvey placed in a glass tube a heart removed from a turtle. A lever connected the heart with a revolving drum on which a recording pencil made a straight line—the sign of death—and then abruptly, without any visible change in the surroundings of the heart and without an audible sound, the ventricles began to beat and the moving pencil traced a familiar line of heart action.

SUPERSOUND WAVES

The experiment demonstrated the latest advance in the use of supersound waves, so-called because they vibrate from 300,000 to 2,500,000 times a second. They are inaudible, their frequency being too high for the auditory nerves to register. Heretofore they have been called popularly "the sound waves that kill," because of their ability to kill small fish and other minute forms of life. The work in developing them was done at the Loomis Laboratory, Tuxedo Park, N. Y., with apparatus devised by R. W. Wood and A. L. Loomis.

"A beating heart," said Prof. Harvey, "can be made to beat much more rapidly by passing sound waves through it and a nonbeating heart can be made to beat rhythmically by the sound waves, but it would not be possible to resuscitate a human being whose heart had stopped by means of the supersound waves, since they are very readily absorbed by the tissues and would not penetrate the chest cavity.

INTERESTING EXPERIMENT

"The effect is of great interest, physiologically, because it is the first clear-cut case of the stimulation of tissues by these waves."

The sounds are produced by passing an alternating electric current through a quartz crystal, which thereupon vibrates as fast as the current alternates. Success depends upon the shape, or plane, in which the crystal is cut.

The lifeless heart rests in Ringer's solution in a glass tube which is in contact with the surface of a dish of oil in which the crystal is immersed. The waves pass through oil, glass and Ringer's solution before reaching the heart.

WATER VAPORIZED

In other experiments a drop of water, subjected to the sound stream, is broken into a fine mist. Elodea cells, which are part of the organism that makes some of the green scum on ponds, show a rapid internal whirling in the presence of these sounds. Sometimes part of the whirling contents of the cell break up, particularly the chloroplasts, which are bodies containing the substance that produces the green color. Some of the cell membranes break.

Blood corpuscles sometimes are destroyed, but instead may be "thrown into nodes of standing waves." This phenomenon may be understood by visualizing waves that stand virtually motionless, as if frozen.

RADIO CHAIN TUNES OUT

Dissolution Announced by General Manager When Sale Deal Fails

Expenditures for Expansion Given as Quitting Cause; Stations Unaffected

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22. (AP)—Formal announcement of the dissolution of the American Broadcasting Company network, which has operated through stations on the Pacific Coast and in the Middle West for the past year, was made today by P. O. Dahlquist, vice-president and general manager, upon receipt of advices from Adolph Linden, president of the company, who is now in New York.

The failure of Linden to complete negotiations for the sale of the company to eastern capitalists and the heavy financial burden which the company is unable to bear, Dahlquist said, resulted in the decision to suspend operations of the network, effective last night.

This action, however, the official declared, does not affect the status of the independent stations which have been affiliated with the A.B.C. chain. Stations in San Francisco, Seattle, Spokane, Portland, Denver, Salt Lake City and Los Angeles, which were the nucleus of the system, Dahlquist said, will function as usual.

The growth of the network necessitated the expenditure of huge sums of money to maintain its structure and expansion through the Middle West to Chicago, and, Dahlquist explained, created a financial burden which the company could not maintain through the summer months.

Among the stations on the chain are KJR, Seattle; KGA, Spokane; KEX, Portland; KYA, San Francisco; KMTR, Los Angeles; KFBK, Sacramento; KDYL, Salt Lake City; KLZ, Denver; KFAB, Lincoln, Neb.; WMT, Waterloo, Iowa; WIL, St. Louis; WOQ, Kansas City; WIBO, Chicago, and WRHM, Minneapolis.

TELEPHONE COMPANY WITHDRAWS CONNECTION

SEATTLE, Aug. 22. (AP)—Failure of the American Broadcasting Company, operating twenty radio stations, to meet a telephone company bill said to approximate $90,000 resulted in the latter withdrawing its wire connections with the broadcasting company here today. The local station, KJR, still is broadcasting tonight.

Adolph Linden, president of the company, was in New York, employees here said, attempting to sell or refinance his chain. They said reports from him are "encouraging."

MANCHURIA INVADED

Russian Forces Advance

Defenders Reported Falling Back Before Army of 40,000

Heavy Troop Concentration by China Authorities Indicated

TOKIO, Aug. 23. (AP)—A dispatch to Rengo, Japanese news agency, from Mukden states that 40,000 Russian soviet troops stationed at Iman, half-way between Vladivostok and Khabarovsk, have invaded Chinese territory and are moving steadily westward.

Yesterday this force is supposed to have occupied Mishan, a town northwest of Lake Naka. Chinese forces in this vicinity have retired eight miles.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN WARNING GIVEN CHINA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—Admitting that soviet Russian troops have crossed the Manchurian borders, the soviet government has transmitted to the Nationalist and Manchurian governments a warning that they must disarm Russian White Guard troops and prevent further raids by Chinese forces or assume the guilt for further complications in the controversy between the two countries.

The statement was handed to the German Embassy in Moscow on the 19th inst. to be communicated to the Nanking and Mukden governments, and copies were received today in Washington.

HEAVY CHINESE TROOP CONCENTRATION INDICATED

PEIPING (China) Aug. 22. (AP)—Chinese authorities in Manchuria appear to have undertaken heavy troop concentration to prevent Russian troops from crossing the frontiers of Manchuria.

A military conference in Mukden called today by Gov. Chang Hsueh-Liang of Manchuria decided that all Chinese troops along the border should be instructed to remain strictly on the defensive. They were ordered, however, to repel any Russian invasion or raid.

Three brigades of cavalry and two of infantry now in the Khan Hsi-Kuan region were sent to the border.

The conference further decided to deduct 20 per cent from the salaries of all official employees of the Manchurian government for the purpose of purchasing war material.

Manchurian railways were crowded today with troop trains moving up toward the border. One division of troops left Kirin City yesterday for Harbin, followed a few hours later by a machine-gun corps, and several batteries of artillery.

CHANG GOES TO HARBIN

These troops were understood to be destined to the northeastern section of the frontier, in the neighborhood of Pogranichnaya.

Mukden moved 50,000 soldiers from Feng-Tien Province through Taonan toward Manchuli on the northwestern border.

Gen. Chang Tso-Hsiang, appointed second in command in Manchuria to Gov. Chang Hsueh-Liang, but really the strong man of Manchuria, left Kirin City with the troops for Harbin. He will direct the Chinese military operations.

RADIO PROPAGANDA

Since the beginning of the dispute between Russian and China the Russian radio station at Khabarovsk has daily broadcast news and propaganda about the Chinese Eastern Railway situation.

Mukden has taken the hint and is using its radio station for similar purposes.

Adherence to the facts of the dispute does not appear to be the guiding principle of these rival nations.

It was an officially broadcast announcement from Mukden which reported the mythical invasion of Manchuria by 10,000 Russian troops

LOCOMOTIVE KILLS FOUR AT CROSSING

Two More Near Death in Hospital After Car Crash Near Palo Alto

PALO ALTO, Aug. 22. (AP)—Four persons were killed and two possibly fatally injured when a light switch engine struck an automobile today, at a grade-crossing near Mountain View.

The dead were: Mrs. J. M. Hollingsworth, Palo Alto, and her two grandsons, Jack and Robert Joy, 13 and 10 years of age, and Mrs. R. A. Nordberg of Palo Alto.

In the Palo Alto Hospital, Mrs. Nordberg's 7-year - old daughter Jane suffered from a fractured skull, while Mrs. Pearl Kemp, who lives south of here, is unconscious from serious cuts and bruises.

J. E. Newman, engineer of the locomotive, said he saw the car approaching the tracks, and blew his whistle. The car, a heavy coach, approached at a slow rate of speed, and drove in front of the engine, he said.

HEAT SETS HIGH MARK IN CHICAGO

One Dies When Mercury Suddenly Mounts to 93.5 Deg. in Midafternoon

CHICAGO, Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—One person died of heat prostration today as the thermometers bumped up to the hottest temperature of the summer at 3 p.m. when it registered 93.5 on the hottest August 22 in the history of Chicago's Weather Bureau.

That was nearly a point higher than the old high mark of the year—92.56 on July 27.

The record heat was all the more startling in that the day wore along at a moderate temperature until past 1 o'clock in the afternoon. It was 82 then, but the thermometer jumped 7 points by 2 and had reached 93 at 3 o'clock.

According to Forecaster C. A. Donnell, the rapid rise to the sweltering peak was caused by a sudden shift in the wind toward the south during the morning, bringing in a breeze from the plains of Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska, where readings above 100 were prevalent.

Hanover and Phillipsburg, Kan., reported a high mark of 106, the top reading received by the government Weather Bureau from the whole country.

Elmer Tressler, 35 years of age, was overcome by the heat while driving an automobile. He died shortly afterward. The extremely hot weather caused a mad rush to the beaches. Three drownings were reported during the afternoon.

Woman Scales Canadian Peak

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (AP)—A New York woman and two male companions share the honor of being the first to scale the peak of Mt. Alexander, 11,000 feet above sea level, in the Canadian Rockies.

Those who made the ascent were Miss Helen I. Buck, Dr. A. J. Gilmour, also of New York, and N. D. Wafi of Orange, N. J. The story of the exploit was brought back by E. S. Comstock of Princeton, N. J., who accompanied them to the foot of the mountain.

BOOTLEGGERS TIPPED OFF BEFORE FEDERAL RAIDS

Mrs. Willebrandt Says Spotters of Wet "Information Bureau" Foil Government Agents

BY MABEL WALKER WILLEBRANDT

(In this article Mrs. Willebrandt shows how corrupted United States commissioners can defeat prohibition and reveals the internal working of a huge "bootlegger's intelligence bureau" operated with connivance of government employees and agents.)

A friend of mine once remarked to me that his objection to prohibition and prohibition enforcement is that they show "human nature at its worst."

I do not deny that the attempted enforcement of the prohibition law has resulted in revealing the dishonesty, greed, ruthlessness, and corruption of many men. But, on the other hand, I know of many other laws in the enforcement of which, or lack of enforcement, human nature has not been shown up to any better advantage.

I recall instances of collusion with State and Federal officials whereby dishonest bankers and so-called investment firms were enabled to defraud and virtually rob thousands of people, including widows and orphans. I know of cases where food inspectors have been bribed, failed to perform their duty and permitted the people who paid their salaries to be poisoned with contaminated food. The prohibition law has not made human nature any worse; it has revealed its defects. It has made us know we must elevate the standards of public office.

I have given some facts about the human flaws I discovered in district attorneys' offices in the course of almost eight years' supervision of prohibition prosecutions.

But district attorneys are not the only officers of the law who can nullify and have nullified the effect of good work on the part of prohibition agents. All down the

PADDOCK'S SPEED ONLY ANGERS COP

And His Pasadena Police Badge But So Much Tin; "Fastest Human" Fined

CHICAGO, Aug. 22. (AP)—Speed won Charley Paddock a lot of cheers from sport fans but it was only another traffic - law violation to an Oak Park motorcycle officer today, and a Pasadena (Cal.) police captain's star was just another piece of tin.

So Paddock paid a $3 fine and $2 costs imposed by a police magistrate. He was accompanied by Alfred Langwith, president of the Langwith Publishing Company of Minneapolis, of which the former sprint star is vice-president.

Paddock said he was hurrying to meet former Gov. Preus of Minnesota at the Union Station to take a train for New York.

MOSCOW, Aug. 23. (Friday) (AP)—The Russian aviator, Semyon Shestavov, whose airplane the Land of the Soviets recently crashed in Siberia, started in another plane at 3 a.m. today in an attempt to make an eastward crossing to New York.

Autogyro Makes Vertical Landings in First Public Demonstration at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22. (AP)—Dropping from the skies in an almost vertical position and landing as gently as a feather floating to earth, the new autogyro "safety plane" of the Spanish inventor, Juan De La Cierva, was put through a series of successful test flights at the Pitcairn Airfield, Beth Ayres, late today in the first public exhibition in this country.

The Madrid pilot made half a dozen trips and each time came down almost vertically within a few feet of the point from which he started, thus demonstrating, he said, the ability of the plane to land safely if the motor should suddenly go dead while the plane is in flight.

SAFETY FEATURE

The safety feature is provided by the autogyro attachment consisting of four large propeller-like blades placed over the cockpit and a specially constructed tail, embodying two horizontal stabilizers.

When the plane comes to earth the tail is lowered and the plane settles gracefully on the tail skids in the rear. Then the rest of the weight settles on the rubber-tired landing gear.

The plane was built at the Avroa airplane factory, Southampton, Eng., and was brought to this country last week on the liner Majestic.

ATTAINS HIGH SPEED

During the exhibition flights Mr. Cierva attained a speed of ninety miles an hour, but shut off the motor to land when moving at the rate of thirty-five miles.

The autogyro blades are not connected with the motor which operates the regulation propeller in the front of the plane, but are operated by the wind deflected by the propeller blades onto the curved autogyro blades.

TWENTY-SIX SAVED AT SEA

Dollar Liner Rescues Crew of German Ocean Tramp Which Had Been Reported Afire

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—Twenty-six men who escaped death on a battered old ocean tramp today were picked up far out at sea by the Dollar liner President Harrison homeward bound after a round-the-world voyage.

There were few details of the rescue tonight but the laconic message of Capt. J. H. Benson of the President Harrison gave ample evidence that another interesting chapter had been written in the history of American navigation.

FEARS FOR CREW

There had been apprehension concerning the fate of the crew of the German steamer Quimistan since yesterday. The ship herself, a swaying old veteran on her way to the junk heap, was sighted afire at sea late yesterday afternoon by the freighter Yalsa of the American Export Line.

The Quimistan then was 1100 miles east of Norfolk and the Yalsa radioed she was so consumed by flames that no person could live aboard. There was no sign of the crew.

SHIP ABANDONED

Capt. Benson's message, however, made no mention of fire but said the vessel had sprung a leak last Sunday and the crew was forced to abandon ship Monday. It is assumed the fire broke out after it had been abandoned. The members of the crew, who had been trying to make for Sable Island, are in good condition, Capt. Benson said. The rescue was accomplished in a rough sea with a fresh northwest wind blowing.

The President Harrison will dock here Saturday.

The Quimistan, a ship of 1697 tons, was one of the oldest in active service. She first slid down the runways fifty-eight years ago and was of curious and heavy antiquated design.

NAVY MOVE ADVANCED

Word Due Soon on Conference

Britain Expected to Issue Bids for Assembly in London

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—Naval reduction negotiations between the United States and Great Britain rapidly are reaching the point where representatives of the two nations will be able to inform the public as to whether a conference will be held this year. Disclosure at the White House this afternoon that Prime Minister MacDonald is expected to arrive in Washington early in October for a conference with President Hoover on the naval situation is interpreted by official Washington as strong indication that a naval parley will be held in December and that it will have a good chance of being successful.

The deduction drawn from the answers of White House officials to questions regarding the negotiations of MacDonald's coming to the United States is that the British official would not be likely to make the trip unless the ground work was prepared in advance for a conference.

White House and naval officials refuse to outline the exact status of the negotiations at the present time. There is no doubt, however, that administration officials are much more confident of final success for the Hoover-MacDonald conversations than they were a week ago. The British reply to the latest compromise basis for a naval conference, sent to London by President Hoover, is expected early next week.

PROBABLE MEETING PLACE

The present exchanges between the British and American governments, concerning which France, Italy and Japan are being kept fully informed, apparently are shaping toward having Great Britain issue the invitations for the parley, with London as the meeting place.

At this time the exchanges between Great Britain and this country are understood to center around 70,000 tons of old and small cruisers now on the British naval list. These vessels represent approximately the cruiser tonnage advantage which the British government will have if the United States completes her fifteen-cruiser program and Great Britain builds two cruisers on which work was suspended by Mr. MacDonald.

RETIREMENT PLANS

The British government is understood to be ready to retire the fifteen older vessels which make up the 70,000 tons difference as they become obsolete and replace them with 35,000 tons.

Thus, if the United States built her fifteen new cruisers Great Britain would be left with approximately 40,000 tons advantage.

The naval general board at the President's request has been wrestling with the problem of fixing the comparative fighting value of the small and large cruisers.

The results of their negotiations are expected to be turned over to President Hoover during this coming week-end by Secretary of the Navy Adams. The secretary and Maj. Charles Wendell C. Neville, commandant of the Marine Corps and a navy general board member, have been invited to accompany the President to his camp on the Rapidan River in Virginia and naval matters probably will be discussed. President Hoover now is believed to have expressed willingness to allow Great Britain a larger cruiser tonnage.

GRIT SAVES FLYER IN BLAZING PLANE

MRS. NOYES CONQUERS FIRE IN AIR

Derby Racer Side-slips to Earth, Puts Out Blaze and Continues in Dash

PECOS (Tex.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Conquering a fire, which she discovered in her plane when 2000 feet above the earth, Mrs. Blanche Noyes of Cleveland, O., brought her plane on to Pecos today and hopes to continue in the Santa Monica-Cleveland Air Derby tomorrow, if repairs can be made in time.

The plucky flyer discovered the fire when smoke began issuing from the baggage compartment of her plane about thirty miles west of here.

She attempted to wrench her fire extinguisher from its brackets, but could not move it. She had no time to pick a landing place. Side-slipping she drifted her plane to the ground, crashing through mesquite bushes. From the baggage compartment she pulled a mass of charred and burning clothing and flying equipment, burning her fingers as she did so.

Despite this, and the fact that a take-off appeared almost impossible she clambered back into the plane and wrenched it free from the dense bushes and into the air.

In doing so she tore the bottom of the fuselage and smashed the right side of her landing gear.

Mrs. Noyes believes that a cigarette was dropped into the baggage compartment by some one who assisted her in stowing her luggage at El Paso. She does not smoke, she said.

automobiles and taken to the estate of Amon G. Carter, prominent Texas publisher, for a banquet in their honor.

Four of those who winged away from El Paso did not reach this control point. Florence Lowe Barnes, San Marino, Cal., and Blanche Noyes, Cleveland, saw their chances for victory fade in mishaps at Pecos.

Mrs. Barnes, over-running the landing field, crashed into an automobile and her plane was "washed out." She escaped injury. Miss Noyes wrecked her landing gear when she was forced down in the sage brush near Pecos, after discovering a fire in her craft which she extinguished. Replacements were sent from here by air.

Both Edith Foltz, Portland, Or., and Margaret Perry, Los Angeles, got only as far as Abilene, 100 miles from here. Miss Perry was ill, while Miss Foltz decided to have her landing gear, damaged at Pecos, repaired before continuing. They expected to be on the starting line here at 9 a.m., tomorrow for the flight to Wichita, Kan., with a noon stop at Tulsa.

LOS ANGELES-CLEVELAND RACE ENTRIES IN

Seven entries have been received for the nonstop air race between Los Angeles and Cleveland in connection with the National Air Races in the latter city. The race is to be limited exclusively to men pilots and more than $7500 in cash prizes has been offered.

The race is scheduled to start from Metropolitan Airport any day after the opening of the races tomorrow in Cleveland, but the pilots, to qualify for prizes must finish in the Ohio city between 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. on the day they elect to start or the succeeding day. Each pilot expects to make the trip in less than fifteen hours.

NONE FINISHED

One singular feature of nonstop air races in connection with the National Air Races held in different parts of the country for twelve years is that none of them has ever been finished. The race has been a regular yearly feature, but mishaps, bad weather and other unforeseen occurrences have prevented any pilot from claiming the prize.

Most of the entries in the present race are equipped with Lockheed planes and Wasp motors. The entries are Lieut. Henry J. Browne, mail pilot; Art Goebel, transcontinental and Hawaiian-Pacific flyer; Frank Hawks, Bob Cantwell, Lee Schoenhair, John Wood and Oliver C. Lebouttiller.

FAMOUS PLANE

Browne will fly the Lockheed Hornet that was used by Lieut. Herbert Fahy in his record-breaking flight during the course of which he made an average speed of 189 miles per hour. It will carry 650 gallons of gasoline.

Lee Schoenhair will use a Lockheed plane with a Wasp motor. It will develop 420 horsepower and carry 975 gallons of gas.

John Wood's plane will present one of the novel entries of the race, as his craft, although a Lockheed, will not hold sufficient gasoline in its regular 300-gallon tanks, so he has arranged to carry fifty cans of gasoline on the wings. He will be the only entrant to carry an assistant to operate a wobble pump. The cans will be flattened out after being emptied and stowed in the plane.

Art Goebel will fly a Cessna plane equipped with a Wasp motor, while Cantwell and Hawks will use Lockheed planes and Wasp motors.

PROMOTER'S RELICT NEARLY PENNILESS

Mrs. Tex Rickard

RICKARD'S WIDOW TO SEEK JOB

Supposed Estate Declared to Have Melted Away as 'Friends' Prove 'Parasites'

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (Exclusive) Mrs. Tex Rickard, widow of the sports promotor, is living in straitened financial circumstances in her Flushing (L. I.) home, where she is laying plans to go to work to support herself and 2-year-old daughter Maxine, it was reported today.

That Mrs. Rickard is up against it for ready funds was verified by Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, now in Chicago.

"If Mrs. Rickard says she is broke, she must be," he declared. "Of course she knows more about her affairs than I do. But I know things were in an awful mess and that is why I went to Miami last winter to straighten things out at Tex's dog track there."

The widow, it is said, has received less than $5000 actual cash from her husband's estate, although under the terms of his will she was to get $50,000 besides the income of a $500,000 trust fund. The latter does not exist, according to report.

Mrs. Rickard, who is living in a modest cottage in Flushing, characterized many who had appeared to be friends of her husband during his life as "mere parasites whose one object was to keep their names on his pay roll."

"The only thing that I will have left when various claims against the estate are settled," she said, "will be the house at Miami Beach, Fla., which is in my name. That house cost $75,000 to build.

"If I could collect 5 per cent of the money that was owed to Tex, I would never have to worry. The I.O.U.'s he left would fill a good-sized scrap book, but not one of them appears to be worth the paper it is written on."

RUSSIA INSISTS ON COMMANDING AIR ROUTE

MOSCOW, Aug. 22. (AP)—Promoters, of a Berlin-Tokio air service following the route of the Graf Zeppelin must take soviet Russia into consideration in formulating plans, Pravda, official newspaper of the Communist party, under a headline "why did the Zeppelin dodge Moscow?" takes offense at a German correspondent aboard the dirigible who wirelessed to his paper that thanks to Dr. Eckener's course north of Moscow, the Zeppelin's passengers saw old Russia unstained by Bolshevism. It was also stated that the Graf was armed with machine guns and rifles to meet any emergency on the flight.

"We do not take this as an insult for we are not proud," says Pravda. "Those seriously minded will accept Dr. Eckener's action.

"But we must issue a warning that the road from Germany to Tokio runs through Moscow. If we care to permit nonstop flying across Russia we will do so, but if we do not we will insist on halts at Moscow's airport.

"Those who dream of a regular air line between Berlin and Tokio must not forget this."

STOWAWAY SENT HOME TO FACE JUVENILE COURT

HAMBURG (Germany) Aug. 22. (AP)—Albert Buschke, stowaway aboard the Graf Zeppelin on her last flight from Friedrichshafen to Lakehurst, was sent home today for trial before the Juvenile Court. Buschke, who set out to see the world in the Graf, but spent most of his trip in the ship's brig and an American jail, attempted to escape from the steamer Thuringia on arriving here.

The lad jumped overboard in the harbor but was soon picked up.

PART OF GRAF CREW WILL GO BY TRAIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (AP)—Eight members of the Graf Zeppelin crew will leave the dirigible on its arrival at Los Angeles and cross to New York by planes and train, the Transcontinental Air Transport announced tonight.

Henry W. Conner, eastern traffic manager of the T.A.T., said the arrangement had been made because American representatives of the Graf decided that the eastward passage over the Rocky Mountains requires flight at such an altitude that a decreased Zeppelin's load is advisable.

SACRAMENTO INTERVENES

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22. (AP)—City Manager Kluegel today announced this city will be represented before the State Railroad Commission next Tuesday in San Francisco, when a hearing on a possible reduction of electrical power rates is held.

GRAF'S ADVANCE AGENT ARRIVES

Dr. Von Meister Flies Here to Supervise Landing

Plans Take Definite Shape for Airship Greeting

Army, Navy, Police, Sheriff and Others to Assist

With the arrival in Los Angeles yesterday of Dr. Frederick W. Von Meister of New York, eastern representative of the Graf Zeppelin Corporation, plans for the anticipated arrival here Monday began to assume definite shape.

DR. FREDERICK VON MEISTER

Dr. Von Meister arrived at Grand Central Air Terminal shortly after 5 p.m. via Transcontinental Air Transport plane from New York.

He was greeted by H. W. Beck, western traffic manager of the T.A.T., Hugh Allen and Lieut. Karl Lange, both of the Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation, William P. Montague, manager of the Hamburg-American Line, E. A. Winkler, Pacific Coast manager of the same line, and J. G. Davidson of the Graf Zeppelin Corporation.

PLANS ANNOUNCED

Von Meister, a strapping specimen of German manhood, made a brief tour of inspection of the air terminal and expressed admiration at its immensity, remarking that nowhere has he seen anything to equal it, either in size or completeness of detail.

Immediately on arrival of the Zeppelin, he said, a special crew will be selected from its personnel to proceed at once to New York via T.A.T. plane and arrange for reception of the Zeppelin on its arrival at Lakehurst, N. J.

In attending to details of the actual landing and gassing of the ship while here, Dr. Von Meister will be assisted by Lieut. Lange and Hugh Allen, both of whom are thoroughly experienced as lighter-than-air navigators, and J. G. Davidson, who is to have charge of the refueling.

It is expected that the personnel of the Los Angeles reception committee will be announced today, Beck said.

PREPARATIONS RUSHED

Lieut. T. G. W. Settle, U.S.N., and Lieut. Lange, who have charge of the landing arrangements at the Los Angeles Municipal Airport, were rushing preparations yesterday. The mooring mast has been erected and the gas line laid to the landing pole. Machinery for the mixing of the pyrofax gas is installed and a score of tractors and trucks are busy grading off rough spots on the field.

Seven hundred policemen, augmented by 100 deputy sheriffs, will be specially detailed to duty at the field and on the roads leading to it on the day the Zeppelin arrives in Los Angeles, according to a special bulletin of instructions to division commanders, issued yesterday by Police Chief Davis. The men will work in twelve-hour shifts.

Day details will be in charge of Capts. Amman and Hager, and night details in charge of Capts. Hagenbaugh and Behrendt. The entire functioning of the small army of police will be under the general supervision of Deputy Chiefs Spellman and Gifford.

COURTESY URGED

Once the great ship hovers above the field nobody will be allowed inside the limits of the airport until the Zeppelin has been moored securely to the stub. Those who obtain admission to the field prior to the ship's arrival, however, will be allowed to remain.

Nccie except guards will be allowed within 900 feet of the ship.

A navy radio expeditionary force truck, manned by marines, has arrived from San Diego, according to Lieut. Settle and is in charge of Chief Aerographer Stott.

"The truck will communicate by radio with the Graf several hours before landing and will direct it to the field and on its tour above the harbor and town," said Lieut. Settle. "We expect 300 enlisted men; sailors and marines from San Diego, Saturday and they will erect tents for their stay on the field during the time the Graf is in the city. A period of intensive training also will be given them."

Several companies of militia will act as guards about the field and will be under command of Col. Harcourt Hervey.

GREAT CROWD EXPECTED

Together with the police, militia and the army and navy personnel on the grounds it is expected that the greatest gathering in the history of the city will be handled nicely, according to the officers in charge, who estimate that possibly 1,000,000 persons will see or try to see the ship during its stay here.

The program following the arrival of the zep will consist of towing it to its mooring pole and then the descent of the passengers and crew. They will be taken to the administration building on the south side of the field where the reception committee officially will welcome them.

Collector of the Port Louis W. Schwabe will pass the baggage and Immigration Inspector Joseph Conaty and Dr. W. Spencer of the United States ealth Bureau will United States ealth Bureau will perform their official duties and the party then will be ready to leave the field.

One hundred deputies from the Sheriff's office will handle traffic on the roads and will endeavor to keep the way open so that the guests may be taken to their hotel, the Ambassador, where they will stay during their visit here.

Air traffic on and about the field will be halted an hour before the arrival of the zep, according to Lieut. Settle. During the time the ship is being anchored this ruling will remain in force and only after everything has been made fast will the normal air traffic be allowed on the field.

'Busted' Oil King Comes Back

He Didn't Invest a Nickel in New Enterprise Backed by Group of Friends

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (Exclusive) Within eighteen months of the time he re-entered the oil business on borrowed capital, Joshua S. Cosden, once one of the commanding figures in Wall street, has rebuilt the fortune which he lost when control of his former company was wrested from him in the stock market. Persons familiar with his affairs today placed his present wealth at $15,000,000 and revealed for the first time the story of his comeback.

Without investing a dollar himself, it is explained, Mr. Cosden has come into possession of half of the outstanding common share capital of the company rated as being worth in excess of $25,000,000. This company, the Cosden Oil Company, which is the vehicle on which he has returned to power, has emerged as one of the most aggressive of the younger independents in the Southwest. Besides the 50 per cent interest which he owns in that company, he has substantial holdings in other enterprises.

FINANCING EXPLAINED

The Cosden Oil Company was organized in February, 1928, with a capitalization consisting of $3,000,000 of 7 per cent preferred and 60,000 shares of common stock without par value. The preferred was bought by a Wall-street group that included friends of Mr. Cosden who had confidence in him and who were willing to back him in an effort to recoup his fortunes.

For each share of preferred purchased, his backers received a share of common as a bonus. The common stock at that time was considered as having no value. For some time after the company was formed there was no market in it. Several months ago, after the company had demonstrated its earning power, the stock was listed on the New York Curb Exchange. Today it closed at 93 7-8.

Mr. Cosden in obtaining the financial support of the Wall-street group agreed to give his services as president of the company without salary. He took none of the preferred stock and did not put a single dollar into the enterprise.

HE GETS STOCK

There was an agreement, however, that he was to receive one share of common stock for every share of such stock that was issued. The outstanding common share capital since has been increased to 250,000 shares, so that his holdings now amount to 125,000 shares, which have an open market value today of about $12,000,000. The stock did not cost him a penny.

His backers have profited handsomely, but not to the same extent that he has, since a considerable part of the common stock has been distributed to the public through trading on the curb.

Mr. Cosden, his friends said, plunged into his new enterprise with tremendous energy. He gave up his home in New York and moved to Texas. He spent months in the oil fields looking for desirable properties that could be bought at bargain prices. Before the end of last year he had assembled extensive producing properties and had succeeded in knitting them into a well-integrated organization that even included a first-class refinery. The company is now producing around 15,000 barrels of crude oil daily, and is carrying on an aggressive drilling campaign.

Young's Council to Inaugurate Two-Day Meet

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—The meeting of the Governor's council to be held in Los Angeles next Tuesday and Wednesday will inaugurate a schedule of two-day sessions, it was announced at the Capitol today.

Beginning next Tuesday and thereafter the sessions of the council will start on the afternoon of the last Tuesday of each month and end in the morning of the following day.

The addition of four directors as the result of governmental reorganization measures approved by the last Legislature increased the size of the council to thirteen and it will be impossible for all of them to report at a single session.

The Los Angeles session will be attended by all directors and it will be the first full meeting since the reorganization laws became effective.

WIRES DOWN IN FIRE

Communication Across Continent Cut Off by Nevada Blaze

RENO (Nev.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Wire communication on the main trunk telegraph and telephone lines between San Francisco and eastern points was interrupted for several hours this morning by a fire that raged in the business block of the old lumber town of Verdi, ten miles west of here. The main central highway from Nevada over the Sierras to Auburn passes through the town and all the tracks of the Southern Pacific Company's Ogden route, so traffic was held up for the same time.

The fire, suspected by the Sheriff to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed eight small buildings besides two soft-drink places. The loss is estimated at $15,000 on which very little insurance was carried.

CARROLL'S WAR BRIDE IN ARREARS

Cannot Pay Rent Until Producer "Comes Across," She Says, But Does

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (Exclusive) Petite Mariette Carroll, the vivacious French war bride of the Broadway producer, Earl Carroll, was threatened with eviction from her modest Greenwich Village studio apartment today because she could not pay her rent.

Mrs. Carroll, estranged from her husband, paid the rent, $466.88, only after she was summoned to court. The young Frenchwoman told the agents for the building she could not pay the two months' rent due because she had not received her usual allowance from Carroll, who served a term in Atlanta penitentiary for perjury in a prohibition case growing out of a champagne party he gave.

Apparently the allowance was forthcoming in the pinch, however, for Mrs. Carroll was able to pay and return to her home after she had come before Justice Chivers to hear the landlord's complaint. Carroll, whom she faithfully followed to Atlanta, but from whom she separated soon after his release, refused to discuss her difficulty.

PUBLIC TOLD COOLING GAS UNITS SAFE

Three Federal Agencies Make Report on Modern Refrigeration Methods

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—Three governmental agencies today gave assurances of the general safety of present-day household refrigerating methods.

A joint statement by the Public Health Service, the Bureau of Standards and the Bureau of Mines said that its purpose is to "relieve any undue anxiety in the mind of those possessing household refrigerating systems."

"Several deaths," the statement asserted, "which have occurred recently in Chicago have been attributed to poisoning by methyl chloride, which leaked from refrigerating systems. These have received wide publicity, even among the users of refrigerating equipment entirely unlike that to which the fatalities have been attributed." Serious accidents from household refrigerating systems, the statement continued, have been small in comparison to the number in use, and added that improvements may be expected which will reduce materially the small hazard that does exist.

"Newspaper headlines and statements to the effect," the report declared, "that the fatalities in Chicago were caused by 'gas refrigeration' without doubt had reference only to the fact that the refrigerants were gases." Illuminating, or fuel gas, it added, was in no way involved.

Promoter Gives Self Up in Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22. (AP)—J. W. Randolph, formerly connected with the Cromwell-Simon Company, promotion concern whose officers were indicted for asserted use of the mail to defraud, today surrendered in Federal court here. He stated he is prepared to serve his term of four years in Federal prison, his appeal having been lost.

Samuel H. Robinson, Los Angeles attorney sentenced to serve one year in connection with the case, is said to be en route to this city from Los Angeles to surrender.

Coroner's Jury Exonerates Pair of Officers

Whisky and Pistol Said to Have Been in Car

WEST FRANKFORT (Ill.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Police Chief Sisk and Patrolman Nipper were exonerated by a Coroner's jury here today in the killing of Earl Kreiger and Albert McDonald, asserted bootleggers, in the downtown section last night when the officers sought to search their car for liquor.

Sisk testified at the inquest he fired three shots from a shotgun into the car occupied by Kreiger and McDonald after the men fired a pistol at the police automobile in which he and Nipper were riding. A small amount of whisky in two pint bottles and a pistol were taken from the car, Sheriff Pritchard said.

James P. Sutton, former police officer, who was near the scene, testified he heard shotgun fire before a pistol shot sounded.

The killing occurred within a half a block of Kreiger's lunchroom, which has been under police surveillance.

Kreiger served a Federal sentence at Danville, Ill., several years ago. He was convicted through efforts of the late S. Glenn Young, Ku Klux Klan dry raider. McDonald, a minor, came here yesterday to attend the funeral of his estranged wife, who committed suicide in Gary, Ind.

Mrs. Kreiger said neither man was armed when they left her.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—Completion of the work of revising the House tariff bill by the Senate Finance Committee Republicans was the signal today for another attack on the new measure by the Democrats and Republican independents.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, said the pledge the Republican party had made to remedy tariff inequality between agriculture and industry could not possibly be carried out by enactment of either the House bill or that prepared by the Finance Committee majority.

WEDDED TO IDOL

Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, saw no improvement in the rewritten measure and predicted a concerted effort by the Democrats and Western Republicans to incorporate the export debenture in the bill as a means of making effective the proposed levies on exportable crops.

"Whether you take the House bill or the Senate bill," said Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, "it is a general tariff revision and in no sense limited as requested by the President."

Jouett Shouse, head of the executive committee of the Democratic National Committee, asserted a "great Democratic victory" in the action of the committee majority in disapproving the House provision changing the bipartisan character of the Tariff Commission and permitting the President to appoint its members without regard to party affiliation.

"DEMOCRATS DID IT"

He also credited the Democrats with bringing about the change to restore to the Customs Court the final authority over appeals from valuations.

The Finance Committee tariff-framers concluded the rewriting of the measure by adopting a dozen or more minor amendments to the administrative provisions, none of which had to do with the important flexible clause or the procedure of the Tariff Commission.

A meeting of the full committee to report the measure to the Senate was called for the morning of September 4, the day set for the opening of floor debate. The eight Democratic members of the committee will meet tomorrow to discuss in detail their plans for the floor contest.

"Those who have the interest of agriculture at heart and those who believe that the pledges made ought to be kept," Borah asserted in his formal statement, "are in duty bound to endeavor to change this bill in the Senate."

The special session was called to relieve agriculture through a farm bill and the tariff, Borah said, adding that both parties pledged themselves to "do all within their power to restore economic equality to agriculture."

"In order to cinch that proposition in the minds of the voters and give proof of its purpose to act without delay," he continued, "a special session was promised and called by the Republican leader.

"NO IMPROVEMENT"

"My examination of the bill reported by the Senate Finance Committee and that of the House convinces me that there is very little difference between the two bills, insofar as they affect agriculture. If either bill is passed agriculture will suffer the same inequality, the same injustice that we are pledged to remedy.

"The farmer did not seek to have the industrial duties reduced. But, when agriculture secured the special session over the reluctance or the objections of those already protected, when his duties began to receive consideration, up goes the duties on the things which he must buy.

"It is all wrong. It is a violation of our pledge and if it is possible to defeat the scheme, it ought to be defeated."

SILENCER USED IN BORAH CASE

Germany Muffles Report on Bribe Forgeries

Deleted Story of Trial Given to Idaho Senator

Berlin Officials Held Close to Soviet Plotters

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—The recent trial at Berlin of Vladimir Orlov and Michael Pavlonowsky for forging documents purporting to show that Senators Borah and Norris accepted bribes from the Russian soviet government was "distinguished by a vain attempt of the German authorities to conceal the intimate relations which had existed between them and the defendants," according to a report on the trial which the State Department has received from Ambassador Jacob Gould Schurman.

Senator Borah was furnished with an expurgated copy of the report containing the foregoing quotation today and made it public along with a letter of transmittal which explained that the department had eliminated certain portions which it did not wish to leave its files. This was the department's way of saying it did not believe it wise that the entire report be given out, and the inference of highly sensational accusations by Ambassador Schurman against German officials caused a considerable stir in diplomatic circles and at the Capitol.

BORAH'S VIEWS

The department said in its letter that the full text of the report will, of course, be open for the Senator's personal inspection, but Borah told newspaper correspondents he had no idea of taking a look at the full report when he could not turn it over to the public.

Indications are that some time late in the special session of Congress or early in the regular session beginning in December Senator Borah or one of his colleagues will introduce a resolution demanding that the State Department send the whole report to the Senate for its information and that in this way the report finally will come out in its entirety.

Orlov and Pavlonowsky were convicted a few months ago on evidence furnished chiefly by H. R. Knickerbocker, an American newspaper correspondent at Berlin, to whom they attempted to sell their bogus documents implicating the two United States Senators of collusion with the soviet government. They were sentenced to only four months in jail and since their past incarceration was taken into account both were immediately released. The report of Ambassador Schurman comments on the light sentence and quotes a leading Berlin newspaper as saying they were "ridiculously lenient."

OFFICIALS SILENT

The one sentence quoted in the first paragraph of this story was the only reference in that part of the report transmitted to Senator Borah bearing on the "intimate relations" between German authorities and the two forgers. The phrase was unexplained and whether an amplification is to be found in the part which the State Department deleted is not ascertainable as officials at the department refused to say anything at all on the subject.

One of the documents submitted to Senator Borah was a cablegram from former Secretary of State Kellogg to Ambassador Schurman asking the latter to use his influence to bring Orlov and Pavlonowsky to trial. This was at a time when it appeared that the German authorities unless pushed would let the forgers off without trial.

Ambassador Schurman's report, so far as is known by that part made public today, was confined mostly to a recital of facts incident to the trial, the most important statement being that quoted at the beginning of this story. In another place, however, the report states that "the expectation that soviet and anti-soviet espionage methods would be revealed was not fulfilled."

LIMITS TESTIMONY

Also, in his report the Ambassador declares that "the presiding judge restricted the testimony to the actual indictment charge, refusing to permit Orlov to enter into a discussion of the soviet intelligence service."

There is a feeling in Washington that a significant part of the deleted portion of the report from Schurman hooks up the Orlov and Pavlonowsky forgeries with a long series of other bogus international documents attributable to soviet machinations, including the famous Mexican documents of a year ago purporting to prove that Senators Borah, La Follette and other American Senators had been taking money for efforts to implant the soviet idea in the United States.

Narcotic Agent Shot Down by Man He Sought

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 22. (AP)—Clarence U. P. Moore, Federal narcotics agent, was shot and dangerously wounded here today by one of two narcotic peddlers he sought to arrest. The men escaped.

Moore, narcotic officials said, was responsible for some of the most extensive narcotics raids and arrests in New Orleans in recent months. Before coming to New Orleans he was a member of the San Francisco police force.

Two Kidnaped in Manchuria

HARBIN (Manchuria) Aug. 22. (AP)—Manchurian bandits yesterday kidnaped two British insurance inspectors, C. M. Burton, big-game hunter and member of the firm of Butterfield & Swire, and I. H. C. Godfrey of the Harbin branch of the Commercial Union Company.

The men were captured at Miamusze, about 280 miles northeast of here, and are believed to be held for ransom. The British Consul here asked the Chinese authorities to obtain their immediate release.

GRAND OPERA

Beautiful arias — dramatic overtures — chants of strangely costumed priests —siren strains from famous love scenes— soft barcarolles — gems of glorious music from some of the world's greatest operas — presented tonight in Forest Lawn's 32nd Musical and Interpretative Radio Broadcast. "Always something new and interesting in a Forest Lawn program."

KHJ... Tonight... 8 to 9

As Grand Opera to a large extent recreates great moments in the history of the world in music and song, so do many of the wonderful works of art at Forest Lawn Memorial Park bring past ages into review before the present generation. The visitor to Forest Lawn finds himself surrounded by art and architecture closely related to world history,—ancient Greek and Roman mythology, legends of the Norsemen, historical history, the days of the Renaissance, medieval England. The Administration Building, with its stone floor, high fireplace, great oak beams, stained leaded windows and massive period furniture, is one of the finest examples of Tudor architecture in America.

Forest Lawn Memorial Park is open to visitors daily from seven o'clock in the morning to five o'clock in the afternoon.

A beautifully illustrated Art Book, "Glimpses" descriptive of the works of art in Forest Lawn, may be obtained by sending 25 cents to partially cover its cost. A very frank booklet, "The Truth About Burial Customs and Costs," will be sent free on request.

BITS OF NEWS FROM "TIMES" WANT ADS

A liberal reward is being offered for the return of a little brown coin purse which contained a diamond solitaire ring and a dinner ring set with twenty-seven small diamonds.

125 pair of various kinds of pigeons — all mated and branded—are offered for sale by party in North Hollywood.

A nine-stool lunchroom near auto camp on busy boulevard is for sale for $250—$30 a month rent including living quarters.

Obregon in 1923, but because Obregon failed to support him, he split with his chief, and left Mexico, on an extensive tour of the United States, Europe and Latin America, where he devoted all his energies to lectures, and in general to educational matters, establishing a reputation throughout Hispano America, that lifted him to an even plane with other international intellectual figures of Spain and Latin America. He gained a reputation as a writer and lecturer on political and economic subjects.

ANTI-AMERICAN

When Obregon was assassinated Vasconcelos turned his attention to his own country again, and immediately he crossed the border, shortly after the murder of the President-elect, began a stump speaking campaign, along American lines, that at first seemed a vain waste of energy, but by his persistence and his popular appeal to the middle classes, the student element, and to the women of the country, he soon indicated that he is not to be taken lightly in his aspirations for the chief magistry of the land.

Vasconcelos has widely different views on the international relations Mexico should observe, especially with the United States, than the present administration observes. He is radical, his utterances have branded him as anti-American or "anti-Gringo," to use the term employed in Mexico—he has been referred to as a dreamer and idealist.

There is another candidate in the field, a Mexican Eugene V. Debs, who is backed by the Communist party. His name is Gen. Pedro Rodrigues Triana, but he has been inactive to all outward appearances in furthering his interest since he was postulated by the extremists.

There is always talk of a last-moment upset, of the appearance of a dark horse, who as yet however, if he exists, is keeping much in the shadows.

Bay Convict's Bank Charges to be Dropped

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—Federal District Attorney Hatfield at San Francisco today recommended to the Department of Justice that charges against officials of the Anglo and London-Paris National Bank at San Francisco by a convicted employee be discontinued and the whole case closed for lack of any evidence.

Hatfield said a thorough investigation has been made by a special accountant of the Bureau of Investigation, and officials of his own office and declared there is no evidence to corroborate in any way assertions made by Nels Hoogsberg, a clerk of the bank, against Herbert Fleishhacker, president; J. E. Curran and other officials. Hoogsberg pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement and was sentenced to seven years in prison. Subsequently he made a motion to withdraw his plea on the ground that he had been induced to make it by bank officials concerning whom he said he had damaging information in connection with the conduct of the bank's affairs.

Doran Declares Prosperity Due to Volstead Act

SPOKANE, Aug. 21. (AP)—James M. Doran, National Prohibition Commissioner, en route to California to study the liquor phase of California's grape production tonight laid this country's economic prosperity to the Volstead Act.

Quoting Prof. Irving Fisher, Doran asserted that "prohibition adds five or six billions of dollars a year to the wealth of the nation, even though enforcement is imperfect."

In California Commissioner Doran expects to help in the utilization of newly formed grape marketing associations "and to help put the legitimate grape juice business on a sound basis."

LISPING BABY SMOKES; LIKES CHEWING BEST

DENVER, Aug. 22. (AP)—Billy Howard, 2½ years of age, presents his claim as being the youngest person qualified to write tobacco testimonials—pipes, cigarettes or chewing.

Just large enough to hold securely the man-sized pipe which he smokes twice a day, Billy, whose baby lisp still persists, confides that he really prefers chewing tobacco, but that his parents won't let him have it.

Billy, who had been frail from birth was so weakened a year ago that his life was despaired of. It was then that the doctor suggested that he be allowed tobacco as a stimulant and possibly as an aid to creation of an appetite.

In the year that has followed, Billy has gained weight and is now apparently a normal child—but he is an inveterate smoker. His parents are trying to break the child of the habit and have reduced the amount of his smoking to two pipes a day. The tobacco he uses is that very black, sticky sort, one whiff of which would jar the ordinary man.

"I like cigarettes, too," he muses between puffs, "but I can't have those either."

Embezzlement of $27,000 Charged in Warrant

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22. (AP)—James R. Fowle, 35 years of age, for the past six years manager of the Emeryville branch of the American Trust Company, was arrested today on a Federal warrant charging him with embezzling bank funds in excess of $27,000.

Following his arrest, Fowle is said to have made a complete confession to bank officials in which he blamed his thefts on a venture into a nonexistent African diamond mine. Failure of the mine to pay dividends, he is said to have admitted, resulted in further speculations.

STATE CLIMBS ON COTTON LIST

California Moves to Eleventh Place in Two Years

Department of Commerce Gives Survey Data

Eight Counties Scheduled as Producing Units

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—The Department of Commerce today announced that California jumped from thirteenth to eleventh place in the volume of cotton production in the last two years.

In a preliminary survey of the cotton situation the department issued figures on cotton ginned by States last year. California is credited with the production of 173,230 bales of 500 pounds each for 1928, exclusive of linters. Figures on linters for last year are not yet available. California produced 90,000 bales in 1927, giving it thirteenth place among cotton-producing States.

Eight California counties are listed as cotton-producing units. Of these Kern county leads with a 1928 production of 44,779 bales, an increase of nearly one-fourth over last year's figures. Tulare comes second with a total of 29,340 bales. The other counties listed are Imperial, 15,716 bales; Kings, 19,509; Madera, 11,481; Merced, 11,874; Riverside, 13,731; Fresno, 31,839, and other counties producing cotton responsible for 4071 bales.

The lowly cricket has proved a serious menace to the cotton crops in Imperial Valley. In an effort to check its ravages the Department of Agriculture assigned E. A. McGregor of the Bureau of Entomology to study the insect and work out the best methods of protection against it.

Mr. McGregor found that the severest cases of cricket damage occur in fields of cotton following barley and other small grains and recommended that this sequence should be avoided as far as possible.

LIQUOR'S SECRET SERVICE BALKS FEDERAL AGENTS

Crooked Officials Often Assist Bootleggers to Evade Law, Says Mrs. Willebrandt

POWER OF COMMISSIONER

Near the middle of the line is the United States commissioner. His duty is similar to that of a justice of the peace or magistrate in cases under State law. After arrest a bootlegger is taken before a United States commissioner for a preliminary hearing. Before the arrest it is the duty of commissioners to issue warrants for offenders upon submission to them of proper evidence and also to issue search warrants. The commissioner hears the government's evidence, or enough of it to convince him that there is sufficient cause to warrant holding the prisoner for the action of the Federal grand jury.

The commissioner, then, is the first officer in the line of effective law enforcement. He can help or can hinder the administration of justice. His compensation is on a fee basis, and under the law, he only can receive a fee in one case per day. In other words, if he hears ten cases in one day, he only receives a fee in one of those cases. The result is that some United States commissioners are in no hurry to hear the cases. They have, in some instances, refused to hold more than one hearing a day, even though there were a dozen or more cases ready to be heard and that could have been heard, with prohibition agents waiting to tell their stories, and meanwhile leaving their districts unguarded. The agents would have to come back day after day, before they could present their cases, simply to enable the commissioner to earn more fees!

TRICKS TO BEAT LAW

I have in mind another type of commissioner, who by granting continuance after continuance, sometimes as many as a dozen in a single case, reduced the effectiveness of the prohibition force. Other commissioners have refused to hold bootleggers for the action of the grand jury in cases of direct proof by the agent of a violation of the law, on the excuse that the commissioner did not believe the officers. In other words, the commissioner practically tried the prohibition agent for perjury instead of letting the evidence against the prisoner be presented to the grand jury so that they might determine whether or not the man arrested should be indicted and held for trial by another jury.

The facts about a United States commissioner in a notoriously "wet" city will give an idea of the weakness of the judicial machinery in some places.

About a year ago, under-cover agents, acting under instructions of a prohibition administrator, were investigating certain night clubs and other suspected establishments. They were sitting in one of the places with a bottle of wine which they had purchased adorning the top of their table. A waiter came up to them and whispered to one of the agents, "You'd better be careful with that bottle of wine, because one of the men at the next table is a commissioner."

The agents promptly removed the bottle, whereupon the waiter smiled and said he was only joking, as the commissioner was "O.K." and was in the place often. The agents then observed that the commissioner and the man with him ordered and consumed several drinks which had the appearance of whisky. The agent then asked the waiter if the man referred to was a city commissioner and the waiter said, "No, he is a government commissioner, that's Mr. X."

ON TOP AT 3 A.M.

A little later, the agents made application to Commissioner X for a search warrant with the purpose of raiding a place that had been raided thirteen times previously and yet never padlocked. The commissioner issued the search warrant, but when the raid was made, the place was found closed and some of its fixtures had been removed. There was every evidence of a "tip-off" of the raid. A week later the place was again in full operation, with liquor being sold almost openly. Five more raids on the same place were made in the next month and a half, and then the place was closed. But when agents were sent there again to ascertain whether it had been reopened they were handed a card directing them to another address and were told they could get anything they wanted there. Accordingly, they raided the new place and arrested the two men in charge.

The police blotter shows that these men were released at 3 o'clock in the morning on a bond approved by Commissioner X. One of the men so released, stated to a prohibition agent that Commissioner X had personally appeared in police headquarters and signed his bail bond. If Commissioner X had a telephone, it was not listed in the telephone directory. Apparently, however, the bootleggers had no difficulty in locating Commissioner X at 3 o'clock in the morning; and evidently he was quite willing to oblige them by leaving his bed to release them on bond so that they might not be inconvenienced by a few hours in jail!

MONEY PASSES

Only the other day I received the following report from an outstanding attorney, who had been trying some cases in one of the southern districts of the United States:

"There is another bad situation here. The commissioner advises a little clique of attorneys when search warrants in liquor cases are issued, and they in turn warn the offender, so that the raiders find only soft drinks and church music. It is common talk that the commissioner gets $50 to $75 per month from each speakeasy and the disturbing thing about it is that the Federal judge, the United States Attorney and his assistants are all very friendly with the commissioner and others with him. With about six investigators for a few weeks and a grand jury I am sure the facts could be brought to light and this situation cleaned up."

The commissioner is appointed by the judges. There is no check on his movements or any way for the Department of Justice to remove him. One present defect in law enforcement is that judges do not take seriously enough their responsibility for appointing commissioners. I know several judges whose own records are clean but who, nevertheless, allow commissioners to serve in their districts who are in league with lawbreakers.

Of course, the character of the juries selected to try prohibition cases is important. In a report made to the Attorney-General this year, I said: "In almost every district where prohibition is presenting a real problem, juries could be much improved."

JURIES HAND-PICKED

About five years ago I looked into this situation at Pittsburgh where results had been unsatisfactory, and found that for years the practice had been for the clerk of the United States court to accept lists of names handed to him by various attorneys. This, of course resulted in the attorneys who defended crimes before the United States court, being the most active to hand the clerk the names of "candidates" for jury service. The situation was called to the attention of the presiding judge, then Judge Thompson. The result was a correction of the situation, with the co-operation of the court.

Almost all of the United States judges are men of high character, determined to preside fairly and justly in the cases that are tried before them, even though their own opinion may be that prohibition is wrong in principle. A few judges, however, have been guilty of conduct that obstructed the proper administration of justice. I have in mind judges who adopted a consistently unfriendly attitude in commenting to the jury on the weight to be given the evidence of prohibition agents; judges who have received gifts of liquor and have even kept and consumed liquor in their court chambers, and judges who have gone so far as to publicly denounce the prohibition law and all those who were attempting to enforce it.

INFORMATION BUREAU

In some districts the work of efficient and honest prohibition agents has been hampered by unfriendly United States marshals. There have been "leaks" of liquor from marshals' offices and there have been important cases in which marshals and their deputies apparently have gone to sleep while juries were being "approached" on behalf of bootlegger defendants.

Competent and honest prohibition administrators often have had to contend with treachery within their own organizations. I was called upon to assist, a year or two ago, one of the best of the prohibition administrators. He found that within his district there had been organized, under the guise of certain real estate companies, what really amounted to a "bootleggers intelligence bureau."

At the head of this bureau was a man who was acquainted intimately with the heads of breweries, distilleries and owners of alcohol permits. He maintained offices under different names, in two States, and had several telephones with unlisted numbers. Through a system of espionage, he kept in touch with the movements and contemplated movements of the prohibition administrator's force, and promptly passed on the information to his clients who were violating the law. He not only had his men watching or "spotting" the prohibition agents and other enforcement officers, but he even had access to the files of the administrator.

SPOTTERS EMPLOYED

He employed three former prohibition agents on a straight salary to act as spotters. They stationed themselves without and about the prohibition department offices and kept check on the coming and going of the prohibition agents known to them. Then they telephoned the information to the main office of the "bureau." Confidential information of contemplated raids and investigations was also procured direct from prohibition agents and other government employees, who would phone the office of the bureau as soon as they learned of the government's plans.

The manner of corrupting government officials, used by this liquor and bribery ring, ranged all the way from painting glowing pictures of powerful political influence to be used in behalf of the "bribees," and general friendliness and good fellowship, to outright bribery. In some instances, there were payments of money to prohibition agents, as high as $100 per week. Then there were instances of the sale of radio sets and other merchandise at half price or less to people "on the inside" who could give information to the "bureau" of activities of the prohibition administrator's force.

FREE SHOW TICKETS

The head of the bootleggers' bureau maintained a charge account with a theater ticket agency, with instructions to the agency to issue to his "friends" any tickets they desired, such tickets to be charged to his account. I obtained photostatic copies of the original ledger cards of the accounts of the head of the bureau with the theater agency, showing the issuance of theater tickets to prohibition agents. On at least five different occasions, tickets were issued to the woman secretary to two United States commissioners, who, of course, had first-hand information as to the filing of all affidavits for search warrants, and the preparation and issuance of warrants. Of course, this secretary had every opportunity to "tip-off" those against whom the warrants were issued.

Tickets also were issued on various occasions to two deputy United States marshals, and on three different occasions to one of the assistant United States Attorneys in charge of prosecution of prohibition violators.

TRUSTED EMPLOYEE CAUGHT

The same investigation disclosed that not only did the bureau maintained by the bootleggers and distilleries employ three former agents to act as spotters, but actually employed nine of the prohibition agents in the administrator's own office! Six of these agents were discharged, three others were suspended pending further investigation.

One of the agents who was discharged, upon discovery, had been a very trusteed employee, working directly under the head of the legal department of the prohibition administrator's office. A check of this agent's outgoing long-distance telephone calls revealed that he had been calling the confidential phone number of the bootleggers' bureau frequently during several months previous. When a raid was made on the bureau's office, it was found deserted, but in it was found a postal card directed to the head of the bureau and signed with the code number of one of the prohibition agents. Long-distance telephone records checked by our investigators showed that the bureau had called practically every brewery town in the State.

LINKED TO GANG

The prohibition administrator was anxious to prosecute the members of his force who had been unfaithful to their trust. It was quite apparent, however, that prosecution could not be carried out successfully until there was a reorganization of the District Attorney's office because the investigation revealed that three of the District Attorney's own assistants were closely linked with the liquor and bribery gang. Such are the difficulties of prohibition enforcement in some places!

As long as human nature is what it is, there will be cases of betrayal of public trust by officers of the government, county, State and Federal. But if proper care is exercised in the selection of men for the prohibition service, and for enforcing the laws in the courts, prohibition will reveal no more human weakness than any other law. It is politics and political influence, rather than the prohibition law, that have revealed "human nature at its worst."

(In her next article Mrs. Willebrandt will state the outlook for prohibition as she sees it.)

WESTERN SOCIAL IDEAS GET BLOW IN PERSIA

TEHERAN (Persia) Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—Westernization of the relationships between Persian men and women has been set back by the government. According to orders recently issued to the police, men and women may no longer converse in the street together or even walk on the same side, although both practices have been winked at during the last few months.

The orders apply even to husband and wife, and brother and sister, unless they are able to prove their relationship convincingly to the local gendarmerie.

The influx of occidental ideas and customs has convinced many Persian women they are not the born subordinates of men, as tradition dictates, and they have been trying to act in accordance with their newly discovered rights. The new orders of the government, however, have blocked the trend for greater freedom in social relationships.

SOVIET TROOPS MOVE ON CHINA

the 17th inst., while Khabarovsk's latest effort is a denunciation of the American Department of State for "plotting with the French government to set up an international control commission for the Chinese Eastern Railway in order to have a finger in the pie."

The Russian station added that "the stubborn and crafty Japan is standing by to protect and improve her Manchurian interests."

CHINESE FEAR SOVIET ATTEMPT ON HARBIN

SHANGHAI, Aug. 22. (AP)—China's fears of a soviet attempt to seize Harbin were detailed today in reports circulated by the Kuomin News Agency based on reports from Mukden.

Chinese authorities believe large Russian forces are concentrated at Khabarovsk for the purpose of advancing toward Vladivostok, thence across the Chinese border and on to Harbin. It is believed soviet gunboats will approach Harbin on the Sungari River. Other Russian forces are expected to cross the Amur and advance toward Tsitsihar, provincial capital of the northwestern province of Heilungkiang.

Chinese fear infantry, cavalry, gunboats, armored trains and airplanes will participate in the drive against Harbin, center of the administration of the Chinese Eastern Railway, which is the basis of the present Russo-Chinese dispute.

REPORTED RAIDS BY CHINESE REVIVE SOVIET OUTBURSTS

MOSCOW, Aug. 22. (AP)—Continued reports of Chinese raids on soviet territory and of brutal treatment of soviet citizens in Manchuria were said tonight by the official Tass agency to have caused a fresh outburst of indignation among workers in the soviet union.

Many meetings of workers have expressed approval of the government view that more resolute measure are needed to check those endeavoring to provoke war. The workers of a number of factories have decided to consider themselves mobilized and will appear for service with the Red army at the first call. A defense fund is being raised.

Village peasants have passed resolutions favoring selling their surplus grain to the state and peasant youths are enrolling in the Red army in large numbers.

Murder Held Gang Killing

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22. (AP)—A bullet-riddled body, identified by police as that of Herman Myers, 45 years of age, waiter in a soft-drink establishment, was found on the floor of Myers's cottage here today.

Officers said they believe he was a victim of gangsters.

SPRINTER'S ENERGY GAUGED

Science Measures Horsepower of Speeding Athlete; Race Winner Uses Somewhat Less Than Flivver

BOSTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—Thirteen horsepower of chemical energy are used by a sprinter going at top speed. The figures on this story of an athlete's energy and some discoveries as to how he expends it were presented to the International Physiological Congress at Harvard medical school today by Dr. W. O. Fenn of Rochester, N. Y.

"Subjects so far available," he said, "all have pushed themselves backward slightly when the foot touches the ground."

He estimated this loss of foot energy as one-half horsepower. Imparting drive to the legs and swing of the arms takes up only 1.67 horsepower. Stopping these motions is a distinct drain, requiring a little more than a half-horsepower. Overcoming the force of gravity absorbs one-tenth of a horsepower. The total arm and leg motions, gravity, wind resistance and foot contact with the ground were estimated as absorbing 22.6 per cent of the sprinter's energy.

FAMOUS MOTIONS HINDER

Motions that have been made famous by some "sidewinder" sprinters, such as transfer of energy from one leg to the other and the "sideway movements," also absorb some energy, Dr. Fenn said, but he did not estimate the amount.

The lasting effects of physical exercise were shown by Drs. Edward C. Schneider and Gordon C. Ring of Middletown, Ct. They found that one hour of physical exercise daily increases the capacity of lungs and ability to transfer oxygen into the blood so rapidly that the maximum result is achieved in five or six weeks, and the body retains part of its increased powers for several months, even if exercise is discontinued.

Discovery of an unidentified substance which increases the growth of rats was announced by Drs. K. H. Croward, K. M. Key and B. G. H. Morgan of London. They found this substance in a product of milk, light-white casein, and in lettuce, wheat embryo, milk and grass.

Experiments establishing the existence of a growth hormone were reported by Drs. Harvey Cushing and Harold M. Teel of Boston. They said that if injected into an animal for a sufficient time it causes overgrowth. It also has a tendency to produce inactivity.

Glacier Park Appears Safe in Fire Battle

GLACIER PARK (Mont.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Glacier Park seems safe today from the menace of the great Half Moon Forest fire. Five hundred men on the lines within the park, Supt. J. R. Eakin said today, appear to have bested the blaze.

The eastern side of the park was not affected and the western entrance remains open, the superintendent said. The fire, while it came into the park area on the extreme western boundary for a distance of two miles along a mile-wide front, did not reach scenic areas, he said. While cottages in the Lake McDonald area have been warned, there has been no considerable exodus.

Japan and China Plan Embassies

SHANGHAI, Aug. 22. (AP) — A Nanking dispatch to Kuomin, official news agency, today said that it is understood the Chinese Legation at Tokio and a Japanese Legation in China soon will be elevated to the rank of embassies, "the two governments having so agreed."

ENGINEERING AUTHORITIES TEST GATES

Automatic Safety Devices for Grade-Crossing Use Demonstrated at Burbank

BURBANK, Aug. 22.—Accompanied by city officials, Chamber of Commerce representatives, engineers of the Kahler Automatic Grade-Crossing Gate Company and H. L. Englehardt, safety engineer of the State Railroad Commission, and W. P. Barland, chief of the United States Bureau of Safety at Washington, made an inspection of the patented safety gate at the Alameda-avenue railroad crossing here today.

Actual demonstrations of the method by which the Kahler gate automatically obstructs traffic when a train appears 200 feet from the crossing were held with Barland taking a keen interest in the mechanism. The gate has been undergoing a trial at the Alameda crossing for the past year under authorization of the Railroad Commission.

Barland, who is making his annual western tour, was met at the Glendale station by the local party and escorted to the crossing to inspect the automatic barrier. Tests were made of automobiles hitting the gate when it was closed to demonstrate its flexibility and safety.

The local party was composed of Mayor Bruce, City Manager Patterson, Police Chief Bergh, City Engineer Stites, Councilmen Stroud, Thompson and Coffman, and C. C. Richards of the Chamber of Commerce.

Playground equipment will be installed at the school and many features will be introduced. Next summer's playground program will be expanded to include the Mexican school children also, according to Clapp.

RT ROAD TO MILLIONS

Engineers Value Its Elwood Right of Way at $23,650 But Civil Experts See Only $6940

...NTA BARBARA, Aug. 22.—In an effort to reconcile the widely ...ent views on the value of a road leading through the Barnsdall ...Temescal" oil leases from the Coast Highway to the ...ocean, oil companies are preparing to develop an oil field on ...Richfield, Superior Judge Frank Collier will hear expert ...

In his decision, Judge Gregory quoted the argument of the defense attorneys declaring no agreements were shown indicating the owners intended the road should be for public use.

"The Board of Supervisors never wanted this strip and never accepted it, but always looked upon it as a private affair and took no notice of it," stated the jurist in his decision. "It is rather late in the day to come in, however, as we understand that the Board of Supervisors is rather a nominal party in this matter, hardly interested, and that the warfare is between contending oil companies."

GIBRALTAR DAM DEFENDED

Consulting Hydraulic Engineer Testifies Impounding of Water Not Detrimental to Santa Ynez Valley

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 22.—Impounding of water behind Gibraltar Dam has had no detrimental effect on the ranches in the Santa Ynez Valley, it was testified by Raymond A. Hill, Los Angeles consulting hydraulic engineer, today in Superior Court, in the suit of residents of the valley against the city and Montecito to cut off the water supply of the two communities.

Hill declared the holding of 13,000 acre feet of water behind the dam did not affect the ranches below and the proposed increase of the supply of water back of the dam of 30,000 acre feet would have no bad effect on the irrigable acreage in the valley.

According to the experts' testimony, the water comes in flashes down the valley during the rainy season. Within a relatively short time after rain has been falling, the river is overflowing ...d the water is dashing in a mad sweep to the ocean, Hill said. He pointed out that the dam only held torrential water of one-third of the watershed.

There is always enough water to recharge the gravel in the river's bed, he declared, pointing out that if the gravel of the river bed was not saturated with water the flow would soak into the ground instead of running headlong to the sea. When the water flows fast it indicates the gravel in the bed is charged, Hill explained.

He also explained his compilations of the under-round water plane showing how during times of drought, the level continues to lower while during a rainy season it rises to its former level. Some years the water plane will sink much lower than during others, all depending on the precipitation of the rainy seasons, it was testified by the engineer. Several days will be required before Hill completes his testimony, it is thought.

Schools Ready in Montebello

MONTEBELLO, Aug. 22.—M. R. Jacobs, Superintendent of Schools, announced today that while the students of the Montebello School District have been enjoying summer vacation, the schools have been repaired so that everything is in condition for the fall term starting September 9.

At the high school a new study hall, which seats approximately 100 students, has been added. It is located on the second floor. The gym and shower rooms have been painted and improved and locker rooms added. All of the floors have been rewaxed and the walls redecorated. All the desks and furniture in the building has been refinished and the pillars in the rotunda stenciled.

The football field was ploughed and reseeded so that by the time the season opens it will be in splendid condition. The nine grade schools have also been put in condition and additional equipment has been added to the various playgrounds.

SPACE FOR CLUB GONE

Recreation Room Crowded Out by Additional Phone Equipment

VENTURA, Aug. 22.—Long-distance telephone equipment involving an expenditure of approximately $195,000 is to be installed in the Ventura central office building in connection with the Los Angeles-to-San Francisco circuits, according to J. M. Bidlake, district manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. Increased long-distance telephone traffic and a new seventy-two-mile cable, stretching between Los Angeles and Ventura, make the installation of the equipment necessary.

The initial installation of equipment will commence about September 1, next, and will involve an expenditure of about $25,000. This is to be followed in the early part of 1930 by an additional installation at an expense of $170,000.

The immediate need of the equipment makes it necessary for the telephone company to remove a partition in the Ventura central office building and to use 1080 square feet of floor space formerly utilized by employees of the company for a clubroom.

PEDESTRIAN DARTS IN FRONT OF AUTO

VENTURA, Aug. 22.—Startled at the sound of a horn behind them, Guadalupe Garcia, 20 years of age, and his nephew, Marcelino Rios, who were walking down the center of the road yesterday afternoon near the A. L. Brown ranch in the Upper Ojai, rushed to either side of the road and Garcia darted directly in front of a machine driven by Robert E. Newman of Los Angeles, it was reported to the Sheriff's office. When Newman, and M. L. McDonald and F. A. Townsend of Ojai, who witnessed the accident, reached the young man, who was struck by the fender of the automobile, it was thought he had been seriously injured, and he was removed to the County Hospital. Today it was declared he has no broken bones, and only minor injuries.

TESTIMONY PREPARED FOR FREIGHT HEARING

BURBANK, Aug. 22.—Plans are being completed by the shippers of Burbank, Glendale and Alhambra for the resumption of the freight rate hearing tomorrow morning before the State Railroad Commission, which involves the carload rates between Los Angeles terminal and the three cities mentioned. A conference was held today by the shippers and their attorneys to outline the character of the testimony to be offered in rebuttal of the claims of the railroads as set forth at the recent hearing. C. C. Richards, manager of the Chamber of Commerce here, is active in aiding the shippers in preparing their case for presentation when the hearing again convenes Friday.

DEAD MAN LOSES HIS SENIORITY

Suit Pressed by Heirs of Late City Employee Lost; Court Upholds Commission

LONG BEACH, Aug. 22.—Denying a dead man's petition in a mandamus action against the city filed by F. M. Shrode, late foreman in the water department, and prosecuted by his heirs, Superior Judge Percy Haight today ruled on several important phases of city civil service.

The opinion, handed down in a case submitted several weeks ago, holds that the matter of seniority rests entirely in the hands of the Civil Service Commission and where the commission waives seniority the employee affected has no recourse, not even a hearing.

Shrode sought salary assertedly due during a period after he was laid off until the Civil Service Commission action confirms the manager's lay-off. The court denied any relief.

Dr. Harry Reese, 50, has been missing from an Ocean Beach auto camp since 9 a.m. yesterday, according to police. He left apparently for a fishing trip. He is described as five feet, four inches tall with gray hair.

BUS SCHEDULE FOR STUDENTS WANTED

VAN NUYS, Aug. 22.—Santa Monica bus company officials are making a survey in San Fernando Valley with a view of establishing a bus line between here and other valley points and the University of California campus at Westwood. The bus line is desired to convey valley students this fall and winter over the paved highway through Santa Monica Mountains to the university. It is understood that about 100 students will attend from the valley this term. Unless there is a bus line established for the eighteen-mile journey to and from the school, students will have to resort to the use of their own cars.

ORBISON MUST KEEP POST

Testimony as City Manager Necessary in Pending Trial of Pasadena Graft Accusations

PASADENA, Aug. 22.—The prosecution of former City Engineer Warren C. Earle and other city employees and contractors implicated in this city's $100,000 paving graft scandal will require that Robert V. Orbison be retained in his official capacity as City Manager during the trial, according to acting City Manager R. L. Daugherty.

It was reported at the City Hall today that Orbison, now away on vacation, intends to apply for the position of City Manager of San Francisco in the event that the City Manager form of government is adopted at the fall election there.

In view of the request from the District-Attorney's office today that Orbison be prepared to testify in the graft trial in his official capacity, Daugherty asserted that no consideration will be given to his possible replacement before the case is settled in court.

John A. Berwald, special District-Attorney's investigator, revealed this afternoon that it is possible that at least two additional indictments may be returned by the county grand jury when it resumes its deliberations September 6.

Daugherty denied that a conference which he held with C. W. Koiner, former City Manager here, had any bearing upon Orbison's status. It has been rumored for the last month that the Board of City Directors favored offering Koiner his old post.

"Mr. Koiner," said Daugherty, "is district manager for the Southern California Edison Company, and resides in Redondo. He would not consider returning to his former position. Our talk dealt merely with Pasadena's annexation policies, concerning which Mr. Koiner was seeking information for his friends."

SWIFT JUSTICE FOR BURGLARS

Robbers Convicted Within Sixty Hours of Capture

Survivors of Running Fight With Officers Sentenced

Inquest on Slain Marauder Exonerates Police

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 22.—Probably setting a record for speedy justice in this county, Ralph Kemp and his pal, who first gave the name of Charles Gillis but now is said to be Nicholas Carter of Quincy, Mass., late today pleaded guilty to charges of first-degree burglary and accepted sentences of seven years to life in prison. It was just sixty hours from the time they engaged in a running gun battle with officers until sentence was pronounced.

They are two of the trio of eastern youths who staged a battle of bullets with deputy sheriffs and police officers Tuesday morning. They confessed that they robbed Kendrick's service station near Serena and broke into a cottage at the Miramar Hotel.

Inquest into the death of Joseph James Barry, Quincy, Mass., who was shot by police in the chase out the Coast Highway, when his pals were arrested, was held in the Holland chapel last night. The Coroner's jury absolved the police officers and brought in a verdict of death from gunshot wound "inflicted by officers of the law in pursuit of their duty."

Mrs. Helen Anderson of Altadena, an aunt of young Barry, attended the inquest. She identified the boy and testified as to his place of residence and parents. She said the youth's father and mother had not heard from him for several months. She also declared the young man had left home shortly after marrying a girl. Dispatches from Quincy last night revealed that young Barry was the nephew of John McKee, a motion-picture director in Hollywood, and confirmed the statement that he had been married a short time before he left home and asserted he was fleeing from a nonsupport charge filed by his wife.

Kemp attained wide publicity in May of last year when he entered the woods at Portsmouth, N. H., on a wager said to involve several thousand dollars, by which he agreed to earn $375 in a month by picking moss and herbs. He was to start empty handed and accomplish his task without any assistance.

Cool Stranger Sets Style for Ontario Cops

ONTARIO, Aug. 22.—Police and firemen here set a new style today that promises much toward emancipation of the male in hot weather apparel. A well-dressed husky man, well over six feet, appeared on the streets today wearing a light felt hat, light gray coat and knickers, legs bare, smooth shaven and porous knit shoes.

Desk Sergeant George Brumfield caught a glimpse of the stranger on the streets, hastened to the police station, rolled up his trousers and did a merry Highland fling.

Other officers caught the fever, followed by firemen and in a short time a festive, bare-legged dance was on at the combined Fire and Police Station.

BRANCH OF COUNTY HOSPITAL WANTED

LONG BEACH, Aug. 22.—A special committee to urge the County Supervisors to open a branch County Hospital in this city or in the harbor district was appointed by the Chamber of Commerce directors today.

SOUTHLAND TOLD ABOUT FAIR

Bids to Pomona Exposition on Roads

As Usual She Smashed Her Finger

Miss Ernestine Driscoll tacking up one of the thousands of yellow pumpkin signs scattered throughout the Southland to call attention to the opening of the big Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona. In doing her bit the young lady ran true to form. Note the bandaged index finger.

POMONA, Aug. 22.—Never before in the history of Los Angeles County Fair, to be held here September 17 to 22, has the rush for entry blanks been so great as is the case this year. One reason is the fact that there are many more departments this year and further that the fair will remain open on Sunday.

Some idea of the magnitude of the event is indicated in that more than 2000 separate contests will be held to decide the winners in the various departments.

A call for unusual entries has been issued by G. D. Hasegg of the County Horticultural Commission, who is in charge of the 40,000 square feet of fruit, vegetable and nut displays. As Los Angeles is the richest county in the nation, within her boundaries and near-by there is grown the greatest variety of products of the soil in the world. In order to get out these unusual features the plate display was inaugurated. The person with one plant or one tree can exhibit as it only requires sufficient quantity of the product to fill a plate.

These products can be sent to the Pomona Chamber of Commerce at any time now and they will be immediately placed in cold storage. In order to still further encourage the entries, Hasegg announced that he will have his men call for entries if the names and addresses are given to the local chamber.

Diver Plunges in His Coupe

VENTURA, Aug. 22.—H. Bay Webster of this city plunged off the Ventura Wharf in his small coupe yesterday but emerged from the surf unhurt. Webster operates a pleasure boat to and from the Santa Cruz Islands. He was turning his car around on the wharf when he noticed a string of lumber cars coming toward him.

Hurrying to get out of their way, he made the mistake of shifting his car into intermediate instead of reverse and the car plunged over the side and landed on its nose in four feet of water.

Webster climbed out uninjured. Although the top of the car was demolished when the machine turned over in the waves.

FIRST TWO UNITS OF NEW PLANT RUSHED

BURBANK, Aug. 22.—With the steel work for one building completed and the foundations for a second being laid today, a large force of workmen is rushing construction on the first two units of the new plant for the General Water Heater Company here. The plant is located west of Cypress avenue and adjoining the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks on Front street. The company has owned the site for several years. Additional land adjoining the original tract was purchased recently.

According to the officers of the company, the first two units of the factory will be completed and ready for occupancy early this fall. The remainder of the plant will be gradually moved from the Los Angeles location as rapidly as possible without interfering with production, it has been announced.

ROSCOE STARTS PLAN TO ESTABLISH PARK

ROSCOE, Aug. 22.—Plans have been started here to acquire a twenty-acre tract for a park, with the circulation of a petition among residents. The site is between Vineland and Fair avenues, and Lorne and Cantara streets. The cost of the project will be about $150,000. Plans include a swimming pool and playground equipment. If sufficient names can be obtained, the petition will be sent to the Los Angeles City Council with the request that a bond-issue election be called.

Large Plane Order Reported for New Plant

LONG BEACH, Aug. 22.—Manufacture of ten types of airplanes is planned by the Consolidated Aircraft Company at a factory to be started within ninety days on a thirty-acre site recently purchased from the Montana Land Company, according to announcement received here today.

Army planes will be fabricated at the local factory under a $1,000,000 contract recently obtained by the Consolidated company, it is announced. The adjoining Long Beach Municipal Airport will be used as a test field by the company, it is said.

POLICEMEN HAVE SPECIAL CEMETERY

UPLAND, Aug. 22.—Policemen of this city are not as "hard" as might be inferred, when they announce they have their own graveyard in which to bury their dead. But they don't send any humans to their graveyard. It is reserved exclusively for dogs and cats and is located west of Lone Hill. Thus far there are more than 100 unmarked graves in the cemetery.

PHYSICIAN AND WIFE ARRESTED

LONG BEACH, Aug. 22.—Dr. Farron B. Parker, 42 years of age, physician, and his wife, Lillian Parker, 35, were arrested at their offices in the Metropolitan Building this afternoon and turned over to county officers on a felony warrant charging abortion. The complaint was signed by Mrs. Nettie Shrode.

Clary, authority on gardens and garden designing, tonight was principal speaker before the meeting of the San Fernando Valley Horticultural Society in joint session with the garden section of the Van Nuys Woman's Club, in the latter's clubhouse. NEW BUS LINE FOR ALTADENA

State Railroad Commission Authorizes Service

Schedule of Ten Trips Daily Starts September 1

ALTADENA, Aug. 22.—The State Railroad Commission has granted the Pacific Electric Railway Company permission to inaugurate a bus line between the intersections of Montana street and Lincoln avenue and Woodbury Road and Lake avenue, it was announced today by H. E. Rodenhouse, assistant superintendent of the railroad company.

For many years, residents in the western section of this community along Lincoln avenue have been forced to take a Pacific Electric car to Pasadena and transfer north on Lake avenue, a total of seven miles, to reach the local Mariposa-street business district. The bus line will cut this distance to slightly more than one mile.

Service on the proposed line will start September 1 for a trial period of three months, according to Rodenhouse.

The route from Lincoln avenue and Montana street will be: North on Lincoln to Mariposa street, east on Mariposa to Olive avenue, north on Olive to Los Flores Drive, east on Los Flores to Lake avenue, and south on Lake to the Pasadena city limits at Woodbury Road.

An hourly schedule of ten trips a day will be inaugurated.

The fare will be 7 cents between Lincoln avenue and Woodbury Road, and for those who wish to connect with Pasadena cars 12 cents will be charged each way. The regular $10 monthly passes will be honored on the new bus line.

Mystery Plane Hops Off Today

GLENDALE, Aug. 22.—Within the next twenty-fou. hours a new airplane that has been constructed behind a veil of secrecy at the plant of Hodkinson Aircraft, 1729 Standard avenue, is scheduled to hop off for Cleveland, O., where it will be placed on display with the other exhibits at the National Air Races.

The plane is the Hodkinson Transport, an eight-seater, twin motored Sesqui plane, with its two outboard engines mounted on a small lower wing. The engines are each 170 horsepower Curtiss Challenger-power plants, capable of giving the plane a top speed of 125 miles an hour, with a cruising speed of 100 miles and a total cruising radius, on the fuel that can be carried in its tanks, of 500 miles, W. W. Hodkinson is the manufacturer of the plans.

LAST BIVOUAC FOR CIVIL WAR VETERAN

REDLANDS, Aug. 22.—J. A. Chester, for many years a resident of Redlands active in the G.A.R. and the Odd Fellows Lodge, died in his home at Des Moines Sunday, according to word received by the Odd Fellows. Chester suffered a stroke of paralysis some months ago and it is thought he probably had another one which caused his death. He had not missed a national convention of the G.A.R. for many years. He leaves his widow.

REDLANDS, Aug. 22.—Miss Evangeline Earley, daughter of C. P. Earley of the Mutual Orange Distributors, who is spending a vacation in Europe with her mother, has recently participated in aquatic sports at Chamonix, France, and made a reputation for herself there as a diver and swimmer. Miss Earley entered six events and was winner in each of the dashes and diving events, she stated, in writing to her father.

DRUGGIST TURNS FARMER

VAN NUYS, Aug. 22.—Russell Twomey, owner of the Valley Drug Company, one of the oldest established businesses here, has sold his interest to Francis Laughlin for a consideration stated to be $30,000. Twomey retires from the drug business to devote his time to the management of his 680-acre tract of land in San Diego county. He will leave here to make his home in Glendale. Laughlin came here from Iowa.

PASADENA VETERANS HAPPY

Legionnaires Return to Crown City Laden With Figurative Honors and Silver Cups

PASADENA, Aug. 22.—For the third time in four years, Pasadena Legion Post, No. 13, has won the Commander's Cup, awarded annually to the best Legion group in California. Two years ago the local post received official recognition as the "best all-around" aggregation in the United States.

Delegates to the State Legion convention at San Diego returned here today laden with honors and silverware.

Robert M. McCurdy, local Legion adjutant, was elected at San Diego to the office of command of the Fourth Area, which places him in charge of 100 Legion posts in Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and Ventura counties. He is a retired captain in the United States Army and served in France with the Fifty-third Infantry.

Post 13 won the title of "Best Post in California" on the basis of McCurdy's report of the organization's influence and activities in this community. Besides the Commander's Cup the local group also was awarded the Conservation Cup for its co-operation with the United States Forest Service in fighting forest fires.

The third cup brought back to the Legion clubhouse at 131 North Marengo avenue today was awarded to the post's drum corps for taking fifth place in the State contest.

Pasadena had hoped to win the drum corps event, in which Long Beach was declared the winner, but, according to McCurdy, the unit was fortunate to be placed at all in view of the fact that the bugler's mouthpiece dropped off and one of the drummer's shoe laces came untied.

PAY FOR JADWIN BRINGS TANGLE

He Has Lieutenant-General Rank on Retirement

But Question of Precedent May Dictate Salary

Successor to Engineer May Be Young Officer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—Unquestionably Gen. Edgar Jadwin, retired chief of army engineers, is the only living American to hold the rank of lieutenant-general, but the question has arisen whether he has the right to receive the pay of that grade.

Maj.-Gen. Roderick L. Carmichael, chief of army finance, is puzzled over the problem, which has been projected by Jadwin's promotion on his retirement, and has asked Comptroller-General McCarl for a decision on the question.

Jadwin was promoted from major-general to lieutenant-general on his retirement August 7, under a 1915 Congressional act permitting officers who served in the construction of the Panama Canal to be elevated to the next grade after completing their active service.

FIRST LIEUTENANT

Gen. G. W. Goethals, who was in charge of the canal's construction received a promotion on retirement to major-general, and Gen. William C. Gorgas, who eradicated the mosquito and malaria from the Canal Zone, also gained a major-generalship. Gen. Jadwin, a younger officer at the time of the canal's construction, is the first to become a lieutenant-general under the law.

In the event of a decision against his receiving the rank's pay, army officers expressed a belief that Jadwin might have to seek Congressional action to obtain it. The situation also contains the possibility, they assert, that if he cannot get a lieutenant-general's pay he might not be able to receive any retired pay, since, having been promoted, he no longer can be classed as a major-general.

SEEK YOUNG MAN

In casting about for a successor to Gen. Jadwin, President Hoover is believed to be seeking a comparatively young officer, who will not reach retirement age at least until the Mississippi River control project is well under way.

Suggestions that the Chief Executive might call into active service a reserve army engineer are given little credence by some of his advisers, who seem to be satisfied that he will take a Regular Army engineer and one thoroughly familiar with Mississippi River and other contemplated waterway improvements.

Among those whose names are mentioned in connection with the appointment are Brig.-Gen. Herbert Deakyne, acting chief; Col. William J. Barden of Governor's Island, New York; Col. George B. Pillsbury, who is stationed in Pennsylvania, and Col. William P. Wooten, formerly a member of the Mississippi River Commission.

PAJAMA DANCE CROWD PUTS TRAFFIC IN SNARL

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Pajama inspectors became traffic cops as 2000 persons turned out last night for a widely avertised "pajama dance." Only twenty-five couples showed up in pajamas.

The inspectors were deputy sheriffs dispatched to a casino under terms of an injunction granted promoters of the dance. The injunction forbade Sheriff Cook to interfere with the event, but ordered him to station deputies at the dance hall to see that the dancers wore sufficient clothes in addition to pajamas to meet "the requirements of decency."

The deputies were on hand but with nothing to do. A crowd swarmed the place and traffic became snarled. Soon the officers were directing traffic.

PEASANTS SLAY RED OFFICIALS

Eighty-six Tax Collectors and Others Killed

Enraged Workers Also Set Fire to Model Farm

Boy Scout Imitators Plunder Homes of Their Hosts

(Copyright, 1929, by Chicago Tribune.)

RIGA, Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—The majority of the villages in the province of Nijni-Novgorod are revolting, according to the Moscow Pravda. The peasants have murdered eighty-six tax collectors and county officials since the harvest began.

Near Nijni-Novgorod peasants burned a government model farm, the personnel of which was obligated to hide in the forest until rescued by a squadron of Cheka. Disorders have been reported from other grain-growing districts, and the soviet press reports there is more difficulty gathering crops this autumn than in previous years.

The Isvestia is displeased at the morale of 12,000 pioneers, which the government has gathered at Moscow, imitating the recent Boy Scout jamboree near London. The first day of their arrival at Moscow the pioneers were quartered in workers' homes, and when the camp opened the directors received hundreds of complaints from boys and hosts who reported that the pioneers stole bedding, clothing, food and other articles. A search of the camp revealed the majority of the troops dividing the plunder which they had confiscated.

DIVORCEES WILL MEET AT GAME

Use of Annual Ticket For Stanford— U. C. Contest Divided by Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Anthony went their respective ways today after a divorce decree had legally separated them but because of the exacting way in which the court divided their community property they undoubtedly will meet again.

An annual football ticket, providing two admissions for the "big game" between Stanford and California year after year, was divided, Mrs. Anthony receiving the rights to one seat and Anthony, a San Francisco lawyer, the other.

AIRSHIP-PLANE FEAT PRAISED

Admiral Moffett Declares it Opens Up New Field

'Hooking On' Craft in Flight Marks Important Step

Dirigibles, However, Won't be 'Carriers of Future'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—Admiral Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Naval Aeronautics, today characterized the experiments of the naval air service in which planes attached and detached themselves at will to and from the giant airship Los Angeles as opening up a new field of usefulness for lighter-than-air craft, though he scouted the idea that rigid airships eventually could take the place of airplane carriers of the type of the Lexington and Saratoga. The admiral issued his statement following the successful attempt of the Los Angeles to tow a standard navy seaplane with its motor dead after the plane literally had "hooked a ride" from the dirigible yesterday.

During the last six weeks navy planes successfully have hooked on a trapese arrangement under the belly of the Los Angeles while both ships were in flight but it was not until yesterday that the silver cigar atempted to tow a ship with its motor cut off. Experts feared that the tail of the attached plane would rise sufficiently to spoil the experiment if the plane's motor was not turning over. However the trial yesterday proved the experts' fears unfounded. The test succeeded beyond the hopes of the officials in charge.

NEW POSSIBILITIES

"The experiments conducted with the Los Angeles in launching and receiving airplanes from airships are not the first along these lines, and they are unlikely to be the last," Admiral Moffatt said. "The success of these efforts has opened up larger possibilities in the use of airplanes in conjunction with airships, thereby extending the usefulness of the airship. Aside from the military values, such as the planes affording some protection to the airship; the airship serving as a refuelling base for airplanes; the use of airplanes for delivering and discharging mail and passengers can have an important bearing on commercial airship operations.

"While we hear the idea advanced that airships may serve as aircraft carriers of the future this idea is somewhat of an exaggeration. Airships can and probably will carry a few airplanes but the number of airplanes that can be carried advantageously without handicap to the airship will always be small.

VARIOUS PROPOSALS

"Various methods have been proposed for carrying airplanes on airships. One proposal involves a large platform or deck on top of the airship, but the most feasible way is to carry the airplanes near the bottom of the airship, preferably inside the hull, but outside the hull would be satisfactory for temporary landings, for refueling, etc. A complete cycle of operations would involve landing the airplane; securing it; hauling it into the airship, or at least hauling the pilot into the airship; servicing the airplane (fuelling); preparations for launching and actually launching the airplane. The size and interior arrangements on the Los Angeles precluded hauling the airplane into the airship, but the remainder of the cycle was carried out and is believed to be the first instance where it was done with a service-type of plane.

The problem has not been attacked from the standpoint of performing a 'stunt' but from the standpoint of useful aeronautical development. The present apparatus, while satisfactory in principle and reasonably satisfactory as to operation, undoubtedly will require modification and changes. It is our plan to proceed with these modifications as they are shown to be necessary and to continue the work as part of the experimental program that is centered around our rigid airship. The results of this experimental work, including the hooking on experiments, all will be reflected in the two new rigid airships which now are building under contract for the Navy Department."

ARBITERS CUT TEXTILE WAGES

British Industrial Court Offers Compromise

Half of Employers' Demand Found Equitable

Acceptance by Both Sides Believed Probable

MANCHESTER (Eng.) Aug. 22. (AP)—The arbitration court in the Lancashire cotton mills wage dispute today gave an award sustaining the employers' demand for reduction but allowing only about one-half of the percentage asked.

Only two days of investigation was necessary for the board of five to make up its collective mind. It is thought the compromise will be accepted by both sides, since after a tie-up of the mills lasting three weeks both the labor union and employers agreed to arbitration of the controversy.

Judge Rigby Swift was chairman of the board and with him were associated Sir Arthur Balfour, C. T. Cramp, Sir Archibald Ross and A. G. Walkden.

The mill owners had demanded a reduction of 25 per cent on the standard piece price list, which would have meant a reduction of 12½ per cent on the current rates of wages paid to more than 500,000 workers. The court awarded a 12½ per cent reduction on the standard list, which is about 6 1-4 per cent reduction in actual wages.

The wage dispute had dragged along for weeks without solution until widespread stoppage of work, directly affecting more than 800,000 operatives and 1500 factories, resulted late in July.

For nearly three weeks the industrial life of the district was at a standstill so far as cotton was concerned. Only last Monday the workers returned to their machines after employers withdrew the outright enforcement of a 12½ per cent reduction in wages and agreed to submit the whole question to arbitration.

Gesture With 'Unloaded' Rifle Ends Fatally

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 22. (AP)—An "unloaded" rifle and a boyhood quarrel caused the death here today of Leo Sies, 10 years of age, killed by Donald Wills, 11, who pulled the trigger of a small-caliber rifle he told authorities he thought was unloaded.

Donald said Leo had teased him and "just to scare him," he placed the rifle within fifteen inches of his companion's face and pulled the trigger. The bullet entered Leo's right eye.

Young Wills is at liberty pending further action.

Woman Admits Penning Threats

BERKELEY, Aug. 22. (AP)—With the confession today of Mrs. Mary Lopas, 30 years of age, that she wrote and mailed four letters to a wealthy Richmond real estate dealer threatening death unless he paid her $10,000, police believed they have a solution to the so-called "black feather secret association" mystery, which has puzzled them for more than a year.

She told police she wrote the letters demanding money because Leo Persico, the real estate dealer, had deserted her.

FRUIT GROWER AID DISCUSSED

Stabilization Corporation's Heads Meet in Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22. (AP)—Directors of the Fruit Stabilization Corporation, called together by Lloyd S. Tenny, president, who has just returned from Washington, today discussed briefly plans for putting into effect the program under which grade and deciduous fruits of California may be handled by the organization.

Following the meeting Tenny announced that no decision has been reached. The purpose of the gathering, he said, was to decide whether to use money furnished by the Federal Farm Board as a loan to growers.

FLORIDA CITRUS INQUIRY SOUGHT

Fletcher Asks Farm Board to Aid Co-operative Move

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—Senator Fletcher of Florida today asked the farm board to institute an investigation into the production and marketing of citrus fruits in his State so that the industry may be placed on a foundation suitable to justify government financial aid which has been withheld from Florida growers except to a limited extent pending perfection of closer unity among co-operatives handling fruits in that territory.

Fletcher said he realizes that Florida growers must harmonize with the board's program, but asked to help make this possible. He added that despite all efforts to bring about co-operative bodies producer-owned and producer-operated, they seem to be far from the desired end, as the machinery of citrus marketing has not seemed to work to the advantage of growers.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan lay in the darkness of the hold, ignorant of the fact that his wife was a prisoner in the cabin almost above his head. For weeks that seemed like months the little steamer forged on—the two prisoners knew not where. Then one day Tarzan was ordered to come above. As he swung himself on deck, he noted over the starboard bow of the Kincaid a strip of land.

The vessel lay at anchor a few hundred yards from shore. Almost down to the water's edge ran a dense tropical jungle. Around him stood a half-dozen armed sailors, commanded by an unkempt, swarthy officer. Tarzan fully expected to see Rokoff, but it was the officer who spoke. "Lord Greystoke," he said, "your child is not on board. We have orders to set you at liberty here."

Tarzan listened with amazement. "Be quick," continued the fellow in broken English, "remove your clothing. Here you will not need it." And, as Tarzan hesitated, a revolver was pointed at him and slowly he obeyed. A boat was lowered and, still heavily guarded, the ape-man was rowed ashore. There a note was thrust into his hand and he was left—marooned—upon a jungle island.

As he watched the departing vessel, Tarzan saw a man appear at the rail, call his name, and with a laugh of derision hold high the figure of a little child. Sick with horror, he realized the full measure of Rokoff's revenge. It numbed his senses completely, so that he failed to hear the movement of that hairy thing behind him, creeping stealthily toward him as a cat upon a mouse.

DR. EMPRINGHAM LEAVES CHURCH

Temperance Society Leader Renounces Faith

Christianity "Lie," He Says in Letter to Bishop

Divorce and Remarriage Defense Offered

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (AP)—Asserting that Christianity as interpreted by Bishop William T. Manning of the Episcopal diocese of New York is a lie and a curse to humanity, Rev. James Empringham asked the bishop in an open letter made public today to relieve him of holy orders, which he resigned and renounced.

Dr. Empringham, who is national secretary of the Church Temperance Society, said he lost his faith fifteen years ago and there seems no probability of his regaining it. Among other things he criticises the bishop severely for his stand against divorce and remarriage. Dr. Empringham was recently divorced and married again.

SAYS HE PAID RENT

Copies of the letter were sent to New York from California, where Dr. Empringham said he went to live because of serious heart disease and not, as published statements had charged, to avoid payment of rent on premises rented for his health education society, which was closed by the Board of Health.

Dr. Empringham wrote that he first considered resigning from the ministry fifteen years ago, when he was rector of St. Paul's Church in Syracuse, N. Y., because he had lost faith not only "in the so-called Catholic dogmas," but also in the Apostles Creed.

PROHIBITION FOE

He resigned his pastorate, he continued, and went into temperance work, becoming in time an opponent of prohibition.

Dr. Empringham asserted in the letter that published assertions that he had practiced medicine without a license in his health education society are untrue and fostered by discharged employees.

Maniac Slays Dixie Officer

MONTGOMERY (Ala.) Aug. 22. (AP)—A policeman was shot to death and another seriously wounded in what apparently was an attack by a maniac as they patrolled a beat near the downtown area here early today.

The attack occurred as the officers, Rex C. Wright, 36 years of age and William W. Smith, 48, emerged from their automobile. Wright was killed instantly by a bullet through his chest. Both were plain-clothes men.

Joseph Dodson Choate, 26, was arrested after calmly informing officers that he "did it all."

HEAVY RAIN DESCENDS IN ARIZONA

Downpour of Cloudburst Proportions Results in 2.03 Inches at Dam

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Pounding in from the east, the heaviest rain in several years broke over the Roosevelt watershed shortly after 5 o'clock tonight. In three hours the precipitation at the intake was recorded at 2.03 inches.

Late reports from Roosevelt said that the heavy downpour had slackened somewhat, but that a steady rainfall, which gave promise of continuing, had taken the place of the earlier rain of almost cloudburst proportions.

The storm interrupted communication at Payson for a time, but at 10 o'clock the forest ranger stationed there said the rainfall had been heavy there for more than three hours at that time. He estimated that approximately two inches had fallen.

A heavy rain, driven by a strong wind, fell in Phoenix, more than a half of an inch being recorded. Accompanying the rain in Phoenix was an electrical storm that interrupted power for several minutes at intervals during the rainfall.

Arthur Ellis, the hangman, said he had been ordered by the provincial authorities to defer the execution until after 8 a.m.

Mrs. Viau, 63 years of age, the mother of eight, and Lefebvre, 32, were convicted of killing the woman's husband.

China Preparing Another Note on Powers' Rights

NANKING (China) Aug. 22. (AP) The Foreign Office of the Nationalist government is understood today to be preparing, in conjunction with the government legal authorities, a second note to be sent to the powers concerning the abolition of their extraterritorial privileges in China.

The note is the result of recent communications from the powers to China in which Washington among the others is understood to have indicated unmistakably the time is not yet ripe for such action.

Millionaires' Colony Planned

MIAMI BEACH (Fla.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Construction work on a proposed $10,000,000 millionaires' colony, described by contractors as one of the most elaborate projects of its kind ever attempted, will be started here September 3, next, Julien Southerland, Miami attorney and representative for investors, announced today.

Twelve ocean-front estates, costing an average of $350,000 each, will be erected by a group of Detroit automobile manufacturers, the attorney said. Plans also call for construction of an airport and seaplane base, polo field and a large yacht basin for exclusive use of the estate owners.

Break in Dike Inundates Crops

PEIPING, Aug. 22. (AP)—As the result of a 1000-foot break in the dike of the Hwang Ho or Yellow River in West Shantung through which a torrent of water is pouring, an area fifty miles long and five to ten miles wide has been inundated.

Crops have been ruined and the extreme misery of the population increased just at a time when they were preparing for the harvest season which would mitigate their sufferings through a prolonged famine.

War Hero Cited for Gallantry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—The War Department announced today the award of a silver star citation for gallantry in action to Edgar C. Kester of San Francisco, former first lieutenant, Three Hundred and Sixty-third Infantry, Ninety-first Division, American Expeditionary Forces.

Kester, who formerly resided at Everett, Wash., was cited for rescue of a wounded soldier under heavy machine-gun fire at Very, France, September 26, 1918.

PYROMANIACS FIRE FORESTS

Half-dozen Incendiary Blazes Burning in North

Colusa County Flames Rage Out of Control

Siskiyou Region Visited by Fire Bugs

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22. (AP)—Five of six fires reported to State Forester M. B. Pratt as burning today in Northern California were of incendiary origin and three of the number have been reset by pyromaniacs after the original fires were controlled, Pratt stated.

Sweeping through dense brush, a new fire, set late yesterday four miles from the first fire, the Swanson's range fire in Colusa county, is burning fiercely out of control again, Pratt said. He declared firefighting crews controlled the fire yesterday, only to have it set again last night.

A firebug again set the Capay Valley fire in Yolo county, Pratt said, after fire fighters had it under control. He issued orders for additional men to be used here.

Another fire at Celio's ranch in El Dorado county was reported controlled after burning 2500 acres.

Three Amador county fires, Pratt said, were all under control at midday. He declared he had learned that people in that section "reaped considerable revenue from Christmas berries and that some one was setting the fires as fast as we put them out in the belief that some berries will grow if the brush is burned over."

FOUR NEW FIRES SET BY PYROMONIACS NEAR YREKA

YREKA (Cal.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Siskiyou county's record of incendiary fires was brought to fourteen in four days today when three new fires were set in the immediate vicinity of Yreka and one was started west of Orleans.

The three fires near here were controlled after covering areas of less than two acres each, but the Orleans fire was still burning through scattered timber tonight out of control.

TULARE TAX COLLECTOR BACK AGAIN

Accused County Official in Custody of Officer Returns to Face Charges

VISALIA, Aug. 22.—Oscar M. Ferguson, Tulare County Tax Collector for the past three years, arrested yesterday in Long Beach at the bedside of his sick wife on charges of embezzling between $3000 and $5000 of public funds, arrived here tonight in custody of Deputy Sheriff Ben Gurr, who started for Long Beach yesterday afternoon when word was received of Ferguson's arrest. He was accompanied by Will Ferguson of Exeter, a brother of the accused man.

Ferguson left Visalia about noon Tuesday, following a telephone call informing him his wife was very ill. She is understood to have been in poor health for some time. He left before a warrant could be served upon him, after being informed by auditors employed by the County Board of Supervisors that his accounts showed discrepancies.

The reported shortages, according to special auditors employed by the supervisors about ten days ago, came through cancellation of assessments, something only within the province of the Board of Supervisors. He is asserted to have kept this money. Assessments canceled or reduced by the supervisors were found to be all right, tax money in those cases having been returned to the property owners.

J. M. Montgomery, special auditor employed by the supervisors, discovered the purported shortage. Ferguson is reported to have invited Montgomery to the Ferguson home for a talk at noon Tuesday. He returned to his office for a short time, answered the telephone call from Los Angeles, told his deputies that Mrs. Ferguson was seriously ill and left for Long Beach at once.

LABOR LAW OF MEXICO REJECTED

Congress Closes Without Passing Proposed Plan Due to "Altruistic" Features

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—The Mexican Congress, called to pass a labor law, closed tonight without having done so.

The Congress objected to the labor law on the score that it discourages investment of capital and establishment of industries in Mexico at a time when the government is making unusual efforts to attract both.

"Many members of Congress are opposed to the labor law as altruistic and ill-fitted for Mexico, was one member's comment.

"One clause requires all Mexicans to work for a living and learn a trade. Nothing could be more absurd in a nation like Mexico, where the upper classes long have looked on work as one of the prime evils of the world, and the middle classes, wherever possible, have imitated the upper classes. The bill does not satisfy labor, capital or the industries. If it ever becomes a law, you will not recognize it—it will be so changed."

ALCOHOL IN HOME WINE HELD LEGAL

It Must be Proved to be Intoxicating to Result in Liability, Court Says

RICHMOND (Va.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Beverages made from fruits grown on one's own land for home consumption must be proved intoxicating in fact before the owner is liable to prosecution, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals ruled here today. The presence of more than ½ of 1 per cent alcohol is not a proof of the intoxicating qualities of the beverage, it was held.

The decision was rendered in the case of Sam Picalas, who admitted he had made sixty gallons of wine containing 5 per cent alcohol, but insisted it was not intoxicating and came within the National Prohibition Act.

Shotgun Duel Kills One and Injures Another

CLOVER (Ga.) Aug. 22. (AP)—A prearranged shotgun duel here today left Marcus Brown, 40 years of age, dead, and Pete Huddleston, 50, probably fatally wounded with buckshot wounds in the abdomen. County officers said they had learned had feelings between the two men, caused by Brown's asserted elopment with Huddleston's daughter, brought about the duel today.

Brown sent Huddleston word from a near-by town that he "was coming to get him." Huddleston waited at the depot here. As Brown swung from the train both men blazed away with their shotguns. Brown was killed instantly. Huddleston was taken to a hospital where physicians said he would die.

Defense Made of Pacifism by Mennonites

HUTCHINSON (Kan.) Aug. 22. (AP) A defense of pacifist principles and a demand that conscientious objectors should not be denied citizenship today was voiced before the Mennonite conference of North America, in session here.

A suggestion that the Mennonites should join other pacifist churches of North America in a campaign against future wars was made by H. F. Krehbiel, Newton, Kan., editor of The Mennonite Review.

Although citizenship never has been taken away from members of the sect because of their views, courts in many States have denied them voters' privileges. Many Mennonites refused to enter the United States Army during the world war.

Shipping Rate War Averted

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (AP)—Fears of a rate war in the intercoastal shipping trade appeared ended today with the announcement by Robert C. Thackara, chairman of the United States Intercoastal Conference, that a pooling arrangement had been agreed upon.

BRITAIN SLATED FOR NEW OFFER

Hague Group Makes Effort to Break Deadlock

Snowden Action Today May Decide Parley's Fate

MacDonald Takes Personal Hand in Negotiations

THE HAGUE, Aug. 22. (AP)—A new offer of increased share in reparations payments was formulated tonight and confided to Henri Jaspar of Belgium to communicate to Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden.

After a day of struggle to keep alive the tottering conference for putting into effect the Young plan or something to replace the Dawes plan for German payments, the representatives of France, Belgium, Italy and Japan finally reached an agreement for an offer which they said represents 75 per cent of the British demand.

The fate of the conference now seems to depend on whether Mr. Snowden accepts or rejects this offer tomorrow.

The new offer to Great Britain from her fellow creditors was compounded from a little taken here and another little subtracted there. Great Britain would be given all margins not thus far disposed of between German payments since April under the Dawes plan of annuities and the reduced amount called for under the Young plan. To this contributions are added from France and Italy in various forms. Another slice was obtained by adding in the balance owing by Great Britain to Germany on liquidation of sequestered property.

PREMIER HAS PHONE TALK WITH SNOWDEN

LONDON, Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—Prime Minister MacDonald took a personal hand in the reparations negotiations today.

He talked for several hours by telephone with the Treasury experts and later held a long communication with Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, at The Hague.

Mr. MacDonald has taken the position, it is reported, that an agreement of some kind among the Allies is more important to Great Britain than getting every shilling of the $10,000,000 annually it is demanding and has instructed Mr. Snowden to yield ground if necessary to avert a breakdown.

POLICY OF SNOWDEN DEFENDED BY CUSHENDUN

LONDON, Aug. 22. (AP)—The policy pursued at The Hague reparations conference by Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, was defended today by Lord Cushendun, internationalist and chief of the British delegation to the reparations preparatory conference at Geneva in 1928.

Lord Cushendun said Mr. Snowden merely is insisting on conditions which he himself postulated at the conference in Geneva when he laid it down as an essential preliminary to the establishment of a committee of financial experts that it must be understood the British government based its policy on the Balfour note and on the 8pa percentages from which there could be no departure.

AGREEMENT FOR FINISH BY TOMORROW REPORTED

PARIS, Aug. 22. (AP)—The Havas News Agency today reported from The Hague that leaders of the six powers attending the reparations conference have agreed not to prolong their sessions there beyond Saturday.

CEMENT INCOME REGISTERS GAIN

Monolith Portland Shows $1.10 a Share

Six Months' Figures Higher Than 1928 Year

Midwest Subsidiary Plant Not Included

Monolith Portland Cement Company in a report issued yesterday by Coy Burnett, president, for the first half of 1929, showed net profits available for dividends of $307,732, equal after preferred dividend requirements of $60,000 to $1.10 a share on 225,000 common shares outstanding, or at the annual rate of $2.20 a share on the common stock.

The report, Mr. Burnett stated, does not cover the operations of the Monolith Midwest Cement Company, which started its plant last spring. This subsidiary, of which Monolith Portland owns all of the common stock, recently obtained a large contract for highway and road paving in Nebraska and now has sufficient orders booked for its entire production for the balance of the year, according to Mr. Burnett. It is producing 65,000 barrels of cement monthly.

The half-year showing of Monolith Portland Cement Company, exclusive of the Midwest Company, compares favorably with the earnings for the entire year of 1928, when net profits available for dividends totaled $375,780.20, equal after preferred dividends to $1.71 a share on 180,000 common shares outstanding.

Net sales during the first six months of this year amounted to $1,534,995.26. Gross profits on sales were $495,217.52, after deduction of $618,621.28 for labor, supplies, royalties and plant expenses and after allowance of $134,146.46 for depreciation and amortization of leasehold on limestone deposits, based on appraised values.

Net profits of operations were $266,474.64 after selling and administrative expenses of $208,742.88, while interest received and other income totaled $26,308.63 net, making profits before interest charges and Federal income tax, $312,784.27.

Deduction of $18,333.33 for interest charges and amortization of bond discount and expenses and of $34,182.44 for Federal income tax provision left a balance of $260,258.50, to which was added back $47,473.54 for depreciation and depletion charges on excess of appraised values of plant, equipment and limestone deposits over actual cost values, bringing net profits available for dividends to $307,732.04.

Investment Trust to Split Capital

Directors of Commercial Investment Trust Corporation have voted to increase the common stock from 2,000,000 to 7,500,000 shares and to split the stock two and one-half shares for each one share now outstanding, according to an announcement yesterday. The company will pay quarterly dividends on the increased number of common shares beginning with the dividend payable January 1, next, in cash at the annual rate of $1.60 per share, being equivalent to the present cash rate of $4 per share.

Stock dividends also will be paid at the annual rate of 6 per cent, this being a 50 per cent increase over the present rate of 4 per cent. The directors also approved an arrangement whereby 50,000 shares of the present common stock will be sold for cash to a banking syndicate headed by Dillon, Read & Co., which will add more than $9,000,000 to the capital funds.

LEAVES FOR DEDICATION

TRADING STOCKS WIN FAVOR

Pacific Coast Aroused to Importance of Operations by These Companies; Rumors Stirred Up

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Following the rise yesterday of Transamerica Corporation to a high of 149¼ and the announcement of the affiliation of Pacific American Associates, Inc., with the Goldman Sachs Trading Corporation, the Pacific Coast security markets started in to devote serious attention to these large trading and management companies. The idea is rapidly taking shape that stocks of these companies have not been thoroughly exploited marketwise and are cast for the leading role in the current phase of the stock market.

For some months, or virtually since Transamerica inaugurated its bank expansion program in New York City, the Pacific Coast has not been giving much attention to this company, the pioneer in the trading and management field. Goldman Sachs Trading Corporation, Interstate Equities Corporation, Shenandoah Corporation and other eastern companies of this type have been more prominent in the news.

NEW INTEREST SHOWN

Now it appears, from the announcement by Transamerica of the formation of a new trading and management company, that this group is prepared to again interest itself more actively in Pacific Coast enterprises. The Intercoast Trading Company evidently will acquire certain securities from Transamerica and will function as a general trading company along the lines of the old Bancitaly Corporation.

Undoubtedly this program presages the accumulation of desirable securities of companies operating in various parts of the country, with emphasis possibly on Pacific Coast securities because of the familiarity of the Giannini interests with this section. From the standpoint of the stock market the formation of the new company introduces a trading company stock that should command a large following on the coast.

Goldman Sachs Trading Corporation, through Pacific American Associates, Inc., is already heavily interested in Pacific Coast enterprises, and as the extent of these investments is better understood by Pacific Coast investors the stock of the trading corporation should become more popular in this region.

BANK RUMOR DENIED

With the speculators, however, the name of Goldman Sachs is a favorite. Yesterday it was used to explain the mysterious strength in Citizens' National Bank, which was in strong demand around 122 bid after a sharp rise on the previous day. Goldman Sachs, it was explained, is interested in acquiring a substantial block of the stock, but through an officer of Pacific American Associates, Inc., this story was denied.

The Giannini and the Goldman Sachs interests are the leading exponents of the trading and management idea, and operations are parallel in many respects. Both are nation-wide in scope, holding investments in scores of different enterprises in all parts of the country and occupying a management position in different lines of activities. The former is considerably stronger in banking, although the Goldman Sachs people have recorded notable progress since they became interested in banks.

What the future of the trading company stocks will be in the stock market is a question that will call for considerable discussion some time in the future. The exact relationship of many of these companies to each other is not easy to define, nor is there any clear understanding of what investments many of them have or what operations they control. If any doubt is ever raised concerning the character of investments or of management the trading company stocks may come in for some nervous fluctuations.

Delegates for Bank Conclave May Stop Here

Bankers of Los Angeles have issued an invitation to all delegates to the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association to be held at San Francisco from September 30 to October 3, inclusive, to arrange a visit to this city either en route to the Bay City or upon their return, it was announced yesterday.

A committee has been formed to meet the special trains and steamships and arrange entertainment for all bankers wishing to make a stopover. The entertainment plans include automobile tours about the city, visits to motion-picture studios and golf privileges.

Henry M. Robinson, president of the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association, has appointed the following committee: W. D. Longyear, vice-president Security-First National Bank, chairman; Frank C. Mortimer, vice-president Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank, acting chairman; J. R. Page, executive vice-president, California Bank; V. H. Rossetti, vice-president, Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank; Ben R. Meyer, president, Union Bank and Trust Company; E. J. Nolan, president, Bank of America of California; H. R. Erkes, vice-president, Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association.

METZLER RETURNS

Irving S. Metzler, president of Metzler & Co., has just returned from a three-months' trip abroad during which a portion of his time was spent in New York City. Speaking of present conditions, Mr. Metzler said: "Present indications point to a year of great prosperity throughout the country and especially in Southern California, where I look forward to greater industrial activity than this section has ever known."

SECURITY LOANS HIT NEW MARK

Gain of $113,000,000 in Week Boosts Volume to $6,085,000,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending the 21st inst., were announced by the Federal Reserve Board today as $6,085,000,000, representing an increase of $113,000,000 as compared with the preceding week and establishing a new high record.

The former high record was established on August 7, when the loans reached a total of $6,020,000,000. The loans for the week ending August 22, 1928, were $4,201,000,000.

The detailed distribution of the loans over the three weeks dealt with in the board's report was:

	Aug. 21, 1929	Aug. 14, 1929	Aug. 22, 1928

For account of others	3,372,000,000	3,202,000,000	1,580,000,000

The Reserve Board in totaling the three divisions of brokers' loans adds or subtracts the odd thousands of dollars not shown, so that the total arrived at by adding the columns may not agree with the board's total.

Comparative weekly figures of brokers' loans with corresponding periods of last year follow:

TRANSAMERICA TO CUT MELON

Stock Dividend of 150 Per Cent Voted by Board

Rights in Intercoast Trading Company Added

Share Distribution Valued at Near $800,000,000

Stockholders of the Transamerica Corporation, nation-wide holding and management company, will receive a valuable melon through the actions yesterday of the directors in declaring a 150 per cent stock dividend and offering of rights to subscribe to the shares of the Intercoast Trading Company.

Shares of Transamerica figuring in the stock dividend declaration alone have a present market value in excess of $800,000,000. Rights to subscribe to stock of the new trading company substantially increase the worth of the melon the stockholders of Transamerica will harvest.

Intercoast Trading Company, according to the announcement, has been organized as an uncontrolled enterprise to assume the activities of Transamerica not directly connected with the function of a holding company. The company will have an original issue of 1,500,000 shares of no par value. Transamerica Corporation will own 600,000 shares.

Rights of Transamerica stockholders to subscribe to the new stock are in the proportion of one share of the new company for each nine shares of Transamerica of record the 23rd inst. One million shares of Intercoast Trading Company will be taken up in this manner, and 200,000 shares will be reserved for the requirements of stockholders who desire to complete fractional shares, and for sale to the public.

Under the terms of the subscription rights, the Transamerica stockholders will be allowed to subscribe at $17.50 a share. Such shares as may be available for public sale will be distributed at not less than $22.50 a share, the announcement states.

Rights to subscribe are effective as of the 23rd inst., and payment must be made by September 7 for stockholders in the United States and by October 5 for those in foreign countries.

The stock dividend on Transamerica will be paid to stockholders of record September 10.

PICKWICK BUS LINE EXPANDS

Transcontinental Stage System Acquires Mexican Company Holdings

Pickwick Corporation of Los Angeles, transcontinental bus transportation system, has purchased all the properties and franchises of Transportes Nuevo Leon, operating bus lines covering more than 300 miles from Laredo, Tex., to Victoria, Tamaulipas, Charles F. Wren, president of Pickwick, announced yesterday.

Plans have been made for the early extension of the system south to Mexico City and on to the Pacific seaport town of Acapulco. The system will be operated under the name of Pickwick International Stages, and will embrace more than 1000 miles of highway traversing seven of the most thickly populated States of Mexico and will involve an investment of several hundred thousand dollars in new equipment and facilities.

The line at present extends from Laredo across the Rio Grande to Nuevo Laredo, south through the cities of Vallecillo, Sabinas, Cienega, Monterrey, Santiago, Montemorelos and Linares, then crosses back into Tamaulipas and passes through Hidalgo to Victoria, the present terminus. Connecting bus lines now link Laredo with San Antonio, Fort Worth, Dallas and the transcontinental Pickwick Greyhound line at Oklahoma City.

Acquisition of the Mexican stage system follows closely the recent establishment by Pickwick Latin American Airways, an affiliated Pickwick company, of a triweekly mail, express and passenger service from Los Angeles to Mexico City and Guatemala City.

"With an air line serving the entire west coast of Mexico," said Mr. Wren, "and a stage line serving the entire eastern and southern sections, the two crossing at Mexico City, Pickwick interests will provide modern transportation for a vast and rich territory heretofore lacking in adequate transportation facilities."

BANK SYSTEM RISE TRACED

Ten Institutions in Dominion Credited With Having Total of More Than 4000 Branches

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

MONTREAL (Can.) Aug. 22.—Banking began in Canada in 1792, when the Canadian Banking Company was formed as a bank of issue. But British capital was needed, and the company was balked by the outbreak of the war with the French.

In 1808 the Bank of Canada was undertaken, but the Legislature of lower Canada refused to grant its incorporation.

The Bank of Montreal began in 1817 as a private institution, with articles of association copied from the first charter of the Bank of the United States. Since then more than fifty banks have been established. Of these twenty-six have gone into the hands of receivers, and the remainder have been absorbed by or merged with those now in existence.

Now there are ten banks left. They are the Royal Bank of Canada with 912 branches, the Bank of Montreal with 641 branches, the Canadian Bank of Commerce with 800 branches, the Bank of Nova Scotia, 341 branches; the Banque Canadienne Nationale, 569 branches; Banque Provinciale Du Canada, 330 branches; Bank of Toronto, 195 branches, Imperial Bank, 194 branches; Dominion Bank, 132 branches, and the Weyburn Security Bank with thirty branches.

The Royal Bank of Canada, with assets of more than $900,000,000, is headed by Sir Herbert Holt, and C. E. Neill is general manager.

The branch banking system is so ingrained in Canadian life that there is no agitation, or very little, except in certain western communities, for a change in its structure.

Sir Herbert Holt receives credit in Canada for being largely responsible for the leadership of the Royal Bank during the last decade. Not only is Sir Herbert interested in banking, but his wide interests and financial activities cover the continent.

Coming from Dublin, Ireland, at 19 years of age, he went to work with pick and shovel in the west and made good. Today, at 73, he is powerfully built, and shows all the vigor of a young man just starting his career.

He is at his office in Montreal every morning, except Sunday, at 10 o'clock, and he never leaves until 5. He is kept busy attending one board of directors' meeting after another, with interviews sandwiched in between. This Irish-born Canadian is probably on as many boards of directors as any business leader in Canada.

"Canada at present," he said, "is buying more from the United States than all of Europe combined, if we except Britain. These figures in favor of Canada are likely to be increased if the United States does not put too many obstacles in the way.

"No nation can go on indefinitely selling goods to others without buying in return. My business career over more than a half-century has shown me that an even trade is the best one. Business transaction, to be good, should be helpful to both sides.

"It is not for Canadians to tell Americans what to do, but what is done has a very vital relationship to the development or retarding of business between these two great nations. The United States and Canada today are doing more business together than any two other nations in the world. Why not maintain and expand that situation?"

And why not?

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. In expectation of a large increase in brokers' loans had little more than a restraining influence on stock operations in today's short session and the entire list was forced sharply from the low levels reached in the wave of selling.

An impressive assortment of high-priced industrials was sent into new high territory, the volume of sales for the day fell off to 2,496,200 shares.

Forecasts of a sharp increase in loans were amply borne out by weekly Federal Reserve figures published after the close, showing a jump of $132,000,000 over the week ended last week's decline of $77,000,000 and carrying the total to a new high record of $6,[illegible] contrasted to $4,361,000,000 a year ago. Wall street was inclined to attribute much of the increase to the maturing of rights to several issues of stock, totaling $300,000,000 during the past week, rather than stock market activity as the advance in prices was by no means uniform.

The loan figures appeared to lend substance to theories that the recent ease in call money was due to temporary employment of funds paid into recently marketed investment trusts and other special funds accumulating in New York preparatory to fall needs. An increase in loans was virtually discounted for by nonbank funds

Grain Futures Turn Lower on Erratic Mart

CHICAGO, Aug. 28. (AP)—Whip-saw action of the wheat market kept traders here continually on edge today, prices making numerous quick changes, but averaging lower as a whole. On extreme dips in price, speculative buying demand for wheat broadened out, but when advances ensued, selling pressure increased owing to a dearth of export business and because of congestion of railroad and elevator facilities at leading domestic centers, where arrivals of wheat are still larger than last year. Besides, a leading British authority predicted that there would be no active export wheat demand for months yet by Germany, France, Italy or Spain.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were nervous, ¾@1⅝c under yesterday's finish. Corn closed irregular, ⅛c net lower to 1⅛c advance, oats ⅛@⅝c down and provisions varying from 20c setback to a rise of 7@10c.

One of the chief depressing factors in the Chicago wheat market today was a sharper fall of Liverpool quotations than had been looked for. The weakness of values at Liverpool was ascribed largely to liberal shipments from Argentina. 6,985,000 bushels this week, compared with 1,380,000 bushels a year ago, where as Europe today brought only 800,000 bushels from North America. Meanwhile, primary receipts of wheat in the United States today were 2,472,000 bushels, against 2,051,000 bushels on the corresponding day last year. This was a contrast with 3,122,000 bushels a week back.

However, the bulk of spring wheat movement continues to threaten a general storage strain movement.

On the other hand, the wheat trade here gave special attention to efforts of Minnesota and North Dakota officials to have farmers slow up rural shipments as much as possible for the time being. Rallies in prices were also stimulated at times by reports that further curtailment of Canadian estimates of wheat yields are being brought about by actual threshing returns. In this connection, it was especially noted for example that in crop district No. 9 of Manitoba, the average production is now given as nine bushels an acre, whereas the latest previous report said fourteen bushels.

Unfavorable crop reports from various parts of the corn belt, Nebraska and Kansas in particular, tended to strengthen corn values. Drought and high temperatures were said to be lowering yield prospects. Oats prices were weaker, sympathizing with wheat.

Most of the provision list was higher, responsive to an upturn in the value of hogs.

Fight Begun in Freeport Texas

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (AP)—A group of bankers, headed by John L. Williams & Co., of Richmond, Va., has started a movement to oust the present management of the Freeport Texas Sulphur Company unless it permits stockholders to make an examination of the company's records and properties, it was learned today. A call has been sent to stockholders at the instance of John L. Williams & Co. suggesting that a special meeting be held in Wilmington September 17.

The notice to stockholders states that the signers, who are holders of a substantial amount of stock, are disturbed because of their failure to obtain from the officers sufficient information about the affairs of the company to enable them to determine the fair value of their holdings, adding that they believe the stock is worth considerably more than the present market price would indicate.

Delinquent Tax Sale Fails to Produce Bidder

LA MESA, Aug. 22.—Bidders were conspicuous by their absence here yesterday at the auction sale of property of those delinquent in the payment of irrigation taxes for 1928. John C. Scott, tax collector and assessor of the La Mesa, Spring Valley and Lemon Grove Irrigation District, read the long list of delinquents and the description of their property, but there was not a single bid.

Unless private individuals should buy this property in the course of the next few days, the district will have to take it over, and unless it is redeemed within three years by the owners, will come into legal posession of it at the end of that period.

Marie Railroad, will be chairman of the board of the new corporation, with George H. Prince, St. Paul, chairman of the First National Bank, president.

It is understood he will again enter the field of independent banking.

Under the aggressive leadership of James A Talbot, president, (also president of Richfield Oil Company of California), the Western Pipe & Steel Company has shown a steady growth and today ranks as one of the leading industrials of the West.

For the past first years net earnings have equaled $3.40 per share on the outstanding stock after all prior charges and liberal depreciation. Present earnings are running considerably higher.

Mr. E. G. Diefenbach, Vice-President of the Corporation, has supplied the following information:

BUSINESS: American Utilities & General Corporation was organized under the laws of the State of Delaware on January 24, 1929, as an investment company of the general management type to acquire, hold, sell, underwrite, offer and generally deal in securities. The Corporation deals principally in securities of gas and other utility companies and affords its stockholders not only a wide diversification of selected investments and constant supervision under experienced management, but a means of participating indirectly in financial operations, which would not be available to them as individuals.

EARNINGS: Due to the affiliations and close associations of the Corporation's management with large gas and electric utility companies, affording opportunities for participating profitably in refunding and other operations of these companies, substantial profits should be realized for the benefit of its stockholders. The earnings of the Corporation for the six-months' period from commencement of operations to August 15th, 1929, which do not reflect any benefit from the additional capital derived from the sale of the $3.00 Cumulative Preferred Stock, were as follows:

Net Profits	$755,914.48
Six months' dividend requirements on 75,000 shares $3.00 Cumulative Preferred Stock	112,500.00
Balance for Federal Taxes and Class A and Class B Stock	$643,414.48

The net profits, as above, are equivalent to more than 6⅛ times six months' dividend requirements on the 75,000 shares $3.00 Cumulative Preferred Stock. After deducting six months' dividend requirements on the outstanding Class A Stock, the balance for Federal Taxes and Class B Stock amounts to $515,804.53, equivalent on an annual basis to $1.02 per share on the outstanding Class B Stock. The Board of Directors of the Corporation has declared an initial dividend of $.10 a share on the Class B Stock, payable September 3, 1929.

EQUITY: The 75,000 shares of $3.00 Cumulative Preferred Stock are followed by 196,323 shares of Class A Stock and 1,007,354 shares of Class B Stock, having a total market value, based on current quotations, of over $11,000,000.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Transamerica and Edison Soar to New Record Prices and Feature Stock Trading

Southern California Edison and Transamerica Corporation completely overshadowed all trading yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and on a spirited demand broke through to new peak prices for all time. The balance of the list was comparatively neglected and while the oils showed a small fractional improvement, the rest of the market eased slightly lower on light sales and a lack of constructive buying.

Edison jumped 4 points to establish a new top at 80 and on subsequent liquidation dropped back to a close at 78½, for a net gain of 2½ points. The original preferred hit its former peak at 75 and ended at 74, up 1 1-4 net.

Transamerica Corporation, before the official announcement of the 150 per cent stock dividend and rights for subscription to the new Giannini trading company, soared 4 1-4 points to score a new high price at 149 1-4. The stock has climbed in a steady fashion for the last two weeks. The last sale crossed the board at 149.

Commercial Discount was a surprise feature in the afternoon when a sale of thirty shares crossed the board at 60, an advance of 10 points. The stock is closely held and is one of the inactive issues on the list. Pacific Finance continued a market leader and on a transfer of 1100 shares ranged between 145 and 142, closing at the latter price, off 1 point net.

Very little trading took place among the oils. Union Associates rallied a point to 50 and Union Oil 1-4 to 50 1-4. Rio Grande at 29 1-8 was up 1-8 and Pacific Western at 16, up 1-4. No other changes were recorded. Security-First National Bank was active and shot up 1½ points to 135 and finished at 133 3-4, up 1-4.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. Develops a New Diesel Airplane Motor—

Authorities look upon it as one of the most outstanding developments in Aviation in recent years. Will it bring radical changes in the Automotive as well as Aviation industries? Who knows?

In a recent test flight from Detroit to Langley Field, Virginia, the new motor consumed only $4.68 worth of fuel, according to report. An ordinary airplane motor would have consumed almost six times that in cost and bulk, or about $27.00 worth.

Lindbergh Pleased With It

Col. Lindbergh, in a flight with Maj. Thomas Lanphier, August 19th, tested the new Diesel airplane motor and expressed himself as being highly pleased with it. He is the first person outside of the Packard staff to fly with the new engine.

For Immediate Purchase

Already the leading producer of high priced cars, Packard bids fair to become dominant in Aviation motors as well. We recommend this stock.

No. 2 on the south flank of the Ventura-avenue field, yesterday was swabbing for a production test. If it is successfully completed, the present field may be extended some distance southward.

This project was drilled to about 7400 feet. It is situated at the extreme south end of the field, and near the Percy No. 1, which is flowing considerable fluid. The Foster No. 3 has just been placed on production, yielding about 450 barrels of oil per day, and is said to be increasing.

The Penn-Kan Oil Company's Francis No. 1, in the same general area, yesterday was preparing to swab with bottom at 7543 feet. Its completion likewise would extend the present field southward.

To Spud Soon

The Lincoln Drilling Company's Medzikhovsky No. 1 on a 100-acre lease fronting the ocean in the Palisades field, three miles west of Santa Barbara, has derrick up and is expected to spud in within a week.

This well is about three-quarters of a mile southwest of the Olympic Oil and Refining Company's Lomas No. 1 discovery well, which is said to be pumping 175 barrels of oil per day. Lincoln is expected to drill this test to at least 5000 feet, believing that a fault runs parallel with the ocean.

The Altadena Oil Company's Mesa No. 1, near Lomas No. 1, is drilling ahead below 2200 feet in search of a deeper producing sand than that discovered previously by Olympic not far distant. Rogge & Coffman's No. 1 is drilling ahead further north and inland, Olympic's Knott No. 1 is testing a deeper formation.

Grading Locations

The Associated Oil Company is grading two drilling locations for the Southern Pacific Railway, and will start two wells at once on a narrow strip of right of way near the State highway, at the extreme west end of the old Summerland field. Both wells are to be situated on the bluff overlooking the ocean, and about 250 feet northeast of the Lincoln Drilling Company's Williams No. 1, which now is pumping oil.

About 120 feet due east of the Williams No. 1, the Becker Fee No. 1 of George F. Getty, Inc., will drill out the cement plug today at about 975 feet. Hole is down 1035 feet, with the cement at the top of the oil sand.

Derricks Up

The Texas Company has constructed derricks for Mattern Two No. 11, No. 12 and No. 13 on its lease near Telegraph Road and the Four Corners at Santa Fe Springs. They will spud in soon, and reports are that these projects will be drilled to the lower Clarke sand.

Offset Planned

The Shell Oil Company is reported to have made location for its Brackenburg No. 1, to offset the Mohawk Oil Company's No. 5 well on the southwest quarter of Sec. 27, 2S-2W, in the Fruitvale field.

Completes One

The Richfield Oil Company has completed its G. P. No. 1 at Santa Fe Springs for an initial yield of 1600 barrels of 34.8-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 8850 feet.

On the Kern front, Richfield is building derrick for Kern No. 16, and foundation is in for Kern No. 14.

Locates Offset

Blinn & Bergman has made location for a well to be drilled as an offset to the Parker No. 1 of George F. Getty, Inc., near the intersection of Aerick street and Prairie avenue, at Potrero. The Parker No. 1, drilling ahead at about 1900 feet, is an offset to Max Frey's No. 1, producing about 150 barrels of oil per day.

Gas Showings

The Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation's Snow No. 1-A in the Piru field is said to have encountered showings of gas, with bottom of the hole at about 730 feet. It is drilling ahead below 800 feet.

At Kettleman Hills, Bolsa Chica's Ferguson No. 1 on the north dome is reaming at 5825 feet. In the Ventura-avenue field the Hartmann No. 5 has thirteen and three-eighth-inch casing cemented at about 4517 feet.

Deepening Hartmann

The Petroleum Securities Company's Hartmann No. 1 in the Ventura-avenue field has resumed drilling below 5360 feet. This project was given a production test recently, but without success, it is said.

Showings Reported

The Cypress Oil Company's De Koch No. 1 at Potrero is reported to have penetrated oil sand and shale at about 4650 feet, and is preparing to set casing. This project is situated near the intersection of Twelfth street and Lillian avenue, and near a group of lots which Cypress is reported to have leased for oil development.

FRENCH ACE HOPS OFF TO HOME FIELD

Capt. Coste Ends Hints of High Adventure by Taking Plane Back

LE BOURGET (France) Aug. 22. (AP)—Dieudonne Coste, after two days of saying one thing and either doing another or nothing, tonight took a slightly different tack by saying nothing and doing nothing.

The French aviator, who has had aviation circles in a whirl of excitement by his intimations that he was going to fly to Tokio, to New York, around the world or simply to a new world straightaway distance record, gave them a rest tonight by taking his airplane back to Villacoublay Air Field from which he can not start to do any one of those things because of its small size.

There were some indications that the Air Ministry had brought pressure upon him to abandon any plan he may have had to race the Graf Zeppelin. In any case weather conditions appeared unfavorable for a long flight and it was generally interpreted here that the return to Villacoublay meant indefinite postponement of any flight.

Hearst Narrowly Escapes Death in Crash Near Cliff

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—William Randolph Hearst, the publisher, narrowly escaped death today in an automobile collision, when a taxicab in which he was riding came to a stop on the edge of a seventy-five-foot cliff.

Hearst, driving from Morro Bay to Atascadero on the Butterfly Drive, was being driven by Stephen Vegar, a taxicab operator of San Luis Obispo. On a sharp curve they came face to face with a car driven by R. E. Lemon, 738 South Los Angeles street, Los Angeles.

Before either driver could apply his brakes the two cars met head-on, the one in which Hearst was riding being hurled to the edge of the cliff.

No one was injured in the crash, though both cars were reduced to wreckage.

YOUNG GIVES CLUB DATA ON FINANCES

Governor Details System of State Expenditures and Revenue Sources

How the State finances operate, where the money comes from and how it is expended were explained graphically by Gov. Young in a talk to members of the City Club at luncheon yesterday.

The Governor has given the talk before in Los Angeles, he said, but the importance of some understanding of State finances by the people as a whole warrants repetition. The fact that throughout the talk none left the hall indicated the interest the subject holds. Printed pamphlets in which the financial set-up of the State is summarized were distributed as aids to an easier understanding of the talk.

Tables were given comparing the budgets for the State for the eight years ending in 1931. For 1929-1931 the estimated income to the State is $244,850,474, coming from the several sources, as follows: Taxes from public utilities and insurance companies, $82,127,700; taxes from banks and general corporations, $19,700,000; from other sources (gasoline and inheritance,) $68,3[illegible]335; miscellaneous general sources, $36,706,670; from various departmental sources, $18,018,768.

The Governor pointed out that there are various ways of making out budgets, and until the detailed methods are known and analyzed it is impossible to compare budgets as to economy and effectiveness.

MAIL DERBY LETTERS BACK

Three "Times" Missives Girdle Globe Via Air, Sea and Land in Fifty-five and One-half Days

BY CLARENCE W. MARTIN

Battle-scarred and bearing in two cases physical marks of their rough experiences in the zone of hostilities between soviet Russia and China, crumpled and finger-printed by the hands of a half-dozen foreign postal bureaus, three of the six letters entered in The Times Round-the-World Air-Mail Derby limped into this city and home yesterday after fifty-five and a half days of air, water and rail travel.

Beset with difficulties from the start of the race, the three letters which came back after circling the globe achieved nothing in the way of a record of time—they were, in fact, long overdue—but gave mute evidence from their postmarks of the delays and difficulties of travel and postal service during war times. The letters which reached Los Angeles yesterday were routed to the West, left Los Angeles on June 27, last, crossed the Pacific on the steamship Empress of France from Vancouver, B. C., and reached Yokohama on July 15.

FIRST DIFFICULTIES

Almost at the moment of their arrival in Japan the rumbles of strife between China and soviet Russia had reached the point where the Japanese government suspended its air-mail service through Manchuria to Siberia. Although the Japanese officials were anxious to speed the test letters on their way, they were powerless to move them until representatives of the Associated Press in Tokio obtained permission for letters Nos. 1 and 2 to go aboard a steamer to Vladivostok, bearing a special request from the Japanese Foreign Office that the letters be forwarded to their Embassy at Moscow.

The third letter started on its long and hot voyage to Bagdad, by way of Hongkong and Singapore, but by a coincidence it reached Berlin via the southern route at the same time the letters scheduled over Siberia and Russia passed through Moscow to the German capital and the three were forwarded by the "Luftpost" to Paris and New York by steamer. The letters arrived in New York Tuesday afternoon and were received in Los Angeles yesterday.

The southern letter, routed by way of Bagdad, managed to accumulate an additional score of grief. A brief cable from the bazaar city of history told of the arrival of the letter there at the same time that "a terrific sandstorm, unprecedented in living memory, had held up the British India air mail for twenty-four hours. The blow was

ARRESTED TRIO HURT IN WRECK

Auto Wheel Collapses as Dry Officers Bring Party Here from North

An automobile wreck yesterday injured three men being taken under arrest from San Luis Obispo to United States Commissioner Head's court in Los Angeles. The trio, F. F. Thompson, Martinie Adomali and John Bartallazzo, also known as Bartolovo, had been arrested by the Federal prohibition department officers at San Luis Obispo. While the car, driven by George K. Reynolds of the dry force, was taking a curve on Ventura Boulevard near Triumfo, the right front wheel collapsed. The car turned over, throwing its occupants to the pavement.

Thompson, who had been arrested on the 9th inst., was injured seriously enough to necessitate leaving him at the Golden State Hospital. The three other occupants of the car received minor injuries, which did not prevent them from proceeding to court. Adomali and Bartallazzo were arraigned before Commissioner Head, and arrangements were made for their release on bail of $2500 each. Thompson was instructed to appear and furnish bail. Hearing was set for September 9.

FALL MODES TO BE SHOWN

Downtown Merchants Will Unite in Stressing Style Leadership of Los Angeles

In a brilliant and spectacular co-operative merchandising event, fall fashions will be introduced simultaneously in "The Modes of Autumn, 1929," a united showing by the merchants of downtown Los Angeles, September 12, 13, and 14, next.

This celebration will signalize the newly achieved leadership of Los Angeles as the pre-eminent style center, and will be attended by elaborate ceremonies. Practically all the stores in the downtown district will participate.

At 7 o'clock on the evening of September 11, buglers from the Boy Scouts of America, stationed at all the principal street intersections downtown, will sound the official unveiling. The curtains of the windows then will be drawn, exposing for the first time the galaxy of colors, materials and models for fall, in artistic settings.

COLORFUL PAGEANT

Downtown streets will be illuminated brilliantly and be ablaze with color. Hundreds of thousands of men and women will view the pageantry of the shop windows. Society and civic leaders will participate.

During the three succeeding days, the wealth of new designs, materials and colorings in apparel will be displayed, with Los Angeles-made garments predominating. Stores will present exhibits and style shows, and international authorities on fashion subjects will deliver lectures.

Originally designed as a pageant of feminine styles, this "fashion air" has been enlarged in scope to include the newest in men's wear, shoes, millinery, home furnishings and every other kind of merchandise subject to style's influence.

MERCHANTS UNITE

The idea for "The Modes of Autumn, 1929," first was conceived by a group of leading stores, but it was not long before the plan was entered into enthusiastically by the entire downtown district.

The comprehensiveness and elaborateness of the program is expected definitely to establish Los Angeles as the leader in the realm of fashion.

This impressive showing comes on the heels of a signal victory for Los Angeles, when the combined apparel manufacturers of this district dominated the Chicago style show.

LEADER IN STYLES

"Los Angeles has been making apparel history, and this combined showing by the great mercantile establishments in the downtown area will serve to bring home to the people of Southern California the fact that we are truly setting the new

CITY GIVEN REPORT ON WATER LEVY

Share for Metropolitan District Expenses to be $725,000 Council Told

The levy against the city of Los Angeles for the year's upkeep of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California will be $725,000, or 4 cents per $100 assessed valuation, the district directors informed Council yesterday. The city has the choice of paying cash from the general fund or allowing the district to collect the money by assessment.

There not being that much cash lying about loose in the treasury the Council advised the directors to go ahead and collect. The money is to be expended upon preliminary surveys and works for the Colorado River Aqueduct.

The share of Los Angeles in the expense of the district is something like 85 per cent.

Weather Man Has Hope for Cooler Days

Temperature and humidity in Los Angeles yesterday exchanged their relative positions over the day previous, the temperature maximum dropping 2 deg. and the humidity rising 4 per cent. The maximum temperature was 82 deg. The humidity at that time was 55.

Although the early forecast indicates a possibility of a little cooler weather for today, it is no more than a possibility. The weather man has his eye on an area of high pressure which makes its habitat usually off the coast of Los Angeles and San Diego. He is hoping that it will gather a little more strength and really be itself for awhile again, because when it really functions as an A-1, vigorous, high-class high-pressure area it gives Los Angeles its moderate summer weather.

PROTESTS TO BE HEARD

Council today will take up protests against the lighting of Angeles Mesa Drive between Sixtieth street and Slauson avenue, protests against the lighting of One Hundred and Twelfth street between Hoover and Figueroa streets, and the confirmation of assessments for the widening of One Hundredth street between the east city boundary and Vermont avenue.

FEDERAL CURB SOUGHT ON FLYERS OVER BOWL

Incensed over the frequent interference with its concerts, the Hollywood Bowl Association has protested to the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce, it was learned yesterday, against the annoyance occasioned by airplane pilots who fly low over the amphitheater during performances. The practice indulged by the offending aviators, according to Bowl association officials, has been especially noticeable during the last few weeks.

Three recent instances of low-flying planes, it is pointed out, did all but disrupt the performances, the noise of the motors making music entirely inaudible. One interruption occurred during Bruno Walter's conducting of Weber's overture, "Freischuetz," when a trimotored ship crossed over the Bowl, described a circle and then retraced its aerial path. The crashing climax of the composition was heard only with difficulty, it is said. On another occasion the only evidence that an orchestra still was playing was to be found in the waving of the baton.

"I took steps about ten days before the season's opening to safeguard the Bowl from these interruptions," said Raymond Brite, general manager, yesterday, "but airport authorities and heads of transport companies, to whom I addressed letters, have seemed unable to control the situation. Therefore I have referred the problem to J. K. Caris, Los Angeles head of the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce. The nuisance is menacing our greatest cultural asset, and we look for an early abatement of it."

COUNTY TAXES WILL BE HIGHER

Fourteen Cents Tacked on Last Year's Rate

City Payers Get Advantage of Municipal Slash

Salary Boosts and New Laws Factors in Increase

The Los Angeles county tax rate next year will be approximately 86 cents per $100 of valuation, an increase of 14 cents over last year and the highest county tax rate since 1894, it was announced by Supervisor McClellan, chairman of the board, yesterday.

City taxpayers will enjoy a base rate of 2 cents under last year's total combined rate, however, as the city government Wednesday announced a cut of 16 cents in the city's tax rate. School, flood control and special district taxes are additional.

WHY OF INCREASE

The increase in the county tax rate is due partly to large outlays proposed for Civic Center property and land for beach parks, to general increases in the salary fund and other factors incidental to the growth of the county, as well as to the fact that the last Legislature reduced certain county revenues which must be made up by an increased rate on real estate and personal property, and because the assessed valuation upon which the tax rate is based did not increase as much this year as in the past few years.

New appropriations in the budget which helped increase the tax rate include $1,250,000 for building the General Hospital, $1,500,000 to purchase Civic Center property and $635,000 to buy beach lands for county parks.

VOTERS KILL BONDS

Part of the 1929-1930 increase could have been avoided, it is pointed out, if bond issues for the purchase of Civic Center property and land for beach parks had carried and if the county had voted more than $5,000,000 to build the General Hospital. However, the bond issue for a Statehouse site failed and a rapid and uncalculated increase in the need for hospital facilities forces county authorities to design a hospital that will cost $8,000,000 instead of $4,000,000.

Total assessed valuation of county real estate, the figures on which the new tax rate must be based, is $3,175,950,655 this year. Last year it was $3,020,679,175. The year before it was $2,930,667,130. This year's increase was $155,271,480, whereas last year's increase was $190,502,045 and the increase of previous years was even more.

AND ANOTHER THING

Personal property to be taxed next year amounts to considerably less than the total of $483,738,125 last year, according to Deputy County Auditor Wood, in charge of the budget, because of reclassification of property ordered by the last Legislature. Similarly, the value of "operative" personal property of railroads and other public utilities, some of which is taxed directly by the State and some assessed by the county, decreased this year from $381,977,962 to $319,976,530. These decreases helped make it necessary to raise the county tax rate, according to Deputy Wood.

The county will spend during the coming year a total of $86,219,116, according to the estimate of the budget. Last year disbursements were $42,122,943. The difference, $14,096,173, must be made up by increasing the tax rate because the natural increase in the assessed valuation of real estate does not amount to as much proportionally as the increase in county expenses.

PAYING THE PIPER

A comparison of this year's budget with last year's appropriations shows that the 14-cent increase in the tax rate may be divided about as follows: Five cents for the increased salaries of county employees (some of which were fixed by the Legislature;) 4 cents for purchase of Civic Center property, 2 cents for purchase of beach land, 1 cent for "exploitation" (advertising the county) and 2 cents for miscellaneous increases in the county government and adjustments in personal property collections, about one-third of which is accounted for by the withdrawal of State tax sup-

PAROLE SWINDLE REOPENS PRISON

George Rush Meadows

SENTENCE PASSED ON MEADOWS

Seven-to-Seventy-Year Term in Folsom Given to Former Star of Football

George Rush Meadows, former football star at the University of Southern California and erstwhile attorney, who was convicted of eleven counts of grand theft in connection with a $25,000 parole swindle, yesterday was sentenced by Superior Judge Fricke to serve from seven to seventy years in Folsom.

Sentence was imposed after the court denied Meadows's motion for a new trial. Attorneys for Meadows then filed notice of appeal and the judge granted a thirty-day stay of execution of sentence.

Judge Fricke pronounced sentence on each of the eleven counts, ordering the terms on seven counts to run consecutively, the others concurrently. The penalty on each count is from one to ten years but under the terms of the sentence Meadows will be in a position to apply for parole after serving seven years minimum.

Meadows is asserted to have obtained more than $25,000 from relatives of John R. Osborne, convicted Los Angeles promoter, by representing to them that he could obtain a commutation of sentence or parole for Osborne. The latter is serving a ten-year Federal sentence in connection with the promotion here several years ago of Valhalla Memorial Park.

Meadows denied he converted the money he obtained from Osborne to his own use and testified the sum had been employed to employ attorneys and pay other expenses incidental to a parole for Osborne.

The State, however, offered testimony to show that Meadows never had made any formal application for parole in behalf of Osborne.

Meadows was sentenced to Folsom by reason of his being a second-term convict. He was convicted and sentenced to the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth in 1925 in connection with the sale of stolen Liberty bonds. It was while he was in Leavenworth that he met Osborne, according to testimony at his recent trial.

The case, which took a month to try, was prosecuted by Dep. Dist. Attys. Menzies and Penney, while Meadows was defended by Attorneys John S. Cooper and S. Sturisman.

ENNIS WRITES TOMORROW

Funeral services for Prof. Oliver H. Ennis, specialist in correction of speech defects, will be conducted tomorrow at 10 a.m. at Reed Brothers' chapel, 721 West Washington street. Cremation will be at the Inglewood Park Cemetery.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

IT WILL now be appropriate for the crooks and gangsters and criminals in Los Angeles to hold a grand festival of rejoicing.

The able and talented Police Commission has announced to the Chief of Police a policy which will tie up the cops—hand and foot—and make it impossible for them to function.

If the Chief is not to be allowed on his own initiative to send patrolmen to the aviation field to protect the arrival of the Zeppelin, it follows that he will not be allowed to do other necessary police work until first formally ordered by the Police Commission. I suppose every time there is a murder or a bank robbery the cops will have to wait for the next weekly meeting of the board for orders.

OUR PRIDE AND JOY

Apropos of nothing in particular, there comes to my mind a passage in Anthony Hope's "Prisoner of Zenda"—where old Col. Sapt says: "It is not the wicked people who do the harm in this world: it is the well-meaning fools."

SUPERMEN

Mrs. Annie Besant has picked the right spot whereby to found a colony in California for breeding supermen and women.

Meanwhile old Mother Nature will continue to produce an occasional superman on her own blundering responsibility; and they are quite as likely to be the janitors' sons as the finished product of the Besant colony.

Lincoln's pa probably had no idea he was spanking a superman when he turned up the appropriate portion of young Abraham's anatomy for chastisement. Supermen are like gold—where you find them.

HOW AWFULLY AWFUL

It would be an appalling experience to live in a colony populated by the fond parents of a new race of supermen and women. As for instance: "Excuse me Mrs. Pickles, but would you kindly seek to influence your superchild to kindly remove the distinguished tin can from my cat's tail—provided the vibrations for such deterrents are now in harmony with the eternal plan?"

SWEET PUBLICITY

Were it not for one thing, I should say that the trouble between Mrs. ex-Senator Poindexter and her peon cook would bring on a war between North and South America. Safety lies in the fact that Mrs. Poindexter (as experience has shown) will swoon with delight at getting her name back on the front page; and so the tense situation may pass.

Memorial Rites For Actor Today

Alec B. Francis, friend of the late Rudolph Valentino, will speak at the third memorial services, to be conducted for Valentino at noon today in the Hollywood Mausoleum.

Music will be played by a string trio. Signor Pietro Gladitore will sing the musical version of the Lord's Prayer from an arrangement by Josephine Forsyth Meyers.

S. George Ullman arranged the details of the services. According to Mr. Ullman, an announcement will be forthcoming soon in regard to the permanent public memorial for Valentino, which is being made possible by various Valentino memorial fund associations throughout the country.

POLICE BOARD BACK TRACKS

Commissioners Shift Into Reverse and Commend Chief Davis for Censured Zeppelin Plan

Chief of Police Davis's request for approval of tentative police precautions arranged for Mines Field during the presence of the vast crowd expected to view the Graf Zeppelin on its arrival early next week from Tokio, for which he was censured by President Thorpe and Commissioner Drake of the Police Commission, yesterday received unanimous approval of the commission at a special meeting.

The two commissioners on Tuesday took the Chief to task for proceeding with the arrangements without first consulting the board and informed him that a new era had dawned for the police department; that the commission intended to have something to do with everything connected with the department. The result was that the report of the Chief was not read in detail.

Yesterday, however, Thorpe explained he had called the special meeting for that purpose. He stated that he and the two other commissioners, Drake and Pierce, with Chief Davis, Deputy Chief Spellman and Traffic Chief Giord had visited the field and talked the matter over. He said the commissioners found that everything possible is being done for the protection of the crowds expected at the field.

GIVEN APPROVAL

Thorpe then asked for a reading of the Chief's report and urged a favorable vote on the request for approval of the police department's plans, as prepared by Deputy Chief Spellman and included in the report. He said that everything possible should be done to safeguard the public that is consistent with the policy of the city.

Drake made the motion of approval and was seconded by Pierce, without comment from either, and it carried.

Thorpe said that he had talked with Fire Chief Scott and that the latter had informed him that the long grass, where many thousands of automobiles will be parked during the visit of the airship, is a fire menace which might easily be set afire from cigarettes, cigars or other causes, and that he had arranged for a squad from the fire department to burn the grass off the property to be used for parking cars. This work, it is reported, started yesterday and will be completed before the arrival of the Zeppelin.

The policing arrangements for the field, as presented by Chief Davis, provide for the detailing of 601 officers and men in two shifts of twelve hours each during the en-

Trial of Alexander Pantages on Charge of Attacking Girl Set by Judge for September 23

HE MAKES PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Attorneys for Defense Get Month to Prepare

Theater Man to Face Court Following Wife

Accused Apparently Thinner and More Nervous

The trial of Alexander Pantages, millionaire showman charged with criminally attacking a young girl, will almost immediately follow that of his wife, Mrs. Lois Pantages, charged with murder and scheduled to go to trial before Superior Judge Hardy on September 3.

That was the court program practically agreed on last night between opposing attorneys after Presiding Judge Aggeler yesterday afternoon tentatively had set September 23 as the commencing date for trial of Pantages.

The date was set after the theater man had pleaded not guilty to both counts of a complaint charging he criminally assaulted Eunice Pringle, 17 years of age, in a room of the Pantages Theater Building on the 9th inst.

REASON FOR DELAY

After Pantages had pleaded, Dist.-Atty. Fitts addressed the court and declared that while his office wishes it understood that it wants Pantages brought to trial as early as possible, it manifestly would be unfair not to give Defense Attorneys Gilbert and Ford sufficient time in which to prepare their case. Fitts advised Judge Aggeler that he is cognizant of the fact that Ford and Gilbert also are defending Mrs. Pantages, and that Ford is attorney for still another client scheduled for trial in the early part of September, and voiced the opinion that these other defendants should not be deprived of the services of their attorneys by unduly hurrying the Pantages case.

Judge Aggeler first was inclined to set September 12 as the date of the trial, with the proviso that it might be continued through stipulation of attorneys, but decided on the later date when Ford and Gilbert estimated that it will take two weeks to try Mrs. Pantages and pleaded for a few days more in which to marshal their forces before beginning the trial of Pantages. They voiced the opinion that if September 23 were set that no continuances would be needed.

APPEARS NERVOUS

Pantages appeared somewhat thinner and more nervous when he appeared in court yesterday, but he spoke the words, "Not guilty," in a firm voice.

The court proceedings were practically the only developments in the case yesterday of any importance. Earlier in the day Attorney Ford visited the District Attorney and received a copy of the report made by three physicians who examined the Pringle girl on instructions from Municipal Judge Wilson, before whom Pantages appeared for preliminary hearing. The physicians' report was not made public.

While in Fitts's office Ford received a telephone call declaring that a woman who professed to have information relative to the Pantages case was in his office. Later in the day the attorney declared that the woman was in his office when he returned from the District Attorney's office and, after explaining that she once had lost a civil suit she had filed against Pantages, threatened to give Fitts certain information she purported to have if Pantages did not make a settlement now. Ford said he advised the woman to tell the District Attorney all she knows, but she did not appear at the Hall of Justice.

Motor Officer Ben Hunter, who first learned to ride on a horse in Cow Town, Tex., and now riding the Ridge Route watching for reckless drivers, was asked if the speeders gave him much trouble. He replied, "No, they are about all dead now, so my job is getting easier."

PEACE PLEA HAS PAINFUL CONCLUSION

One Woman Member of Club Taken to Hospital; Others Also Suffer

What was intended to be a meeting for the promotion of peace among warring factions of the Independent Ladies' Free Loan Society Wednesday night didn't turn out exactly as planned, it became known yesterday.

At least one of the peacemakers was confined to her bed last night as the result of injuries said to have been inflicted by her sister-members and another—at least one other—was under a physician's care for a similar reason. Neither was willing to discuss the hectic session, although denials were not forthcoming concerning the asserted battle. The meeting was held at 421 North Soto street.

Perhaps the most seriously injured was Mrs. Rae Silver, 31 years of age, of 413 Cornwell street, who was treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for contusions and abrasions on her face and body. Mrs. Silver was seeking to pacify leaders of hostile factions, she said, when a dispute arose as to the custody of the secretary's books and certain funds belonging to the society.

In the midst of the clamor an unidentified member is believed to have struck the peace advocate on the head with the books and she remembered no more until she reached the hospital where she was revived by police surgeons.

Mrs. Isaac Sprints, 2920 Winter street, asserted leader of the insurrent group, was reported under a doctor's care last night, and it was stated at her home that she had no statement to offer. Nor was Mrs. Jacob Kaplan, 3170 Wabash street, her chief aide, inclined to discuss what took place.

Whether Mrs. Silver was knocked down and trampled, as she charged, could not be determined because such witnesses as could be reached had nothing to say. Mrs. R. Polin, 235 South St. Louis street, president, could not be reached by telephone.

At the Silver home, a deep bass voice announced that there was no statement to be made.

YOUNG CUDAHY'S TRIAL STARTED

Drunk Driving Charge Faced as Crash Aftermath

Mother Emphatically Denies He Was Intoxicated

Police and Surgeon Assert He Appeared to Be

Michael Cudahy, scion of the wealthy meat packing family, went on trial yesterday before Superior Judge McComb on a carge of driving while intoxicated preferred against him in connection with an accident July 12, last, at Franklin and Argyle streets, Hollywood.

Strikingly attired in a wide-brimmed black hat and a black satin ensemble that swept downward to the tops of her black oxfords, Mrs. J. P. Cudahy, widow of Jack Cudahy and mother of the defendant, occupied the witness stand briefly toward the close of the afternoon session.

Her appearance in the courtroom caused a mild stir among the spectators as she made her way down the aisle to the witness chair. On the stand, Mrs. Cudahy was emphatic in declaring that her son was sober and had not taken any alcoholic drinks on the night of the accident.

EXAMINATION BRIEF

Her examination was brief and she was not subjected to any cross-examination by Deputy Dist.-Atty. Penney, prosecuting the case. Informed that she was no longer needed as a witness, Mrs. Cudahy volunteered: "There are some more things I would like to say," but the examination was not reopened.

Mrs. Cudahy was preceded by Charles R. Eldridge, Charles B. Chapman and F. W. Simmons, guests at her home with her son the evening preceding the accident. All testified to young Cudahy's sobriety and declared he gave no appearance of having partaken of any intoxicants.

Bob K. Watson, 1919 Argyle avenue, was another witness for the defense. He testified he arrived at the scene of the accident shortly after it occurred, talked to Cudahy and did not observe any signs of the latter being intoxicated.

OTHERS TO TESTIFY

Young Cudahy, his bride, Muriel Evans Cudahy, to whom he was married six days before the accident, and Tod Sloan, jockey, are expected to be among the remaining defense witnesses, who will be called today.

The State rested its case with the conclusion of the examination of Dr. C. A. McDonald, police surgeon who examined Cudahy after the accident; Charles B. Lang, owner of the automobile that figured with Cudahy's car in the crash, and James S. Martin and George W. Taylor, police officers who investigated the case. Dr. McDonald testified that young Cudahy's condition indicated he had been drinking, while the officers expressed the same opinion.

Cudahy, who is at liberty on bond, was constantly in the company of his bride during the time the case was not actually on trial. It is expected they will be closing defense witnesses today.

Cudahy is being represented by Attorneys Edward Davis and Richard Kittrells. In addition to serving as counsel for the youth, it is expected Davin, who was with Cudahy on the night of the accident, will appear as a defense witness today.

The case probably will go to the jury this afternoon.

TIME VERY SHORT

Deputy Chief Spellman, who was present at the meeting, dwelt on the fact that the time is very short in which to perfect arrangements for policing the field. This fact was seen by the commissioners after they looked over the situation yesterday and when they learned that numerous indignant protests from civic bodies and individuals had been received by the Mayor over the delay in authorizing the Chief to go ahead with his plans.

Whether the Mayor took any hand in inspiring yesterday's meeting and subsequent action was not revealed, but it is understood the meeting followed a conference between the Mayor and some of the commissioners.

SHERIFF'S MEN WILL HELP POLICE WITH CROWDS

Detailing 100 deputy sheriffs to work in crews of fifty on twelve-hour shifts, Frank Dewar, chief of Sheriff Traeger's criminal department, yesterday announced that every co-operation will be offered the Los Angeles police department in providing an adequate guard for the Graf Zeppelin when it reaches Mines Field.

The Sheriff's office guards will be commanded by Capt. John Neighbors, chief of the Vermont-avenue substation of the Sheriff's office. The men will assist in guarding the giant dirigible and in directing traffic at the municipal airport, the Sheriff announced.

Warrant Out for Producer

On motion of Deputy City Prosecutor Jack, Municipal Judge Bogue yesterday ordered forfeited the $100 bond of S. S. Millard, film and stage producer, and issued a bench warrant for his arrest following his failure to appear in answer to a labor-law claim of Arthur S. Wenzel, publicity agent.

In his complaint Wenzel charges Millard tendered him a note in payment of some publicity work in connection with the defendant's enterprises, and that the note is overdue and unpaid.

COUNTY TAXES WILL BE HIGHER

port for county motorcycle police. Failure of assessed valuation to increase as fast as county expenses did accounted for the rest.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN

The Board of Supervisors would have fixed a tax rate approximately 17 cents higher than they did if they had raised salaries and increased expenses at the rate proposed by heads of county office departments upon whose requests the budget was based.

Before completing the preliminary budget, as required by law, the Supervisors slashed $3,213,000 from expenses estimated by heads of departments. Then, during the ten days that the law provides for taxpayers to come to the Hall of Records and officially protest against the expenses proposed by the preliminary budget, the total expenses of the budget were slashed $1,569,520 more, although not one single taxpayer appeared to protest county expenditures.

COUNCIL TO PASS ON TAX RATE TODAY

The City Council yesterday received the scheduled tax rate for the present year from City Controller Myers and referred it to the Finance Committee, with the understanding that a special report of the committee, recommending its adoption, will be forthcoming today, along with the prescribed ordinance.

The tax rate for the old city, District No. 1, will be $1.83, a reduction of 16 cents from the $1.79 of last year. This is based upon an assessed valuation for the city of non-operative property of $1,876,277,195.

Coaster Rider Denied Balm for Fractured Nose

A broken nose is not worth $20,500. Under certain circumstances it is not worth anything. This was the decision of a jury listening to the damage suit in Judge Edmonds court yesterday where Mrs. Nell Guard was attempting to collect from the Venice Giant Dipper Company for asserted injuries suffered while riding on the defendant's roller coaster. After an hour and a half of deliberation the jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

The plaintiff asserted that on August 13, 1927, she and her husband, Kit Guard, a motion-picture cowboy, were riding on the Giant Dipper at Venice and that the car made a sudden stop, throwing her against the rail and breaking her nose. She asked for $20,500 damages.

Hoodlum Acts Peril Dancers

Tacks and chewing gum were thrown on the stage of the Egyptian Theater in Hollywood last night by a group of young men while a ballet was in progress, according to Hal Neides, manager of the theater, who captured a youth whom he turned over to Officers Maloney and Smith, who took him to the Hollywood station, where he was held on a charge of disturbing the peace. He gave his name as James N. Marshall, 20 years of age, of 7009 Sunset Boulevard.

It was only a matter of good fortune that none of the dancing girls suffered serious injury, Neides told the police. Several stumbled as they stepped on wads of chewing gum and one of the girls fell when tripped by gum as she was doing a pirouette, but she was unhurt by the fall.

BAY CITY BRIDGE PLANS DETAILED

J. B. Strauss Who'll Build it Visits Los Angeles

Project Equally as Great to Come Here, He Asserts

But Engineer-Inventor Won't Reveal What It's to Be

Los Angeles need experience no jealous pangs over the announcement that San Francisco's $30,000,000 Golden Gate bridge now is an assured fact, Joseph B. Strauss of Chicago, whose plans for the world's largest span have been accepted, declared at the Biltmore yesterday.

For a project, equally large, equally costly and equally important in California's development is under way for Los Angeles and complete plans for it will be announced soon, Mr. Strauss declared. Its measure and location are being kept strictly secret until all plans have been completed, he said.

"Perhaps you are to build a bridge to Santa Catalina Island?" he was asked.

"Heavens, no," the designer of many of the world's greatest bridges answered. "It is nothing like that. And it is infinitely more important to the development of Los Angeles than anything like that could possibly be. It is not amiss to say, however, that the project will cost as much as the Golden Gate bridge and will be as gigantic in its scale."

BRIDGE DISCUSSED

But Mr. Strauss was willing, even anxious, to talk about the San Francisco project that will place the world's largest single span across the Golden Gate. The directors of the Golden Gate bridge a few days ago named Mr. Strauss as chief engineer for the project. As consultants they named O. H. Ammann and Leon S. Moisseiff of New York. Work on the huge structure will begin soon after the voting of the $30,000,000 bond issue next spring, Mr. Strauss said.

The project, the dream of engineers for more than fifty years, always has been considered impossible because of the extreme length of span required to bridge the great gap between San Francisco and Sausalito, approximately two and one-half times greater than anything ever attempted before. The problem finally was solved by Mr. Strauss after eight years of work.

TREMENDOUS SPAN

The bridge will be nearly 8500 feet long, including approaches, and will have a single span of 4000 feet. The main towers will rise more than 800 feet in the air. The floor of the bridge, which will be ninety feet wide, will be 225 feet above the waters of the Golden Gate. More than 100,000 tons of steel and 122,000 cubic feet of concrete will be required in its construction, which will take almost five years, Mr. Strauss said.

The United States government has issued a preliminary permit for the project and has made a reservation that the bridge may be used by Federal forces in time of war.

Mr. Strauss is an engineer of international reputation. Aside from his connection with the Hudson River bridge, New York, second largest in the world, he now is building a $6,000,000, 1200-foot cantilever bridge over the Columbia River at Longview, Wash., the largest cantilever in the world.

MANY INVENTIONS

He is consulting engineer to the United States government for the bascule span of the Arlington Memorial bridge, now in construction at Washington. He is engineer for the Golden Gate bridge at Chicago, a traffic project, almost as big as the one toward construction at the San Francisco World Fair of 1939.

In addition to his bridge activities, Mr. Strauss is one of the inventor of the plane-to-plane barrier for railroad cars, the aerascope, a riding device introduced at the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915; the counterbalanced bascule principle in aircraft hangar doors; the counterbalanced car introduced during the World War and the development of searchlight equipment for the army during the war. He is the author of several books and articles dealing with bridge building and engineering problems.

RISING CHINA DESCRIBED

Dollar Line Official Paints Glowing Picture in Talk Before Group of Los Angeles Club

China is moving steadily to the formation of a stable government and if this country shows itself the friend of China the United States and particularly the Pacific Coast stand to benefit enormously in a trade way with that nation. This message was brought yesterday by Edgar M. Wilson of the Dollar Steamship Company, to a joint meeting of the Foreign Trade Club of Southern California, Los Angeles Transportation Club, Women's Traffic Club and the Rail and Water Club of the Alexandria.

Mr. Wilson, who recently returned from China, told of governmental conditions there and made an optimistic forecast concerning China's development. Governmental affairs, he said, are in the hands of alert and capable men and there is a well-defined and encouraging movement toward governmental unification, the stabilization and unity of the currency and the supplanting of sectional dialects with a common language.

China of today is a new country, said Mr. Wilson, with more businesslike methods. There has been much activity in road-building, and much more in that regard and in railroad construction and co-ordination is promised. There is a marked interest in aviation and radio. The time is coming when China will grant no more concessions but China will belong to the Chinese, Mr. Wilson declared.

From a military standpoint China, though possessed of an army organization made up of fighting men, is powerless, the nation has a tremendous man power, he stated.

Mr. Wilson intends to go to the Hague in September to attend an international radio conference as representative of the Dollar Steamship Company.

Col. Pablo Sidar of the Mexican Aviation Corps, who will soon be on a good-will flight to South America in a Los Angeles manufactured Douglas airplane, was introduced. His journey and the results expected from it were explained by P. A. Paganetto, Mexican consul here.

Tony's Cafe Suit Attorney Says No Law Exists

Prosecutor Has Witnesses Tell of Rum Sale

Judge Takes His Decision Under Submission

If a cafe is selling liquor the State can do about it is ... ment an abatement of the nu... ances by an injunction writ. It can padlock the place as under the Federal Act.

This was the argument of Attorney Ralph Graham at the close yesterday of the trial of the state ... brought by Dist.-Atty. ... Judge Finney brought by Dist.-Atty. ... Tony's cafe, 901 East First street, accused of maintaining a nuisance by dispensing intoxicating liquors.

INJUNCTION REMEDY

Attorney Graham, counsel for Tony Panich, owner of the cafe, conceded when making his closing comments in the case, that the only remedy the State has, if it has proved its case, that liquor is being sold at the cafe, is an injunction to order restraining the cafe owner from continuing a nuisance; that if the order is violated he is in contempt of court. He held that under the State law the restaurant cannot be padlocked.

"It is sought to padlock Tony's as the only way it can be done, according it is proved liquor was sold there, would be under the Federal statutes," Attorney Graham argued.

Tony Panich, proprietor of the establishment and the principal witness, testified on direct examination that he had given strict orders to his waiters that no liquor was to be sold in the cafe, also to warn customers who came in with it to drink in the place. Following the closing arguments of the attorneys late yesterday, Judge Finney took his decision under submission.

Mrs. Olliger previously had testified that after his wife's father had given $2,000,000 in a real estate deal, he, Olliger, was treated with disdain.

"I heard Mr. Haddock say I was just a big sap who would never amount to anything," Olliger said. The courtroom was filled with ... yesterday. Judge Lambert opened the session by overruling a motion to dismiss made by defendant's counsel.

Today's Bible Text

For what is the hope of the hypocrite, though he hath gained, when God taketh away his soul? Job xxvii:8.

STAYING QUALITIES

An Illinois woman piled up a record of 401 consecutive hours in a rocking chair, but a mark like this cannot last long. Give some of our hillmen something to whittle and they can outsit any woman that ever lived.

BIG BUSINESS

Now our esteemed financiers seem to be framing a batch of companies that seem to have no especial business except to traffic in each other's shares. It is a fine thing to have a corporation so big that you have to organize another one to hold its stock.

THE BIG MONEY

The internal revenue collections for the fiscal year practically touched the $3,000,000,000 mark, which is a mighty mass of money. But the joke is that Uncle Sam is spending it all and there are a lot of porch-climbers who would even try to touch him for more.

CASE OF SCOTCH

Citizens of Edinburgh recently had a notable holiday. It was the six hundredth anniversary of the granting of the city charter by King Robert Bruce. With characteristic Scotch hilarity most of the residents celebrated the day by taking a 6 o'clock breakfast of oatmeal and going to work.

THE POINT OF VIEW

There are a dozen countries and hundreds of pleasure beaches in the world where the sexes may not mingle on the sands. The girls in their bathing suits must go one way and the males another. They cannot romp together on the shore. What a roar would arise were any attempt made to enforce such a regulation on our own strands!

A DROP TOO MUCH

An elevator in the Senate Building at Washington fell through to the basement the other day, but no lives were lost. The funny thing is that neither Jim Watson nor any other of the Senatorial heavyweights was on board at the time. What made it fall? It seems that big loads of Congressional Records and copies of Senatorial speeches were being moved and this heavy stuff busted the moorings of the cage. No wonder.

COPS AND SPOOKS

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is reported as suggesting the use of clairvoyance in the detection of crime. In time every police department may have its soothsayer, hypnotist and medium. If Vera Ava can go into a trance and see things she may be able to interpret some of the more difficult passages of the criminal mind. Anyhow, the inventor of Sherlock Holmes would add deductions from the spirit world to his repertoire. Putting the cops en rapport with the spooks may be good medicine.

USES FOR GRAPES

Something like $10,000,000 in credits is provided under Federal auspices for the relief of the grape and raisin industry and in this connection a practical study is being made of the by-products of the vineyard. It seems that something besides sherry can be made from grapes. First thing we know Uncle Sam will be having us save the seeds to grind up into ambrosia. Anyhow, we could make bird shot of the seeds of the Muscats. One of the government experts makes a list of the possible grape products and they range from brandy to pants buttons.

NO LADY PIANO TUNERS

At the recent national convention of piano tuners it seemed to be the consensus of opinion that the life of a piano tuner was not for women. There are practically no skirts in the business, although it might be guessed that there is plenty of competency in the sex. However, it is claimed that women can neither listen nor concentrate as well as men. There may be something to this. It is admitted that it is the men who have to do the listening. Whether they concentrate while doing it is another question. But if this makes them good piano tuners there they are. But it seems funny to realize that a dame may be able to tame a massive lion and yet not be competent to tune a baby grand.

RUSSIA MAKES THREATS

Though a dense fog still envelops the situation on the boundary between Siberia and Manchuria, reports emanating from Moscow and from other points indicate that the soviet government may be about to invade that Chinese province without any real provocation. If such a thing occurs, it is plain that the soviet government will put itself in a very equivocal position, in view of its pledges under the Kellogg pact and its iteration since the difficulties over the Chinese Eastern Railway began, of its intention to respect those pledges.

The invasion, if reports are correct, is to be called a "punitive expedition" and not war, by one of those fine-spun distinctions which the soviet government is fond of making when they are to its advantage. It proposes the seizure of Harbin, capital of Manchuria, and its occupation until the railway question is settled on the basis of the Russian demand.

But invasion with armed forces is war, no matter what it is called, and if such a step is taken the soviet government will be called once more to the bar of world opinion and required to justify itz course.

There never was a question better adapted to be settled by peaceful arbitration than this one. The interpretation of a treaty and the determination of whether it has been violated, and if so, by whom, are alone involved. But there has been no offer to have the questions decided by an international commission.

It is true that each side accuses the other of acts of violence. These have been minor affairs, probably with equal blame on both sides, of a character easily overlooked or adjusted if there was a real desire for peace.

There is not sufficient data at hand for any outsider to judge the merits and demerits of the parties to the dispute and it is likely enough neither side could come into a court with entirely clean hands. Seizure of the Chinese Eastern—accounts differ as to whether it was done by Gen. Chang Hsueh-liang, overlord of Manchuria, or by orders from Nanking—was made for the asserted reason that soviet officials of all grades were busily spreading Communist propaganda in Manchuria, in violation of the treaties of 1924 in which the soviet government agreed to discontinue agitation. But there appears some ground for believing that this was not the real reason, but merely a convenient excuse. The facts could only be obtained to world satisfaction by an impartial inquiry and this has not been made.

Even a generation ago, before world opinion on the subject of war became as well crystallized as it is today, such a dispute would not have been regarded as an occasion for hostilities. Many questions of much greater moment have been submitted to arbitration.

It will, therefore, seem to most people, whatever may be said officially about it, that any nation which goes to war over such a question puts itself definitely in the wrong and is rather seeking a cause of quarrel than the avoidance of one.

To seek the avoidance of a quarrel, even by extreme measures, is the pledged duty of every signatory of the Kellogg pact. If Russia invades Manchuria, world sympathy will almost inevitably swing to China and in the long run the soviet government will be a loser of far more than it can hope to gain by force of arms.

It should be made costly for any nation to violate the Kellogg pact. This must not be treated as another "scrap of paper."

HIGH-SEA NUISANCES

Treating the gambling barges Monfalcone and Johanna Smith as menaces to navigation, since they cannot be raided as gambling houses, may seem like beating the devil around the stump, but is likely to be quite effective. That they are actually menaces to navigation, as bad, in a fog, as derelicts would be, and dangerous at other times because they fail to maintain proper watches, is the report of the Coast Guard and the report fully justified the Federal action taken against them.

There should be some sort of agreement between nations for the suppression of nuisances on the high seas, as well as for extension of the somewhat ridiculous three-mile limit, adopted in the days when the range of the average naval gun was not much farther than a strong seaman could throw a biscuit. But failing these improvements in international law such shift must be made as may be with the powers available.

There is no more reason why a gambling ship should be permitted on the high seas than a slave trader. It serves no legitimate purpose. But apparently there is no way of getting rid of it unless it also makes a hazard of itself by anchoring in steamer lanes. Fortunately there are plenty of steamer lanes, and if the gambling barges go where there are none they will cease to be accessible.

No rational being, of course, would expect to make any money bucking a game which must pay interest and a profit on the heavy capital investment and running expense that these gambling ships require, but they must be well patronized, nevertheless, or they would have no desire to keep going. But, of course, if gambling houses depended on the patronage of the rational they would all shut quickly.

FOREST FIREBUGS

Various insects are pestering the life out of us. The larvae of the fruit fly have blown up banks. The boll weevil has wormed its way into prices as well as cotton. The corn borer is trying to make holes in the Constitution.

But the insect that needs strictest watch is the firebug. He is one of the most insidious pests threatening the commonwealth. Forest fires are raging from Seattle to San Diego. Our mountains are flagged by smoke by day and look like volcanoes in eruption by night.

State Forester Pratt gives the dismaying information in a recent report that secret-service agents have obtained evidence that arsonists have been at work in many counties, chiefly in Northern and Central California, in the last few weeks and that they have been responsible for more than seventy-five forest, brush and grass fires. Mr. Pratt solicits the assistance of California magistrates in stamping out this epidemic of incendiarism. It is only by frequent arrests and heavy sentences of imprisonment that these fiends will be taught their lesson. The forest service should receive the aid of all law-abiding citizens, who should not fail to report every scrap of evidence coming under their observation in order that these villainous firebugs may receive the punishment they so richly deserve.

The Klamath National Forest near the Northern California line had twelve destructive blazes simultaneously. Klamath Falls is the center of great lumber interests and a rough gang of hangers-on infests it. Eldorado county has had eight "set" fires, Colusa county six, Mariposa ten, and there have been several each in Stanislaus, Fresno, Lake, Tehama and other counties.

Some forest fires are caused by pieces of glass acting as lenses. This list is not large and might be reduced materially by a trifle more care. Other fires are the products of passing trains. Sacramento Canyon is all but nude of trees. Engineers without spark arresters might be arrested.

The careless tourist and hunter is too numerous with his matches and stub ends. They need guardians. Penalizing every motorist for the few who are thoughtless, as was proposed in the last Legislature, is fool legislation. The law-abiding should not have to pay tribute. These careless should be smoked out.

The most despicable firebug is the villain bent on sabotage. A large proportion of our worst blazes are his creation. This traveling brood not only imperils the priceless big trees, but ruins our watersheds. Human life even to him is cheap.

The forest firebug is the foe of every californian. He should be mercilessly hunted down. Every man should constitute himself a deputy to report and help bring every suspicious tramp to account.

TWIN HORNS

Announcement comes that a Los Angeles police commissioner has installed two horns on his car: one for himself and one for the back-seat driver.

By the same logic there ought to be two steering-wheels also, as there are two "sticks" in student airplanes. What is missed by one driver could then be got by the other. Thus a wider swath could be cut down the street.

Two throttles might be installed. When something is seen approaching that needs stepping on, the gas can be given without a previous huddle. Each driver can speed up according to his whim and neither can accuse the other of loafing along.

Better still, why not two brakes? When either one of the heads of the house wants to put his foot down, it could then be done with swiftness and efficiency. A brake for every foot in the car might serve a still larger purpose. This would save considerable language. Nor could any after-accusations be made.

The versatile police commissioner has started something. Every motorist may now have a car in duplicate.

However, we devoutly hope that nobody will put in two carburetors with which to monkey, nor two gas tanks to fill!

BEAUTIES OF BOSSISM

Frank Gillmore, as head of Actors' Equity, was here for some time starting lawsuits and ordering a lot of actors out of their jobs, but it is safe to assume that his own salary went merrily on. That seems to be the great weakness of the unions: The men who stir up the trouble don't lose thereby. This is dead wrong. Theirs should be one of the great hazards of the campaign. Even a major-general can lose his life in battle, but these bosses do not even lose a night's rest.

THE CATERPILLAR

By James J. Montague

The caterpillar is replete,
Not to exaggerate, with feet.

He also brightly is arrayed
In furs of many a brilliant shade.

And through the summer lolls at ease
In tents he hangs in orchard trees,

From which he fares to strip them clean
Of all their robes of leafy green.

If all the fairy tales were true—
If for the evil that we do

We paid in pangs of woe and pain
Or were incontinently slain,

The caterpillar would not be
Upon this earth with you and me

But would have been destroyed betimes
For all his predatory crimes.

Instead he regally is dressed,
His viands are the very best

And while we perish in the strife
He leads a calm and placid life.

Which shows, and you'll perhaps agree,
That things ain't as they ought to be.

The LEE SIDE O' LA

By Lee Shippey

WHEN Norman St. Clair found his way through the canyon to Laguna Beach twenty-five years ago and built a cabin there which he called the Paint Box—St. Clair being a painter—he started something. Artists have been going there ever since, and many world-famous painters have worked there, so that the scenery of Laguna hangs framed on many a wall in Eastern America and a good many foreign countries. St. Clair went there to get away from the world, and soon all of the world that counted, for him, was crowding in on him. But at that time he never expected to see the homes of more than a dozen neighbors from his cabin site and was inspired solely by the unspoiled beauty of rugged beach before and rugged hills behind, and a pass Leonidas might have held, all framing a skyscape of baby blue and dreamily drifting white.

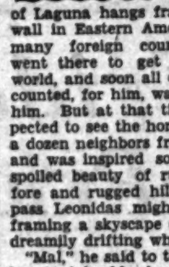
"Mal," he said to the bunch of bare legs and freckles beside him, "we can see a fortune of views from our own doorstep here. Beauty will drift and surge and flash into our minds all day and flow on in our dreams at night—and all for nothing."

"Yeah," agreed the kid, who then didn't know he was doomed to become a motion-picture director, "and look at all the swell fishin' and swimmin' I can get in those purty little coves without paying a dime."

The St. Clairs are of Scotch descent.

Enter Gardner Symons, N. A.

It was Gardner Symons, N. A., who really made Laguna, though. Symons not only grew enthusiastic over the picturesque beauties of Laguna, but invited other artists there. Elmer Schofield, R. A., a noted English painter, was one who frequently visited Symons there; William Wendt, A. N. A., Anna A. Hills, Nicholai Fechin, Robert Vannah, N. A., Antony Anderson and Carl Yens are among the more notable members of its artists' association, and twenty-five artists of note, it is claimed, live there. Workers in other artistic lines are fond of its atmosphere and Julia Bracken Wendt, sculptor; James Willard Schultz, declared by Brander Matthews to be our greatest Indian story writer; Stephen Chalmers, novelist; Ernest Paynter, who has won short-story contest prizes; Lillian Sutton Palee, who writes for children; S. S. Van Dine (William Huntington Wright,) the mystery story man; Marshall Stedman, poet, and many others have summer homes there and many of them live there the year around.



Local Talent With Broadway Experience

In fact, when you are introduced to a stranger in Laguna your first mental question is, Does he paint, write or act? There are so many actors there that the Laguna Community Players put on really notable shows. The last three nights of August they will present "Kempy," and if you want to catch the atmosphere of Laguna you should go there then. George Dunham, who was assistant director of the Pilgrimage Play, is the director and the cast may include names which in years past have lured crowds to Broadway theaters.

Where Art Invades All

Adele Ritchie (Mrs. Guy Bates Post) is one of those who have helped much in creating Laguna's atmosphere. William W. Riddell, who owns the Casa del Camino, used to be president of the Palette and Easel Club in Chicago. Robert Messinger, who landed there as a cobbler, seeking shoes to repair, has appeared as concert soloist with Walter Damrosch and in famous orchestras in Dresden, Berlin and other European cities. And be it to Laguna's everlasting credit that when it was discovered who he was he was not high-hatted, but helped. Editor and Mrs. Hal Forrest of the Laguna Times both used to be on the professional stage. Even the Chamber of Commerce in Laguna has an artistic rather than a go-gettum atmosphere. Frank W. Cuprien, who designed the building, is the man who painted the picture over the fireplace in Wrigley's home on Catalina Island, a picture in which one looks out from Laguna toward the sunset and sees the island taking its evening bath of gold. Cuprien also is vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce!

A Lawmaking C. of C.

That Chamber of Commerce, by the way, is the only one we know of which ever made and enforced laws. Until two years ago, Laguna was not an incorporated city, yet was growing so rapidly that laws were necessary. Without laws, some one might even have opened a new subdivision with straight streets in it or done some equally unthinkable thing. So the citizens agreed that the Chamber of Commerce should be its law-giving body and its officers virtually were mayor, tax assessor and police judge, its members the city council. And it worked. That was one city administration in which no charge of graft was ever made.

"A Primrose by the River's Brim"

And yet, strange to say, many people who merely drive through Laguna come back saying: "It's a funny little town, with crookedy streets, and one man there has a house built like a ship!"

FOOL LAWS

By William Hamilton Cline

California now has a law regulating the shape of pears. The city of Los Angeles has a statute prohibiting the shooting of jack rabbits from the platforms of street cars. These are good; but why stop there? Let's have laws

Making it a misdemeanor to read aloud any title or subtitle from any film in any theater.

Forbidding the sale or donning of felt hats during the heat of September, regardless of the 13th day thereof.

Designating a permanent "silhouette" or shape for women, not to be changed oftener than once a decade.

Prohibiting any thermometer to show a temperature higher than 80 in the shade, and providing the shade therefor.

Declaring back-seat driving to be a felony, and slaying therefor to be justifiable homicide per se and ipse dixit.

Licensing "gold diggers" and fixing a percentage of their results to escheat to the State.

Requiring all feminine bare-leggers to varnish their lower limbs, in the cause of beauty generally.

Demanding that mocking birds sing only during daylight hours—except where sleepers then woo Morpheus—and creating a commission to carry out this edict.

Compelling all new pavements to be cut open within a week by some public utility company, preferably a city-owned one. Some now go a fortnight without disturbance; a scandalous condition.

Excluding all adenoid tenors and crack-voiced sopranos from radio broadcasting and requiring announcers to learn correct English.

Requiring all elected officers to give bond in advance that they will carry out pre-election pledges or resign.

Making it a felony to ask: "Is it hot enough for you?" or to speak of our weather as "unusual."

Sending facsimile letters to a married man, signed "Bella," which are processed ads, but the wife doesn't know it—to draw ten years to life, and an adequate explanation from the sender thereof.

Prohibiting any jealousy of, or sneers at, Los Angeles by San Francisco or points north.

Making the teaching of "Whoopee" a regular part of the course at the State universities, instead of optional, as now.

Ordering that all traffic signals shall read "go" to any autoist approaching them from any direction at any time.

Muzzling all hot dogs as well as four-footed canines.

Providing that tips shall be paid to, not taken from, all who dine, check hats or ride in Pullmans.

Ordering that all knobby knees shall be kept from public gaze by skirts or other devices long, heavy and all-concealing.

NASTURTIUMS

California roses are gorgeous; California poppies, flinging their gold over the hills, are breath-taking. Spicy carnations and stately lilies bring a vision of beauty—but I rise to sing the sturdy nasturtium. Amateur gardener that I am, my work takes me under studio lights most of the time, and there perfect posies in all their glory are set out to be photographed, in gorgeous arrangement and profusion in drawing-room scenes, in simple picturesqueness in quiet country scenes. But on the day off, in my own back yard, it's ho for the gay, insouciant nasturtiums clambering over the summerhouse. Solid gold, their broad, round faces staring at one, the sturdy blossoms bring to mind the story of Clytie and in orange and crimson and lemon yellow, the other winsome little posies twine around one's memory just as they twine around the supporting strings set for their ascent. Their flat, cool leaves, their delicate, graceful stems, their spicy fragrance twine in one's memory. Grateful for the slightest care, they repay one a thousandfold by their blooming, and, like the poet's daffodils, have a way of flashing on that inward eye at gloomy times with refreshing presence for which we make public acknowledgment.

W. B. J.

RAIMENT

Blessings on thee, little girl,
Painted cheeks and hair in curl,
With thy legs nude to the knees,
Gaily breasting every breeze.
Thy two arms sleeveless and bare,
Throat wide open to the air,
Shoes with nothing but a heel
And some paper for a keel.
All the rest of frill and flounce
Weighing just about an ounce.
Swimming, sailing, jazzing, too,
Underneath the skies of blue;
In the sunshine all thy days,
Drinking vigor from his rays.
No small wonder that you can Cope successfully with man—
Man, the "shrinking violet,"
Who has never, never yet
Had the courage to discard
Clothing by the pound and yard,
And skip boldly o'er the land,
Singing, "Gee, ain't nature grand."

Fancy Coiffure for the Men

Some queer customs of hair dressing are practiced among the natives of the Micronesian and Polynesian islands in the South Pacific. In both the Society Islands and the Marquesas women bobbed their hair, while men arranged theirs in fantastic ways. Sometimes the men would have half of their hair shaved off completely, the other left long; sometimes they would have a path shaved down the center with hair on both sides gathered into knots, and sometimes they would have it plaited into a broad tail.

Prohibition in Arizona

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Aug. 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I want to congratulate Mrs. Willebrant for writing and you for publishing the series of articles on law enforcement. This country could be made bone dry before 1930 if honest men and women everywhere would get behind the Volstead and Jones acts and give them wholehearted support.

Three years ago when I became attorney for this city I found by observation and a report of the grand jury that a sort of licensing had been going on in the city by accepting monthly fines. Even four years ago drunks were plentiful here during celebrations. Bootleggers were plentiful all the time. During Frontiers' days each July from one to several murders were committed. The present administration was elected on the theory that conditions would be improved. One of the first things I did was to prepare a rather far-reaching ordinance similar to the Volstead law and also adopting the Volstead law in so far as the city had jurisdiction. The Chief of Police, the police judge and myself offered a helping hand to State and Federal authorities and at the same time filled Prescott's jail with bootleggers and the city coffers with fines. Conditions have improved here until a drunken man is "somebody come." Everybody runs out to see what he looks like. The Frontiers' Days last month was attended from all parts of the country to such an extent that Prescott was crowded out. There were fewer drunks than ever and not one serious crime was committed. No one was killed—not even shot at.

If the Jones law had made the purchaser of bootleg whisky a particeps criminis with the seller conditions would improve still faster.

J. ANDREW WEST,
City Attorney.

Agrees With "The Times"

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This is just a line of appreciation for the splendid work of your paper along the two lines of open shop and prohibition. Tens of thousands of people are with you.

I sincerely hope the articles of Mrs. Willebrandt which you are publishing may be put in pamphlet form and made available for distribution by the W.C.T.U. and church temperance agencies and that especially a copy of same may be placed in the hands of the commission appointed by President Hoover for the study of the prohibition question and law enforcement.

Chicago and Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Certainly Los Angeles is a wonderful city. Everybody seems to be happy and absorbed in the effort to make it the most glorious city on the globe.

When one gay Sunday morning I arrived here from the gloomy city of Chicago I had a sensation of being transferred from hell to heaven. My joy of life and happiness almost overboiled. That Sunday I will never forget in my life. I had found the promised land where all my dreams will become real.

Full of hope and ambition I started out next morning to find a job. After tramping the industrial districts for one week I became convinced that one must have the ability of a high-pressure salesman to land a humble job. Competition is so keen that a man who cannot push others more in need aside is almost lost.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

China Painting?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

At the coming fairs in this State there will be on exhibition some of the work done by students in the china painting class at the Polytechnic Evening High School, 400 West Washington Boulevard. This work will include etched dinner sets, enamel incense jars, vases and flower bowls.

Instruction in this class is free. It meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock. It is advisable to register the first evening, as this is the only free china painting class in the city and there is often a waiting list.

The teacher of the class is E. Westphal of the E. Westphal Art Company, who has taken several first premiums at the Sacramento Fair in past years.

Ability to earn money by china painting depends on the originality, talent and skill of the painter; but most students, from the first, paint acceptable small pieces for themselves and their friends by choosing simple designs.

Moroccan Table Manners

Knives and forks are not necessary to eat couscous, the staple viand of the Moroccan meal. Couscous is made with flour and meat and vegetables. It is served in a big pot. Everyone sticks in his hand and brings forth his portion in three fingers. To use four fingers or two fingers is extremely bad manners.

PEN POINTS

Teacher's pet: An apostrophe now is endless.

Harvard has lost two directors and suspicion naturally is on the same well-known locality that got her goat.

Even a short vacation is worthwhile. You don't mind being at home after the dimes at a resort boarding-house.

Airplanes find it easy across the Atlantic from Europe to America. And cash may have the same experience.

Another objection to talkies is that you can't tell just what the queen you says she said to him said to her.

Why have life-savers at the beach? They all end up when they know some person is proposing.

The Bible tells about an Asiatic monarch who changed his mind and ate grass, but don't tell why it was called quits.

Americanism: Teaching men to think and act independently, thinking a man a fool, and publicity bound if he does something unusual.

Dumb animals have no end of trouble as men. Their trouble seems less because they don't bother them until it passes.

When you must choose between two evils, tell your wife to go ahead and buy the car then.

The shortage of money and fish stories may be due to the fact that our native tendency is amply exercised by certain Federal agents.

How the world speeds up! A German Bremen reached Boston in less than a week a little while ago it took Columbus three years to make the many.

It may be all right to be building cruisers. But it will help even more to put battleship suspicion until the conference is held.

They should be reading Pope's works, but wholesome stuff like that sort irks the modern youthful mind; the boys read of their tales of gore, and they're reading more and more of the worst stuff they can get. Oh, how can educators see that they'll be wise and act correct when they are six feet high? How can we hope to attain a place among the sane and sane, when years go by? ing by?" And yet the gray beards when they were young down the years in safety daya, can well recall the days of daring deeds of Buffalo they used to read with their thrills behind their barns. And they were Deadwood Dick who made enemies feel sick when he produced his gun; he was a messenger of wrath that left his lethal path pale corpses on tons. And Diamond Collier, too, the finest of that ever drew his whiskers on; and other dime dim and gray, who dipped butchered day by day with the dawn. The present used to read such trash and they weep and rue when they behold the hall gayly covered books criminals and cads, dopers all their dads.

RITTENHOUSE TELLS OF FEES

Admits Failure to Obtain License for Stands

Pays Up $410 Since Demand for Resignation

Recreation Pool Drowning Made Subject of Report

Admitting he had not paid business fees for operating umbrella stands on private beaches, E. M. Rittenhouse, playground and recreation commissioner, yesterday asserted that he never had tried to evade the city ordinance in that connection. He stated that he and his fellow-commissioners had brought the subject up in their meetings for his resignation last week. He has paid $410 to the City Clerk, the full amount of the fees for the current year, on eight stands on private land.

For the stands at six street-ends on the Venice beach, for which he had a franchise from the old city of Venice before annexation, he paid $600 annually for the first five years and $1100 annually for the next five years, he stated yesterday as he showed receipts for the payments.

RITTENHOUSE EXPLAINS

"I had no knowledge until a few days ago," said Rittenhouse, "that the license ordinance had been changed in 1929 to include the class of business in which I am engaged. Prior to 1929 I made several visits to the City Clerk's office and to the County Clerk's quarters asking if it was necessary for me to have a license to operate stands on private beach. I was emphatically told I did not. On one occasion a collector came around and said I must require a license. I informed him of what the clerk had told me and we both visited the latter, who informed the collector that he was all wrong. Until this matter was brought up by the commission I did not know that I had to get a license to rent beach umbrellas on private property."

Rittenhouse made his statement during the session of the Playground and Recreation Commission, which did not renew the request for his resignation, which is a matter which may be acted on by the Mayor and City Council.

DROWNING REPORT

Mrs. F. O. McCulloch, who had investigated four drownings in city parks this year, turned in a report in which she stated that no blame could be attached to pool directors or lifeguards. She pointed out that they were the first fatalities during almost 2,000,000 persons used the pools in ten years.

In approving the report Commissioners Weaver, Carter and McCulloch voted favorably. Commissioner Rittenhouse voted against. Commissioner Haight declined to vote.

Goat Hunts With the Dogs

The dog is the only domesticated animal of the Labrador coast. Settlers have tried pigs, but the dogs find them an irresistible meal, hence they invariably get short shrift. Sheep fare equally bad. The wily goat has, however, in some instances been known to resolve assailant on his horns and, until at length he has been left severely alone, and even allowed in time to join the pack and partake in their food-hunting expeditions.

TERRIER TRIES AIR-DALE ROLE

Parachuteless Pup Performs Plunge

ONE of the first things a cub reporter learns is that "if a dog bites a man, that's not news, but if a man bites a dog, that is news." He's never taught, however, that there is news in it if a dog jumps off the roof of an apartment-house—and lives.

That's why reporters flocked yesterday to the Ambassador Cat and Dog Hospital to interview Pal o' Mine, Eddie Chase's little wire-haired terrier. For Pal o' Mine took a three-story dive—and lived.

Chase took Pal o' Mine to the roof at 520 South Serrano street Wednesday night to look at the moon and get a breath of air. A moment later he went below, leaving the terrier on the roof. And whether Pal o' Mine spotted a cat on a neighboring roof or merely decided to take the shortest cut to rejoin his master will never be known. The fact is that, missing him on returning to the roof, Chase found him, stunned, on the concrete driveway three stories down.

Dog Has His Day of Fame

Above—Where Pal o' Mine took a three-story drop. Below—Canine, unbroken but considerably shaken, under care of Dr. McKenna.

Dr. McKenna said yesterday Pal o' Mine will be none the worse for his experience.

BADGERS PICNIC TOMORROW

Frank H. True, president of the Wisconsin Society, yesterday issued the final call to all former residents of the Badger State to attend the picnic and reunion of the society tomorrow at Sycamore Grove Park. County registers will be thrown open early in the morning and a program of song and oratory will follow the luncheon hour.

Westlake Trial Again Delayed

Trial of Dr. Frank P. Westlake, 57-year-old retired physician charged with the murder of Mrs. Laura B. Sutton, his reputed sweetheart, yesterday was continued by Superior Judge Wood to today because counsel for Dr. Westlake still is engaged in another trial.

The former physician was arrested on the murder charge following the identification of a torso found in the Los Angeles River last May as that of Mrs. Sutton.

NEWPORT CASE NEARING JURY

Arguments Begun as Last Witness Concludes

Attorneys Expected to Finish Today

Attempting to Influence Official Charged

Testimony in the trial of F. P. Newport, Los Angeles real-estate developer, and Robert D. Clarke, former Municipal Court Clerk, accused of attempting to influence a public official, was finished yesterday in Superior Judge Doran's court.

E. J. Dennison, representing the District Attorney's office, made the opening argument, demanding conviction of the two defendants charging that Newport and Clarke attempted to influence Municipal Judge Stafford to rescind a decision he had made against Newport in a $1,000,000 civil suit.

The first to speak for the defendants was William T. Kendrick, Jr., representing Clarke. Attorney Kendrick argued that the evidence is insufficient to warrant conviction of either defendant.

Le Compte Davis, who with William Neblett represents Newport, is expected to close the defense argument today after Kendrick finishes.

It is believed that the case will be submitted to the jury late this afternoon.

The jury already has been instructed to return a verdict of not guilty on the first charge in the indictment against the two men which accused them of conspiring to offer a bribe of $50,000 to Judge Stafford. The second, and only remaining charge, accuses them of attempting to influence a public official.

Patronage Quiz Committee Will Meet Monday

The Senate Patronage Investigating Committee was called today by Chairman Brookhart to reconvene here Monday for the consideration of additional evidence touching conditions in the Southern States.

Senator Brookhart said the evidence pertains principally to Texas, where the committee conducted a hearing early in the summer, but he declined to discuss its nature.

Fred Strang, Fort Worth (Tex.) oil operator, conferred today with Senator Brookhart and was promised a hearing. Strang has documents which he said will support charges of conspiracy and fraud in Texas involving receiverships.

PARRISH TO BE SPEAKER

Health Officer Parrish is announced to speak next Monday at the weekly luncheon of the Federation of State Societies in the Leighton Cafeteria, 542 South Broadway. Col F. M. Rublee, president, states that Dr. Parrish will answer questions on city health topics by luncheoners. It was announced also that there will be no luncheon meeting Labor Day.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Miss Henriette Mayre Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Carson of 1689 West Adams street, and a descendant of the distinguished Domingues family, owners of one of the early California land grants, became the bride last evening of Ernest Russell Werdin, Jr., son of former Street Superintendent E. R. Werdin, at a lovely garden wedding in the estate of her great-uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Gregorio del Amo, 1119 Westchester Place. Father J. P. Burke read the ceremony in the presence of 200 friends and relatives.

The bride, who is also a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Carson of the San Pedro Rancho, where she was born, and a great-niece of Mrs. John P. Francis of 905 South Bonnie Brae, made a charming picture in her gown of white satin, with which she wore a long tulle veil embroidered with pearls, caught into a dainty pearl-trimmed cap, and carried a shower of valley lilies and gardenias. Her matron of honor was Mrs. Burtran Yarnell, Jr., and Miss Victoria Cotton was the maid of honor, while other attendants included Mrs. Nicholas Harrison (Virginia Seeley,) Mrs. Frank Norris (Patricia Carr) and Miss Houston Jones. They wore two-shaded tulle in orchid, with matching hats, and carried long sheafs of dahlias and harmonizing garden flowers.

Mr. Werdin chose for his best man his college chum, Ora Kittle, and as ushers Burtran Yarnell, Jr., Lionel Ogden, Byron Kissinger and Frank Meunier. A reception and wedding supper followed in the gardens, with Mrs. Carson assisting in receiving the guests in a gown of wistaria and matching chiffon velvet coat.

Mr. and Mrs. Werdin, Jr., are sailing for a Honolulu honeymoon, after which they will return to make their home in Los Angeles. The bride was graduated from the Marlborough School for Girls, and attended Bishop School at La Jolla and the National Park Seminary in Washington, D. C. Mr. Werdin after attending Culver Military Academy in Indiana was a student at the University of Southern California, and a Theta Psi member.

Interesting Engagement

The engagement of Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. LeRoy Burns Smith of Berkeley, to Edwin Russell Chandler, son of Judge Whitney Chandler of 224 South June street, was formally announced Monday afternoon during a tea given at her home in Berkeley by Mrs. Edward Landels. Miss Smith and Mr. Chandler became acquainted while attending the University of California, where the former is a member of the Delta Gamma Sorority, and the wedding is planned as an early October event in the northern city. They will reside in Los Angeles.

Eastern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Bergin (Catherine Fredericks) of 408 South Mansfield avenue left Wednesday for an extended trip east, via Vancouver, B. C., and the Canadian Rockies. After passing some time in Chicago and Detroit they will visit Boston, Mr. Bergin's old home, later journeying on to New York, where both have many friends. They will return to Los Angeles some time in October, first renewing acquaintances in Philadelphia, Atlantic City and Washington, D. C.

Miss Kells Honored

A bride-elect of great popularity whose days are being filled with the ever-delightful round of prenuptial affairs before her wedding of September 12, next, is Miss Maxine Kells, fiancee of Garratt Bradford Smith. Honoring her recently was Mrs. Vivian Eugene Chase of 365 North Ridgewood Place, whose Beverly Glen Canyon summer home was the setting for a kitchen shower and tea, to which friends of Miss Kells and of Mrs. Herbert Ross Kells were bidden.

In attendance were Mrs. John Law Hodge, Mrs. Eleanor Lamb Rogers, Mrs. Lucile Harvey, Mrs. Lewis Restrepo, Mrs. C. W. Grant, Mrs. Raymond Wilson, Mrs. Lloyd Harris, Mrs. David Elliott (Mildred Young,) Mrs. Ernest Becker, Miss Eleanor Donan, Miss Kathryn Wright, Miss Margaret Harvey and Miss Kathleen Nolan.

WYMAN'S ANSWERS SWEET SOURIS

L. Arcadia, Cal.: Thank you for your letter and I am glad to know that I have been of help to you in any way, always feel free to write me. It is just such letters that give anyone in my position the desire to do our best in answering to your directions.

For covering the bottom of butter pans I like to keep any paper lying in case I am getting in and salt or to keep down the odors of anything else in the box, such as cheese, or anything of that kind.

For a cupful of gelatin, one-half a cupful of cold water, one cupful of boiling water, two cupfuls of heavy cream, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one teaspoonful of raspberry juice, one-half a teaspoonful of salt. Soak the gelatin in cold water for five minutes, then dissolve in the boiling water and strain. Beat the cream until stiff, add to it the dissolved gelatin, and the remaining ingredients. One-half a cupful of orange may be used in this, and place the mixture in the ice box to chill.

Any manner is made in exactly the same way. In the winter when berries are not in season, canned berries may be used, and one more cup of water in place of the raspberry juice used, a few drops of red coloring and the jam folded in in place of using the whole berries.

BLITZEN CAKE

L. G. Benson, Artz.: One-half a cupful of butter, one-half a cupful of sugar, the yolks of four eggs, three tablespoonfuls of milk, one cupful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, cream the butter and the sugar, beat the egg yolks until light and creamy, and add them to the sugar and butter, sift the flour and baking powder, and add it alternately with the milk to the other mixture, oil and flour a long cake tin and spread the mixture in the pan; spread the frosting given below over the unbaked cake mixture, dredge the top of the frosting with a mixture of sugar and cinnamon and bake for about thirty minutes in a medium oven.

FROSTING FOR BLITZEN CAKE

The whites of four eggs, three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, one-half a cupful of blanched and finely chopped almonds, one tablespoonful of sugar, one-half a teaspoonful of cinnamon, beat the whites of the eggs until stiff, gradually beat into them the two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, fold in the almonds, and spread this mixture on top of the uncooked cake, dredge with the cinnamon and sugar.

SPICED ORANGES IN GRENADINE SYRUP

W. S., Los Angeles, Cal.: The only thing you can do in regard to the grenadine syrup this time of the year is to buy it already bottled. Grenadine syrup is made from the juice of pomegranates and sugar. The oranges must be of a small, even size and should be put up in tall, wide-mouthed jars. The Valencia orange is usually used and a very small piece of the stem end is cut off, the orange is pricked in two or three places so as to allow the syrup to enter and color them. The spices are put in a bag and the oranges placed in the syrup with the spice bag, and allowed to simmer slowly for several hours or until the skins are tender. I do not know how many you would wish to put up, so am not giving you exact amounts. The oranges are placed in a jar, the syrup boiled down until thick, poured over them, and sealed while hot. If you will write me again, telling me how many you would like to put up will be glad to give you more explicit directions.

SEEDLESS GRAPE CONSERVE

K. M. D., Los Angeles, Cal.: Take three pounds of seedless grapes, remove from the stems and wash, place them in a sauce pan and add one cupful of water, allow to cook until the juice begins to run, rub them through a sieve or coarse strainer, add to the pulp two cupfuls of sugar, the grated rind of one orange, the juice of two oranges, and two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one cupful of seedless raisins, return to the sauce pan and simmer slowly until thick. Remove from the fire, add three-quarters of a cupful of finely chopped walnut meats, return to the fire and cook slowly for three minutes. Place in sterilized jars and seal at once.

BAKED CABBAGE

G. M. P., Glendale, Cal.: Take one small head of cabbage, remove the outer leaves and cut into quarters, cut out the cores and cover with boiling water and allow to cook slowly until the cabbage is tender, drain well, and lay the quarters cut side up in a baking dish, make a sauce with one cupful of milk, cream together three tablespoonfuls of butter and three tablespoonfuls of flour, pour the scalded milk over this and allow to cook until thick, place in a saute pan one tablespoonful of butter, add to it one-half of a finely chopped onion, one-half a finely chopped green pepper, and allow to cook until the vegetables are tender, add them to the cream sauce, season the sauce with salt, white pepper, and one-fourth of a cupful of finely grated cheese. Pour this sauce over the cabbage, sprinkle with chopped parsley, grated cheese and bread crumbs, place in the oven and bake for fifteen or twenty minutes.

MOUSSE IN JELLY

Cream three tablespoonfuls of butter and add to it one-quarter of a pound of cold boiled ham that has been put through the fine knife of the meat grinder, add half a pound of calve's liver that has been cooked and ground, a half a teaspoonful of salt, a few grains of cayenne pepper, one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, and half a cupful of whipped cream, measure and add half as much Aspic jelly to the mixture, fill individual molds half full of the meat mixture, allow to set until solid, then add a layer of plain aspic and continue until the molds are full. Chill thoroughly, serve on individual plates that have been garnished with lettuce, slices of tomato and ripe olives.

Bandit Suspect Seized in North for Police Here

Wanted here for complicity in the robbery of a collector for the Associated Ice Distributors, Harry Brody, alias Jack Richardson, was arrested in San Francisco yesterday, according to a telegram received at police headquarters. Photographs of Brody were identified by Edward Dawson, collector for the ice company, who was held up and robbed of approximately $2500 in cash at Sixth and Willow streets on the 8th inst., according to police. A second man, said to have taken part in the hold-up, still is at large.

Brody's police record dates from March 23, 1923, when he was arrested on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He has been in the custody of local police on Wright Act and vagrancy charges, and is wanted by Los Angeles county authorities for violation of probation.

The prisoner, whose arrest was effected by San Francisco police after a chase through crowds gathered to watch a street parade, will be returned here today, according to Detective Captain Canto.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb-sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, services of nurses, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, stripes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

HOT WEATHER AND CONVULSIONS

It is unusual for the mother of several children to escape an experience with convulsions, for they are one of the common phenomena of childhood. Causes of convulsions are teething, and an unwise indulgence in indigestible foods, or just too much food, complicated by hot weather.

The coming of teeth usually destroys the child's appetite temporarily. Their irritation makes him cross, and mother is inclined to squelch her compunctions about food and let him have a taste of this or that against her better judgment. But her wits depart when the baby develops a fever, begins to stare fixedly and then to twitch, and she is helpless to act in the emergency. She must familiarize herself with the proper procedure, so that she may not be unprepared when the moment of necessity arrives.

Convulsions are seldom fatal, especially convulsions due to indiscretions of diet. To be sure they are terrifying, but the convulsions which end in death have far more serious causes behind them than just an overindulgence in food. The tiny baby, of convulsive temperament, may have a spasm with each tooth, and in that case the mother must be armed for the emergency and on the guard against fever.

First of all, we must try to reduce the fever that is causing the convulsive movements of every muscle. To do this, the blood must be drawn from the overworked heart and brought to the surface of the skin. Plunging the child into a bath of hot water is an old and effective remedy, but unless the child is covered by the water it is ineffectual, and plenty of hot water is not always available. Better heat a smaller amount more hurriedly and dip towels into this and wrap them about the child, covering him entirely with a dry blanket to hold in the heat. Then a cold towel is put on the child's head and he is left quiet for five or ten minues to allow the hot water to take effect. One teaspoonful of dry mustard rubbed smooth in water and added to one quart of water will make the action of the water more rapid. Plunge the mother's elbow far into the water to be sure it is not too hot, for in a moment of distraction it is very easy to burn an unconscious child.

When the convulsions have ceased, an enema can be given and a mild laxative so that the intestines will be rid of any irritating matter. If the child is subject to convulsions, the doctor should advise some sedative to be given, or some remedy for reducing fever which can be given in time to prevent the fever from rising to the point where convulsions would result.

Keep the child quiet and in bed, and cut down his diet. Let some one else call the doctor while the child is being cared for.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

THE DOMINEERING ONE

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

She wants to rule everybody and everything. She snatches the work from other children's hands that she may show them how to do what they were doing.

She harries her young brother to distraction, telling him to wash his ears, correcting his table manners, reminding him constantly of his shortcomings, past and present.

Her dog is not permitted to lead a decent dog's life, but must perpetually acknowledge her as his mistress with all signs of slavish devotion. Twenty times an hour he must respond to her shrill, commanding voice.

She is not much fun to live with, but she is a child of wonderful energy and an excellent, alert intelligence. Her need for power cannot be uprooted, it must be trained! She needs to have proper opportunities to develop it along socially acceptable lines.

Perhaps you have in your home a child with similar tendencies. Help her work them out. She needs playmates, a lot of them, preferably a little older than herself.

She needs atmosphere of strenuous activity and a good deal of competition.

She needs athletics in which she may work off much of her steam in a struggle to win honors and to make records. If she is sent to camp (as she should be,) it ought to be a large camp in which there is much organized activity.

Your greatest temptation will be to squelch her. Don't do it. School yourself to ignore her domineering ways. Only when she attempts to establish her control over a brother or sister need you feel called on to interfere. For the rest, give her plenty of opportunity and she will work out her own problem.

Black Satin Slippers

Black satin slippers are very apt to become rusty looking if not given a little care now and then. Just rub them over with a dark cloth dipped in gasoline and it will bring back the original luster in short order.

Police Ask for Electric Fans

At the request of the police department the Police Commission yesterday asked the City Council to provide for fifteen electric fans with which to create a circulation of air in Central station headquarters, which Dr. Parrish, city health officer, has asked the Health Commission to condemn as unsanitary.

The commissioners decided that should the station be discontinued, as seems to be in prospect, pending other arrangements, the fans could be utilized in new quarters.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Varicose Veins

Question: W. H. J. asks: "Is an operation for varicose veins on the leg a serious one?"

Answer: Removal of the enlarged veins is always a dangerous procedure, not so much because of the danger of the operation, itself, but because of the after-effects. It is far better to wear an elastic stocking, or to reduce the size of the vein by electrical treatments or the application of ice. The ice should be held against the enlarged vein for three or four minutes at a time and treatment given two or three times daily.

Melba Toast

Q.: D. H. asks: "Should Melba toast be buttered?"

A.: Melba toast should be buttered fresh as it is being eaten. By actual experience I have found that there seems to be some interference with the other foods eaten with Melba toast when the butter is allowed to melt on the toast as it is being made. This may sound a little unreasonable, but my advice is to butter each bit as it is taken.

Growth in Head

Q.: S. G. writes: "I have a growth in my head which has almost closed the air passage. I have to breathe through my mouth most of the time. Any dust causes me to sneeze, my nose to water, and my head to stop up so bad. I will appreciate anything you can advise to get relief."

A.: Most nasal growths can be cured through dieting. The trouble is generally that the membranes of the nose are inflamed and swollen by the irritations of toxins which are thrown out through the mucous glands. Local treatments to the nose are sometimes helpful, but the systemic cause must be removed if you are to expect a complete and permanent cure."

Cancer

Q.: G. H. asks: "What is the best method of preventing the return of cancer once removed by operation? Does exposing the parts to the sun help?"

A.: The best method I know of for preventing cancer is to live on a careful diet, exercise vigorously each day, and adopt the right mental attitude. It is a noticeable fact that cancer rarely, if ever, develops with those who continue to live a vigorous physical culture life. The congestion of cancer cells to any one part of the body cannot occur if the circulation of blood does not become sluggish. Sun baths are helpful because of the ultra-violet effect on the blood. Nude sun baths should be taken, exposing the entire body, as the effect of the sun's rays are no more helpful over a certain diseased part than over the other parts of the body. The main object of these sun baths is to absorb all of the ultra-violet rays possible, and the effect is general upon the blood and not specific to any one part.

STORY TOLD BY SUSPECT IN HOLD-UP

Accused Saves Victim Trouble of Giving Her Version of Encounter

George A. Moore, 22 years of age, may have had a way with some women, but it wouldn't work with Miss Doris Kennard, 21, he testified yesterday when he waived preliminary hearing on three charges of robbery and one of attempted robbery in the court of Municipal Judge Ballard.

"Hand over all the money, baby, or I'll shoot," is asserted to have been Moore's threat when he confronted Miss Kennard, cashier of the Vermont Coffee Shop, 1106 North Vermont avenue, on the 15th inst. Instead Miss Kennard ducked behind the counter and the would-be robber fled.

With her employer, Miss Lucille Favorite, Miss Kennard and other witnesses went to court yesterday to testify, but Moore's action made this unnecessary.

According to information in possession of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Choate, in charge of the prosecution, Moore was captured by George Olson, 458½ Sunset Boulevard, and George Minser, 3615 South Third avenue, bus drivers, who found that he had used a piece of wood instead of a gun.

Moore declared he never had used a gun in any of the robberies with which he is charged. He was held to answer to the charges in Superior Court under bail of $5000.

'FIXING' CASE TRIAL GETS UNDER WAY

Bankston Faces Bar of Justice on Charges Made by Mrs. Budanko

Grover C. Bankston, asserted to have introduced a confederate to his victim in jail as the county jailer, went to trial yesterday before a jury in Judge Sproul's court on a charge of having stolen $385 from Mrs. Stella Budanko. Testimony will be resumed today.

The prosecution, represented by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Frampton, charged that Mrs. Budanko was engaged in serving a nine months' liquor sentence in the County Jail when Bankston went to her on a visitor's card and told her he was "the big fixer;" that he was in a position to get her paroled but that it would cost money. She said she paid him $685 and that he came back later accompanied by another man. This man he introduced as "County Jailer Dewar" and the woman paid $300 more. But when her parole was not forthcoming she complained to the jailer and sent a message to him that she either wanted a parole or her money back. Dewar investigated, then laid the matter before the grand jury and Bankston was indicted.

Bankston, represented by Attorney Olin MacKay, maintained he was the victim of a frame-up."

McCormick to Go East Today

United States District Judge McCormick, recently appointed as a member of President Hoover's commission to investigate crime and law enforcement, will leave Los Angeles tonight for New York.

Judge McCormick has been designated by Chief Justice Taft to preside over a division of the Southern District of New York for the next six months, beginning September 3, this year.

NEW ZEALAND WOMEN HELD IN QUOTA CASE

Two young women from New Zealand are being held on orders of the United States Immigration Bureau because they are said to have "slipped" across the international border at Blaine, Wash., after having been previously refused admittance.

Dorothy St. George Tucker, 23 years of age, is being held under bail of $500 and Mrs. Phyllis Carbeck, her sister, and the latter's son, 2 years of age, were released on their own recognizance, pending the outcome of a hearing before Immigration Inspector Del Guercio. The hearing is set for the 30th inst.

WOMAN FOUND GUILTY ON BATTERY CHARGE

Found guilty by Municipal Judge Bullock of striking Mamie Rutland, assistant manager of a local hotel, Laura Girdwood, asserted partner of John Schropshire in the operation of the hotel, was found guilty of battery and given a suspended sentence of ninety days in jail. Following differences between the two women, Miss Girdwood is asserted to have wielded an improvised "billy" on the person of Miss Rutland.

LIGHTING PLEA FILED

A petition asking for the installation of an ornamental lighting system in Eighth street between Vermont and Western avenues was filed with Council yesterday and referred to the Board of Public Works and the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee.

HARRY GREEN SIGNS WITH LASKY

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Harry Green, who came to the screen from the stage and established himself as a comedian and dramatic actor of the highest order in "Close Harmony," "The Man I Love," "Why Bring That Up?" and "The Kibitzer," is to make Hollywood his home for some time to come.

The player was signed yesterday by Paramount on a long-term contract, according to the announcement of B. P. Schulberg.

Green was for years one of the best-known figures on the vaudeville stage, and he will long be remembered for his characterizations, especially that of George Washington Cohen. He also appeared in Aaron Hoffman's play, "Welcome, Stranger."

In 1918, the actor went to London to fill a five weeks' engagement, and remained there five years, appearing in the Hoffman comedy, "Give and Take," and other stage hits. Three years ago he toured Australia and South Africa.

Green's contract with Paramount will start following the close of his engagement in "The Champ," Fannie Brice's United Artists production.

MARY AND DOUG TO MAKE SHORT TRIP

Although Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford have been intending all along to take a trip to the Orient, and go right around the world, they have changed their plans at the last moment, we learned yesterday.

MARY PICKFORD

Instead of the oriental tour, they are to visit only France and Italy, returning within three months to begin work on new pictures. They are to sail from New York on September 4 on the Mauretania.

Work of cutting their costarring vehicle, Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew," was completed yesterday, and from the reports one hears of it the noted pair have attained new heights and set a new pace for talking picture production in this work.

The release date of the picture is not yet definitely set, but the premiere will probably be held in New York, and will occur sometime during the last of October or first of November.

Fairbanks and Miss Pickford will not make another picture together as their next effort. This is definitely settled. Miss Pickford has already selected her starring vehicle, but so far is not ready to announce the title. However, it is known that the vehicle will be a modern and successful play.

Zoe Akins Writes

Ruth Chatterton is definitely to star in a story called "Sarah and Sons." It is an original by an author whose name I did not learn, but the clever Zoe Akins is writing the screen adaptation and dialogue.

RUTH CHATTERTON

It is reported that Miss Chatterton at first did not care particularly about appearing in "Sarah and Sons," especially as she did not consider herself suited for the role she was to portray. But, with Miss Akins taking the story in hand, she now feels that she has a suitable vehicle, and is pleased to appear in it.

Beryl Mercer in Barrie Play

That brilliant actress, Beryl Mercer, who achieved such a fine success in London in her characterization of Mrs. Dowey in J. M. Barrie's play, "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," is to have the same role, which is the lead, in the talking production of the piece which Paramount is to make. We understand she signed yesterday afternoon.

Richard Wallace is to direct the production, which is to be a lavish one.

Miss Mercer was born in Spain. Her parents were actors. She made her debut in England in "East Lynne," as a child, but afterward came to this country, starting in New York in various productions. Following that, she returned to England and appeared in a number of plays, including "My Dady's Dress," and "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals." Returning to this country, she appeared on Broadway in many plays, always notable ones, including "Outward Bound," "Three Live Ghosts," and "Out There."

Hoot Gibson Chooses Lead

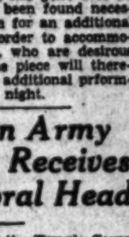
No less charming and talented a young actress than Eugenia Gilbert has been chosen by Universal and Hoot Gibson to appear opposite the star in his next picture, "Courtin' Calamity."

Work was commenced yesterday with Jerome Storm directing.

The remainder of the cast includes Harry Todd, Joseph Girard, Monty Montague, John Oscar and Jim Corey.

Raymond Hackett's New Role

After a vacation of several weeks to permit Raymond Hackett to become acquainted with his brand new baby son, Raymond, Jr., the player has returned to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio.



RAYMOND HACKETT

His first part will be that of Johnny Spragg in "The Bishop Murder Case," by S. S. Van Dine.

Nick Grinde will direct the picture, which of course will be a talker. Lenore Coffey wrote the screen play, and Basil Rathbone, as heretofore announced, will play the role of Philo Vance.

Holden With First National

That very excellent actor, William Holden, is to have a featured role in First National's "The Other Tomorrow," being the first player cast in the picture.

Holden is a well-known actor, who has appeared both on the stage and screen in notable roles. His part in "The Other Tomorrow" is a leading one.

Wallace MacDonald With M.-G.-M.

That engaging young actor, Wallace MacDonald, has been engaged for a nice role in Lawrence Tibbett's M.-G.-M. musical picture "The Rogue Song," under direction of Lionel Barrymore, we learned yesterday.

MacDonald has been a singer since his early youth, but not until now has his well-trained voice been of any use to him in pictures.

"Rio Rita" a Hit

From all reports reaching us of the preview of R.-K.-O.'s "Rio Rita," Luther Reed has outdone himself in directing the production, and the stars, Bebe Daniels and John Boles, are destined to the very highest spots in the talking picture world.

Musical Show Held Over

Quite an unprecedented thing has happened at the Theater Mart, where so many shows have been born and died. Hazel Lindoff's clever little musical comedy, "Wanted—A Romance," directed by Lucille de Wolfe, has gone over so well that it has been found necessary to put it on for an additional performance in order to accommodate those souls, who are desirous of seeing it. The piece will therefore be given an additional performance on Sunday night.

POINT FERMIN SLIP VIEWED

Engineers and Geologists Agree Harbor Slide Common to Region and Nothing to Worry About

Engineers and geologists among the party of city officials who yesterday afternoon surveyed the Point Fermin landslide agreed that there is no immediate danger of the six-acre fault toppling into the ocean and expressed the opinion that the moving area soon will come to permanent rest.

Proposal that the city float a bond issue of approximately $400,000 to purchase the affected area and convert it into an addition to Point Fermin Park was made by James Hyde, vice-president of the Board of Public Works, and his fellow-members.

"The situation is parallel to a flood, hurricane or any other casualty caused by an act of God," said Mr. Hyde. "I believe it is the duty of Los Angeles to help out these property holders and besides, the plan would fit in splendidly with our park program."

MULHOLLAND ON SCENE

William Mulholland, retired chief engineer of the Bureau of Power and Light; H. E. Van Norman, his successor; George P. Nicholson, Harbor Engineer; Maj. John C. Shaw, City Engineer, and seven geologists present, Dr. M. H. Bissel, Dr. R. J. Miller, Ralph Arnold, Ralph Reed, S. L. Gillan, W. C. Warren and Wayne Loel, all declared that the fault is merely part of a geologic condition existent all along the Palos Verdes shore line, from San Pedro to Redondo.

"This thing is just as inevitable as freckles on a small boy's nose," said Mr. Mulholland. "There is doubtless a soft formation down several hundred feet which is giving way and permitting the heavy mass above to slide down to the first rock stratum. It may eventually work down into the ocean and then topple over but that will require many months; people living out here need have no fear of a sudden slide.

IT'S OUR STRUCTURE

"Several miles west of here at Portuguese Bend there was a similar slide a few years ago and the area finally slid into the sea. At other points there are slides which have evidently stopped movement permanently. It is a geologic condition peculiar to this area which has been going on probably for thousands of years."

City Engineer Shaw said that efforts will be made to obtain the services of Louis C. Hill, consulting engineer for the United States government on the Boulder Dam project, to work with the two geologists, Dr. M. H. Bissell of the University of Southern California and Dr. R. J. Miller of the University of California at Los Angeles, on a technical survey of the affected area. Upon the recommendation of the trio of experts final action will be taken by the City Council, said Maj. Shaw.

Salvation Army Temple Receives Pastoral Head

Salvationists of the Temple Corps No. 1, Salvation Army, on West Ninth street, have received a new leader. Adj. Frank Howell, thirty years in the service, ten at Long Beach, comes to the Los Angeles temple, the most important field position on the West Coast.

During the stay of Adj. and Mrs. Howell at Long Beach the organization became known for its aid to the needy. The work of Adjt. Howell in the temple here, however, will be largely pastoral. The temple congregation is one of the oldest in personnel in the city, many of its members having been active for thirty and forty years.

Next Sunday morning the adjutant will preach on "Christian Perfection," and Sunday night on "What is Your Life?"

Chiropractor Faces Jury for Diploma Sale

Charged with petty theft as the result of an asserted deal for the sale of a chiropractic diploma, Dr. Charles A. Cale, president of the Cale Chiropractic College of 1406 West Seventh street, late yesterday went on trial before Municipal Judge Sheldon.

On the request of Deputy City Prosecutor Kaufman a jury was impaneled shortly before court closed last night to hear the case this morning. Cale, according to Kaufman, accepted $14 as the down payment on a diploma.

Bert H. Humason, former chief inspector and special agent for the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners, who conducted the investigation which resulted in the charge against the doctor, is scheduled to testify.

A second charge against Dr. Cale, involving the asserted sale of a massage operator's diploma, also is slated to go on trial at the close of the first case.

COUNCIL DENIES PROTESTS

Protests were denied by the City Council yesterday against the improvement of One Hundred and Eighth street between Wilmington and Willowbrook avenues and against the installation of lighting appliances in Venice Boulevard between Featherstone Drive and Hughes avenue. Assessments were confirmed for the improvement of Strathern street between Vineland avenue and Whitsett avenue.

BLACKENED EYE MYSTIFIES HOLLYWOOD FILM SET

Arthur Caesar is at his wit's end trying to determine how he got possession of a slightly discolored eye and how he lost several perfectly good front teeth. It was all a joke to Caesar yesterday and he charges it to profit and loss.

Out in Hollywood they say that Caesar, formerly claimed by Broadway as its wit before he transferred to Hollywood to join the film colony, encountered rough going not many nights ago. It hasn't been determined exactly whether he was beset by one man or two men, but

YOUNG JAZZ MODERNS IN LIVELY FILM

Joan Crawford Starring Production Attains High Entertainment Value

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

With more vitality to the celluloid inch than any half-dozen photoplays of recent memory, "Our Modern Maidens" joined the entrants for Greater Movie Season yesterday at Loew's State Theater. Like "Our Dancing Daughters," the predecessor which inspired it, it is devoted to the doings of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's younger set, and is incidentally a starring vehicle for that very special modern maiden, Miss Joan Crawford. Despite the fact that its talking powers are limited to a single radio announcer (or perhaps because of it) I suggest that you make all haste to attend the earliest possible performance. "Our Modern Maidens" is a swell show.

The net effect created by this lively opus indicates that Jack Conway, the director, had the unstinted co-operation of all departments, from story, set builder, photographer and cast he has extracted the last word in entertainment technique. Josephine Lovett's sequel, or at any rate successor, to the previous film contrives a newness in narrative which, in spite of too many titles, never permits the interest to lag. Of Oliver Marsh's camera work it need only be said that it is superb. And although Miss Crawford is starred, she comes perilously near to losing histrionic honors to Miss Anita Page, while a qui-vived bunch of youngsters led by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Josephine Dunn and Eddie Nugent strike just the right balance in support.

Rod La Rocque's stoicism and reserved front in the role of a youngold man smack a little too much of the studios' idea of what the strong silent fellow is wearing these days. Sullenness, they should be advised, is not a necessary kindred characteristic of the type. Not too much sympathy can be wasted on him by the spectator; hence Miss Crawford's penchant for him becomes well nigh as inexplicable as Kay Johnson's for Charles Bickford in the recent "Dynamite." Curiously enough, and just in passing, it may be noted that La Rocque's nickname in this film is Dynamite.

However, the fact remains that Miss Crawford does love him, and that's that. All this is not brought out until nearly the end, when these several victims of fate and their own whims find themselves perilously close to disaster. The psychological twists by which they are maneuvered to this critical pass are clever and penetratingly accurate, and what is more, dramatic.

A four-cornered situation is developed with Miss Crawford, Miss Page, Fairbanks and La Rocque as chief occupants of the corners. Miss Page in particular contributes an authentic and moving portrayal of Kentucky, the girl who comes to spend the summer with Miss Crawford in her Washington (D. C.) home. As the weaker of the two girls, she naturally wins greater sympathy in her part, though this should not be construed as minimizing the star's abilities.

The narrative is retarded at the start by a series of incidents which, if apparently irrelevant, do succeed in planting the seed of the story proper. Young Fairbanks also is allowed an opportunity to give impersonations of a trio of screen notables, the best of them being that which caricatures the redoubtable John Gilbert. A fireworks exhibition is a novel feature, and picturesque even though various colors spatter the sheet somewhat indiscriminately.

Dr. William Axt's music score is exceptionally good, but I found myself wondering why it is always considered so vital for an accompaniment to reproduce crowd noises and handclapping.

Panchon and Marco's "Hollywood Studio Girls Idea" currently serves on the State stage. Its main attraction is the Three Gobs, colored hoofers whose vocal efforts, a la Paul Whiteman's Rhythm Boys, would be better omitted. Charles Rosella, Mary Miles, Mildred Perlee and a well-trained chorus divide the other turns.

Her Voice Known to Millions

Helen Kane

Who enjoys nation-wide popularity due to her radio and phonograph efforts, will make her first local stage appearance tomorrow at the Orpheum.

'MOTHER'S BOY' FEATURES SONGS

"Mother's Boy," current effort of Morton Downey and his fellow-players at the Boulevard Theater, carries one attribute, if no more, and that is a happy ending. With a made-over "Sonny Boy" and "Melody Lane" plot, its new twist substitutes a dear old Irish lady on her death bed—with the usual "song-healer," in the person of her adoring offspring.

In the event that the picture was produced before its many contemporaries, it now has the misfortune to merely substantiate the trite and tried situations of those coming before it. Mr. Downey sings no less than ten times and the number may be fifteen. His voice is of the high tenor quality which is very pleasing the first time heard. Fifteen attempts by the patrons to help him reach the falsetto notes is much too great a strain.

This Pathe effort starts with the trials and tribulations of an Irish family, appropriately named O'Day. Downey, the younger scion, is falsely accused of the theft of the family earnings, and leaves his home and his sweetheart, Helen Chandler.

After securing a fine start at the meeting of the Third Ward politicians, Downey jumps from night club to musical-comedy roles. Backstage on the opening night he receives the message that his mother is dying. He promptly renounces his awaiting triumphs and sings his mother to complete recovery.

The story and film production, of course, are built entirely around Mr. Downey's ability to traverse the higher vocal range. Most of the songs are of a serious nature, with the theme number something about "Mother's Boy." The picture was produced in New York and it is said that the night-club scenes were taken in Downey's Casanova Club.

The characters of the piece, which may rightly be called an all-singing production, seem suitable for the inconsequential demands made upon them. Helen Chandler, Barbara Bennett, Osgood Perkins and Beryl Mercer make a pleasant surrounding group for Downey, and neither add nor detract from the featured player's role.

Morton Downey, as the Irish lad with the large heart, is just that and no more. That is, of course, eliminating his singing. Many, no doubt, will wish for more of his Irish tunes. The film was produced by Robert Kane.

Lynn Cowan and his merry-makers provide suitable entertainment on the stage this week, and the usual short subjects round out the balance of the program.

BALL PLAYER SCORES AT PARAMOUNT

BY WHITNEY WILLIAMS

Even though the weather forbids it and you have that sluggish feeling, you can't afford to miss "Fast Company" at the Paramount—that is, if you want a laugh a minute. The picture started yesterday for a week's run, and Gentryville's pride and joy, Elmer Kane, explains just how you can become "a great baseball player like I."

"Fast Company" is adapted from Ring Lardner's stage comedy, "Elmer, the Great," and, if anything, is even funnier than the play. Jack Oakie takes the part of Elmer, the world's greatest baseball player—it's true, he says so himself—and is the heavy-hitting home-run artist of the New York Yankees. Coming from Gentryville, the fastest-growing community in the United States, he finds to his utter amazement that few people have heard of this extraordinary community. He wonders, too—or he would wonder, rather, if he noticed it—why everyone doesn't know the name of Elmer Kane, the greatest baseball player in the world. "But then you can't all be great baseball players like I," says Elmer.

Jack Oakie is ideally cast as the 10 o'clock sheik of a 9 o'clock town and tenders a performance that blends sincerity with a fine attempt as a small-town hick. He makes of the part a vital character around whom the entire world revolves, and as a result of his portrayal his following doubtless will increase tenfold.

The story is highly amusing, with so many situations crammed full of hilarious interest that action has no chance whatsoever to lag. With the exception of a few moments toward the end of the picture, when a note of seriousness creeps in, the element of comedy runs rampant. So much so, in fact, that the audience is quite content to forget that the plot is somewhat trite, and would never take honors for its unusualness.

Elmer is the Gentryville home-run marvel whom the Yanks sign, and the story concerns his actions from the period of spring training to the end of the world series in the fall. Up until the last reel, the film evinces some semblance of originality, but in the last few feet Elmer hits a home run, the deciding run to win the series Pennant for the Yanks. The production assumes at this moment the aspects of ending just like any other film.

Evelyn Brent, in a slightly unsympathetic role, is the girl whom Elmer imagines to be madly infatuated with him, and Gwen Lee, as her dancing partner, contributes to the excellence of the production by the cleverness of her acting and dialogue. Skeets Gallagher plays the part of the Yankee scout and the man detailed to keep Elmer satisfied with the conditions that exist on the team. Sam Hardy, Chester Conklin, Eugenie Besserer, Arthur Housman and Bert Rome complete the cast. The picture, produced by Paramount, was directed ably enough by Edward Sutherland.

Particular attention must be called to the dialogue. It is bright and sparkling throughout and adds to the success of the picture more than any other factor.

"Hint to Brides," co-starring Ruth Taylor and Johnny Arthur, is an entertaining Christie talking comedy and provides pleasant divertissement. There is also a singing short subject, titled "All Americans," that may be regarded as a novelty.

CONDUCTOR STIRS BOWL AUDIENCE

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The great Brahms was celebrated at the Bowl last night. Bruno Walter conducted the fourth symphony. The orchestra played again as it played in its best year and the hungry thousands drank in the beauty of it with deep satisfaction. The richness of the Brahms melodies, the fervor of orchestral tone under the Walter baton and the nobility of this conductor's conception of the work, combined with the rare simplicity of this honest musician of enormous ability, made the performance unforgettable.

If further recordings of this orchestra could be made, there could be no better choice than to have Bruno Walter conduct the Brahms fourth symphony and preserve the greatness of this interpretation for all time.

Even another visitation of the same sightseeing airplane which has spoiled the music so many evenings before, could not mar this symphony for long. Mr. Walter waited until he supposed the boorish intruder had gone on its way, but it circled back to disturb the precious opening of the slow movement with its noise. An intermission talk from Raymond Brite gave the audience an idea of the helplessness of the management in this matter. The plane tried to disguise itself by shutting off an identifying red light, but it was obviously the same large sightseeing tri-motored cabin plane which the same pilot guided over the Bowl on Tuesday night. I suppose he is well paid for the excursion, but certainly he is postponing the air-mindedness of some 20,000 people in this community.

After the magnificent chorale of instruments in the Brahms symphony, Herr Walter conducted the prelude to the opera, "Lohengrin," by Richard Wagner, with a restrained passion that spoke eloquently of his understanding. The slowly rising climax was a towering majesty of sound which was followed by gently receding tone of ethereal loveliness. What would it mean to Los Angeles to have Bruno Walter conduct Wagnerian opera with this orchestra, Elsa Alsen and possibly Schorr in the cast? That would be a music festival worth recounting.

The concert, which began with a rare hearing of Mendelssohn's overture to "Midsummer Night's Dream," closed with the familiar "Les Preludes" of Liszt and was over all too soon.

Tonight Walter conducts Wagner, Schubert and Smetana, the concerto grosso by Ernest Bloch playing the piano at the same time and Verdi and Tschaikowsky accompaniments for Mary Fabian, an opera soprano new to Los Angeles, and it is to be hoped the outlaw aviator will be corralled and his employers sent to Coventry.

TRIBULATIONS OF MATRIMONY SHOWN

"Big Gamble" Offers Pleasing Entertainment at Egan Theater

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

Clickety-Clack down the stairs of his studio apartment ratile the heels of an irate departing wife. Knock, knock on the door and in swishes a new bidder for the right to call herself his wedded right hand.

The tale of his travails is brightly told in a sprightly comedy, titled, aptly enough, "The Big Gamble." Knocking on the door of the Egan Theater last evening, it was given a cordial welcome by the assembled first-night audience.

It has been some time since the Egan has housed a piece as amusing and with as much promise as "The Big Gamble." Fresh from the pen of Julia Baldwin Hazelton, the comedy has sparkling dialogue, a premise which is modern without being unwholesome, and a certain amount of farcical drama. A well-directed cast acquits itself creditably.

The first act, endowed with humor of lines and situations, set a pace which the ensuing two acts do not quite live up to. The very same things which seemed so funny a first, pall a little as the plot develops. Perhaps a faster tempo would help.

However, J. Frank Glendon as the matrimonially inclined sculptor gives a fine and consistently even characterization. Glendon shows admirable restraint and poise in his portrayal. An exceedingly bright piece of work comes from a small boy, his son and the "matrimonial menace," one Le Roy Boles.

For the rest, Treva Lawler displays great verve and dash as wife No. 2—or was it three?—while Miss Hazel Keener is excellent as the sympathetic assistant, who eventually takes her place at the end—it is hoped—of the procession of matrimonial experiments.

Young Dancer Heads Revue at Million

Gilda Gray may be the world's greatest hula dancer, but Leona Crispen, 8-year-old tot in the new "Suntan Revue," which started at the Million Dollar yesterday, runs her a close second. This talented youngster scored the hit of the entire performance.

She is one of fifteen clever little girls, billed as "Hollywood Starlets" and sponsored by Flynn O'Malley, who were seen in buck numbers, acrobatic dances and drill routines. Their medley of the "Marseillaise," "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" and "Dixie" also pleased. Another feature of the show was Buddy Garry, dark-haired crooner of tunes, who offered "Baby, Oh Where Can You Be?" and Rudy Vallee's "Vagabond Lover."

Comedy is provided by Boo Holman's orchestra, who gave a circus side show travesty that brought forth the "Siamese Twins," the "human monkey," the "trained seals," and other humorous bits. The line-up of Million Dollar beauties lived up to the billing, "Suntan Revue," and they evidently must rehearse at the beach, judging from their healthy tan. The girls offered a gypsy tambourine dance, a high-kicking specialty, and a staircase number.

Fritz Feld Not in "Bad Babies"

Fritz Feld, originally signed to interpret the Spirit of Jazz in the George Scarborough melodrama, "Bad Babies," now holding forth on the boards at the Figueroa Playhouse, is out of the cast. As a matter of fact, he has not been in it at all since the final rehearsal, although his retirement occurred too late for correction in the programs.

The piece depends on Roy Fox's Orchestra to supply the "hot" element which serves atmospherically and symbolically to suggest the modern influence at work on the "babies" of the cast. No one was secured to replace Feld, whose ability in this sort of characterization was established for all time in Reinhardt's "The Miracle."

Walter Assumes Double Role in Bowl Concert

Bruno Walter, valedictorian of Hollywood Bowl's most eventful season, tonight makes his appearance in the dual role of conductor and soloist. In the latter capacity he will share honors with Mary Fabian, singer of Chicago's noted operatic institution.

In conformity with the custom of the days when the "concerto grosso," or "grand concerto," style of composition first came into vogue, the eminent German conductor will be seated at the piano to play the passages written in that earlier day for the harpsichord, but for which Bloch has substituted the modern pianoforte keyboard.

Mary Fabian's Bowl appearance tonight is her first. She will sing an aria in both sections of the program. She will bring to a hearing for the first time here the one surviving aria of an early Tschaikowsky opera, "Joan of Arc."

NEW REVUE AT BURBANK

The current bill at the Burbank Theater, "Jazztime Revels," is a novel and entertaining revue and is full of fast comedy, pretty dance ensembles and catchy specialties. Jane Hazleton steps out of the ordinary burlesque prima donna roles this week and gives a creditable showing with a higher type of music. The comedy situations are handled by Charlie Fritcher and his new partner, Leo Leonard. Leonard makes a clever partner for Charlie Fritcher and the pair register well with patrons. The chorus of forty-five flappers is very much in evidence this week in a new array of costumes specially designed for the present attraction.

BURLESQUE PLEASES

"Round the Town," this week's burlesque at the Follies, is an entertaining show, punctuated with clever comedy, tuneful music, amusing comedians, vivacious women principals, and a pretty chorus of dancing girls. The facial contortions of Billy Foster and Marty Semon keep the house in continuous laughter. Evelyn Ramsay and Nelle Ryder are the dancing, singing soubrettes who score in their specialties. The Misses Franklin and Capucetti, prima donnas, win many encores. Hal Ford and Mack White are seen in the juvenile parts. The chorus girls display many changes of pretty costumes.

NATIONAL CHAIN SOONER ON KHJ

Initial Broadcast Planned for Next Tuesday

Local Station to Send Out Whiteman's Music

New Coast Division to be Ready September 1

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Announcement was made late last night that the radio public will not have to wait until the first of the year for the Don Lee tie-up with the Columbia Broadcasting System. Don Lee, owner of KHJ and KFRC, and William S. Paley, president of Columbia, made the joint statement that the initial broadcast from here, will be next Tuesday.

The program will be given by Paul Whiteman, jazz maestro, and his band at 5 p.m., from a studio in Universal City. Special wires will carry the music to KHJ's transmitter and from there it will go eastward on the chain.

READY SEPTEMBER 1

Unless connections are made in time, the first program will go through only three Coast stations, all in California, KHJ, KFRC and KMJ.

But on September 1, next, the entire Coast division will be ready, to include KOIN, Portland; KVI, Tacoma and KFPY, Spokane.

On that date at 4:30 p.m. a half-hour feature will be given from New York, followed at 5 o'clock by the theater of the air for sixty minutes.

STATEMENT BY LEE

"It gives me great pleasure to announce that we have been able to advance the date of the affiliation of the Don Lee chain of the Columbia Broadcasting System with the national organization," said Don Lee. "When we made the first announcement of the formation of a Pacific Coast chain, we set January 1, 1930, as the date when we would release programs from the Pacific Coast to the rest of the country and receive them here from the East over the Columbia network. Now, by good fortune, we have been able to advance that date, and the rest of the country will be listening to the best radio talent in the West almost immediately. We expect to originate programs at KHJ and KFRC, which will be the key stations on the Pacific Coast for the Columbia Broadcasting System."

The New York programs over Columbia have been available over other stations in Southern California the past year. But the new coast division will increase the coverage of the West. It will also make available the Don Lee talent from the Los Angeles and San Francisco studios for the purpose of transmission eastward.

RADIO DEALERS TO MEET AND DINE

Two hundred and fifty Radiola dealers from Southern California will attend a dinner given by the Radio-Victor Corporation of America in the Ambassador the night of the 30th inst., according to announcement yesterday. G. H. Porter, L. W. Yule, D. C. McDonald and J. R. Bullock, all of San Francisco, are scheduled to make the trip here by airplane.

I.B.S.A. HOUR IN NATIONAL NETWORK

KMTR is to carry the international address by Judge J. F. Rutherford Sunday, the 28th inst., at 6 a.m. from New York City.

AGENT FOR AIR SERVICE DESIGNATED

Walter M. Murphy Firm Appointed to Represent Curtiss Interest

Appointment of the Walter M. Murphy Aircraft Company as exclusive agent in Southern California for the Curtiss Flying Service was announced yesterday by Maj. C. C. Moseley, vice-president and western manager of the latter organization. The Murphy organization will distribute Curtiss Robins and all other products through its 110 automobile dealers. Capt. Lorenzo Snow, formerly of the United States Army and a pioneer flyer, is in charge of the Walter M. Murphy aircraft division. Curtiss Robins and other models, closed and open, are on display at the Murphy airport on Telegraph Hill and at all showrooms.

Maj. Moseley announces the virtual completion of new hangars at Mines Field, where instruction in the Curtiss Flying School begins September 1. Enrollment lists still show a few vacancies in the first class. The Los Angeles Curtiss Flying school is one of forty established throughout the country.

Capt. Peyton Gibson, chief pilot at the Mines Field school, a wartime pilot and veteran of the air mail, returned yesterday via Transcontinental Air Transport, from an instructors' standardization post-graduate course.

RADIO SHOW COLORS FORM TEST FOR EYES

Anyone with weak eyes should avoid the National Radio Show, Los Angeles' annual demonstration of receiving sets and broadcast equipment, scheduled for September 2 to 7, next, in the Ambassador Auditorium. Such was the announcement from the show yesterday, in connection with certain gay decorative hangings put in place. The ceiling blossomed forth with a variety of banners, which included every brilliant, heavily inked color known to the printer or painter.

HOW'S HIS EYESIGHT?

The artistic young lady was entertaining and as she showed her visitor around the studio she said, pointing to some particularly obscure paintings:

"And all these are the work of my brother."

FIVE ASSERTED REDS CONVICTED

Violation of City Handbill Ordinance Charged

Judge Flays Attorney Who Appeared for Woman

While five asserted fellow-Communists were being found guilty of violating the city handbill ordinance, four others in another courtroom were acquitted of the same charge yesterday, and incidentally listened to a spirited argument between the judge and an attorney over their right to be represented in court.

The controversy took place in a department of the Municipal Court when Attorney Leo Gallagher drew the fire of Municipal Judge Thompson for appearing in defense of Mrs. Lillian Silverman. As Attorney Gallagher concluded the pleading of Mrs. Silverman's case, the court found the woman not guilty on a technicality; then paused to express his surprise that any attorney should accept the obligation of defending anyone whose activities are calculated to undermine the American government.

ATTORNEY'S DEFENSE

In his own defense against the court's criticism, Gallagher then replied that while he held no brief for Communism he felt it his duty as a lawyer to represent before the bar those who in running afoul of the law had merely, in his opinion, been following the dictates of their own consciences and political beliefs. Apropos of his attitude in the matter he declared he considered that it is as much his duty to defend his client as it is the duty of other attorneys to take up the cause of a person charged with a revolting felony.

Despite his disapproval of Gallagher's action in appearing for Mrs. Silverman, Judge Thompson in swift succession then found three other defendants not guilty. They are Harry Schneiderman, George Yoneda and Tetsufi Horchui.

Explaining his action in freeing the four, Judge Thompson stated that while he was heartily opposed to Communism and all Communistic activities and propaganda, he could not conscientiously hold the defendants in the light of his interpretation of the ordinance under which they had been arrested. The ordinance, he pointed out, specifically prohibits the public distribution of advertising literature; and as far as he could ascertain there was nothing of an advertising nature in the matter the defendants had been charged with circulating.

THOSE CONVICTED

Those who did not fare so well are Irving Kreitzberg, Frank Spector, Benjamin Levine, Edward A. Sandler and Leon Mabille. In Municipal Judge Sheldon's court, Deputy City Prosecutor Kaufman scored them on the same charge as that faced by the other four. After but a few minutes' deliberation a jury brought in a verdict of guilty, and Judge Sheldon sentenced each to $15 fine or three days in jail. All posted a bond of $25, pending appeal from the verdict.

Pacoima Group Asks Council to Retain Delory

A petition asking that Commissioner Delorey be retained upon the Board of Public Works was presented to Council yesterday by the Pacoima Chamber of Commerce. It was referred to the Public Works Committee.

Mayor Porter, since he asked for Commissioner Delorey's resignation some weeks ago, has made no move toward ousting him, and City Hall observers are somewhat at sea as to the reason for delay. In order to remove a commissioner, the Mayor must have eight members of Council to support his move.

STANDARDS OF NEW LAW EXPLAINED

Builders of State Meet With Director Collins at Long Beach Club

If you are a contractor and you start a job, do not walk off and leave it without talking things over with your customer. If you do you probably will be haled before the newly appointed Director of Professional and Vocational Standards, James F. Collins, to listen to a little talk about losing your State license.

Just what the new law, which requires registration and licensing of contractors and builders, will mean, was explained at a meeting at the Pacific Coast Club, Long Beach, yesterday. Members of the California Builders' Exchange and California Association of General Contractors met with Mr. Collins and discussed the new law, which went into effect on the 14th inst.

The new licenses will be available shortly at all builders' exchanges, contractors' associations, chambers of commerce and county and city clerks. All contractors are required to have a license.

Charles Pettifer, president of the Long Beach Builders' Exchange, presided at the meeting.

Serious Injuries Received by Four in Car Accidents

Traffic accidents last night sent two persons to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with possible fractured skulls, while two others were suffering concussion of the brain and other injuries. James Stulsberg, 65 years of age, a Nick Harris patrolman of 4015 West Third street, was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile at Third and Ardmore streets. Police reported that the car was driven by Max Kanz of 443 South San Pedro street. Stulsberg suffered a possible fracture of the skull and was in a serious condition on arrival at the Receiving Hospital.

Mrs. M. Bettendorf, 55, of 1322 South Grand avenue, received a possible skull fracture last night when she was knocked over by an automobile at Pico and Oak streets. She and her husband, M. A. Bettendorf, stepped from a safety zone into the path of a car driven by Paul Artimendi of 624 West Fourth street, police said. Bettendorf suffered concussion of the brain.

Herman Barth, 65, of 4811½ South Vermont avenue, was struck by a car while he was crossing the street at Hoover and Forty-eighth streets. He received concussion of the brain, a broken clavicle and other injuries. Police report the car was driven by R. Broadhurst of the Cabrillo Hotel, San Pedro.

Suspect in Bank Hold-Up Seized at Indianapolis

Accused as the bandit who held up the Seaboard National Bank two years ago, Fred Cook was held yesterday by police in Indianapolis for the Los Angeles authorities. Detective Lieutenant Malina starts today for Indiana to bring back Cook for trial.

Cook was recognized and held as a result of a visit he paid to the Indianapolis jail to see Rose Berk, alias Mrs. Rose Buckingham, called a bandit queen by police of a half-dozen cities. The Indianapolis officers recognized her visitor as a man wanted by the police here for the hold-up of the Seaboard National Bank, 5100 Wilshire Boulevard, on April 13, 1927, at which time $31,000 was stolen. Lieut. Malina asserts that Rose Berk drove the car for the bandit's getaway. Police also assert she is the wife of Joe Berk, now serving time in Leavenworth Prison for participation in the $200,000 mail robbery in 1924.

Bassett Willard.

OFFICE IN Y.M.C.A.

Temporary headquarters have been established in Room 501 at the Los Angeles Young Men's Christian Association, 715 South Hope street, in charge of C. A. Laraway, secretary. From here all business of the organization will be conducted and a campaign for new members launched.

Plans for the Admission Day demonstration will be outlined, reports of the program committee presented and enlistments received at the next meeting of the organization, scheduled for the Young Men's Christian Association next Monday evening. The business meeting will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30 p.m.

FORMED AT BOWL

The alliance was prompted by President Hoover's inaugural address and sponsored its first public demonstration June 30, last, with a mass meeting in the Hollywood Bowl, at which State and city officials, jurists and 10,000 other citizens pledged themselves to strict observance of laws. The meeting was addressed by Gov. Young, Mayor Porter, Judge McCormick, Representative Crail, Superior Judge Hahn and Dr. Wilkinson.

Its climax was reached when all present in the Bowl raised their hands and repeated word for word the following pledge, composed by the alliance as being representative of its aims and ideals: "I hereby pledge allegiance to the Constitution of the United States and the laws thereof, and agree loyally to observe all the laws of the land, and especially to abstain from the purchase of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes; and I will refuse to participate in all transactions with illegal liquor, inasmuch as the Eighteenth Amendment is a part of the Federal Constitution."

LAKESIDE CLUB HONORS JONES

Amateur Champ Presented With Life Membership

Bobby Registers Card of 74 in Practice Round

George Von Elm Plays Over Rancho Golf Course

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Bobby Jones is always welcome at the Lakeside Country Club.

When the famed Atlantan finished his second practice round in two days over the North Hollywood course yesterday noon, President Jim Ira...feld presented him with a life membership.

BOBBY JONES.

Later, at Pebble Beach, Bobby will be given an appropriately engraved gold card to remember the occasion by.

Slipping out quietly, Bobby unexpectedly appeared at Lakeside yesterday morning accompanied by Charles Black, Jr., of Atlanta, 1928 Georgia amateur champion; his father, Robert T. Jones; Charles Black, Sr., of Atlanta; Don Abbott and Sherwood Hurt.

The national amateur champion played with Black, Jr., and registered an approximate 74. Black, who suffered more than Bobby from the long train ride, appeared to be on his game once more yesterday and turned in a card of 77.

Jones went out to Lakeside primarily to practice — not to break any course records; he found the greens a bit tricky as they are entirely different from the putting surfaces he has been accustomed to in the East, but was pleased to say that the Lakeside greens were quite superior.

BOBBY SHINES

Max Behr, who designed the Lakeside course and is proud of his job, decided to give Bobby a real test. Ordinarily Lakeside measures 6345 yards with a par of 70, but Max had Bobby teeing off in the apple orchards yesterday, and must have added several hundreds of yards to the figures on the card.

Lakeside is admittedly a fine golf

SEEK "TIMES" SWIM LAURELS

Here are two L.A.A.C. feminine swim stars, who are entered in the Times Pre-Olympic Swim, scheduled for September 1, and who will be among the favored entrants in the Venice-to-Ocean Park classic. Olive Hatch, left, placed third in the 50-yard event in the women's national championships in Honolulu, and before that, placed second in the annual Silver Gate Swim in San Diego. Jennis Cramer is not yet as well known as Miss Hatch, but according to Fred Cady, Mercury swimming coach, has developed rapidly of late and can be counted on to furnish all the entrants with clever competition.

Nine Pitchers Paraded in 14-13 Nightmare

BY PAUL LOWRY

The boys with weak hearts had no business at Wrigley Field yesterday afternoon. After losing two games they should have won, the Hollywood Stars finally came through with a ninth and tenth inning finish yesterday that would have knocked hair off your grandmother's head.

ELI FUNK.

And they licked the 'Orrible Oaks, who haven't lived up to their reputations this week, by a score of 14 to 13.

Ten innings, if you please, with thirteen hits for the losers and twenty-one for the victors.

Five runs in the ninth to tie the score for Hollywood and one in the tenth to win with nobody out.

Four pitchers for Hollywood and five for Oakland.

Standing out of the maze of pitchers, pinch hitters, managerial strategy and base hits, rise two figures in sublime relief—the Messrs. Elias Funk and C. Carlyle.

TIMELY CLOUT

Mr. Funk cleared the loaded bags in the ninth inning with a screeching double to center field which tied the score.

And then Mr. C. Carlyle performed two prodigious feats.

First, he plucked Mr. Buzz Arlett's mighty blow off the centerfield screen with one hand in the tenth inning, a blow that appeared to be headed for a certain home run and would have cleared either the left field or right field fences with yards to spare.

And then he came to bat in the tenth inning, this Mr. C. Carlyle person, and with Cook, running for Hank Severeid, on third lifted an enormous fly to center field. Mr. Governor, the centerfielder of the Oaks, did not catch the ball, and it went for a single. But had he trapped the pill Mr. Governor was so far back in the tales of center field that he would have been unable to unravel himself in time to nail Mr. Cook at home.

So when Mr. Bill Lane, who owns the Hollywood club, pursued his

VETERAN PLAYER SCORES SENSATIONAL NET UPSET

Defeat of English Star Startles Gallery at Women's Nationals; Match Won in Straight Sets

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, startled the tennis world today and swept England's Betty Nuthall into defeat by the decisive scores of 6-3, 6-3, in the quarter-final round of the national women's tennis championship. An overwhelming favorite before the match, "bounding Betty," the 18-year-old sensation whose booming drives caused all kinds of trouble for Helen Wills in the Wightman Cup series a week ago, found herself beaten at her own deep-driving game by this marvelous Norwegian veteran, a woman more than twice her age.

Dashing around the court with the agility of a school girl, Mrs. Mallory generally had the upper hand in the long interchanges that held the gallery of nearly 4000 enthralled from the moment it appeared that the seven-times champion might win.

Molla Mallory

Her strokes were steadier, off forehand and backhand, her shots better placed and more sharply angled and a remarkable sense of anticipation born of more than fifteen years' experience in international play enabled her to guess the direction of Betty's shots and be on hand to send them spinning back.

As a result of Mrs. Mallory's surprising victory, the anticipated "return match" between Miss Wills and her principal English challenger for world honors will not take place in this tournament. Instead Mrs. Mallory and Queen Helen will fight it out in one of the semi-finals tomorrow, while in the other American second-ranking

San Diego to Send Host of Aquatic Stars After Trophies in "Times" Pre-Olympic Races

Determined to transport the trophy in the Times Pre-Olympic swim outside the confines of Los Angeles county, every swimmer of note in and around San Diego will be entered in the rough-water classic scheduled for September 1. This was the fiery announcement contained in a letter from Renwick Thompson, San Diego A.A.U. official, which was received here yesterday by Charley Keppen, director of the Venice-to-Ocean Park aquatic event.

Thompson announced that representatives from the San Diego Rowing Club, the San Diego Athletic Club, the Florence Chambers Swimming Club, the Mission Beach plunge, and the Ocean side Swimming Club would be sent here to battle for glory and trophies in both the men's and women's races.

Veteran Star Wins Sprint Event in National Championships
Buster Crabbe Scores in One-Mile Grind, Finishing Full Lap Ahead of Hollywood A.C. Performer

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22. (AP)—Veteran of many aquatic duels and holder of many titles in his time, Walter Spence of Philadelphia realized a long-cherished ambition today, when he stroked his way to victory in the 100 meters, free style, American outdoor men's swimming championship.

AUSTIN CLAPP

Breasting the waters of Fleishhacker pool in 1m. 2 1-5s., the oldster from the Pennsylvania A.C. touched the finish mark four yards in the fore of his rivals. His conquest brought a new ruler to the throne occupied since 1923 by Johnny Weissmuller, now a professional. Weissmuller set a world's record of 57 4-5s. in winning the event here last year.

Spence's win, accomplished in easy fashion, marked the opening of the four-day National A.A.U. championships.

In the other titular event of the day's program, Clarence (Buster) Crabbe of Honolulu, successfully defended his one-mile crown. The tall, blond boy from the Outrigger Canoe Club swam away from the opposition impressively, but so easily as to

FLY-CATCHING TOO EASY SO MILLER LASSOES HOG

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 22. (AP)—Besides being one of Connie Mack's best fly chasers, Bing Miller, Athletic outfielder, is also pretty good at catching hogs. A 300-pound porker bounced out of a truck at a busy street corner here yesterday and tied up traffic near the Athletics' hotel. Bing joined in the case, lassoed the pig and hog-tied it while traffic policemen endeavored to untangle the traffic snarl.

Vincent Forgione Battles Everett Strong Tonight in Hollywood Main Event

MIDDLEWEIGHT SOCKERS MEET

Philadelphian Favorite to Cop Bout Verdict

Italian Has Won Each Start in Local Rings

Sid Torres and Mathews in Semi-Wind-up Go

A two-fisted slugging match is promised the Hollywood American Legion Stadium fight fans tonight, when Vincent Forgione fights Everett Strong in the main event. Forgione, a rugged Italian from Philadelphia, who hasn't lost a start in California, is a favorite and in many quarters the dopesters are picking him to make his best fight and win by a knockout.

VINCENT FORGIONE

Vincent Forgione is one of the best fighters seen in action at Hollywood this year. He has almost run out of opponents. The one shot he hopes to get is the winner of the Joe Anderson - Ace Hudkins fight. Forgione has a claim to this spot and it would be a natural. The Philly slugger is a rugged battler who seems to be able to take a wallop as good as Ace Hudkins. He has been hit flush on the chin by such good sockers as Homer Sheridan, Joe Rocha and Eddie Burnbrook and they haven't even jarred him.

The whole card tonight features sluggers and a few knockouts are looked for. Sid Torres, a Filipino bantamweight who rated among the best of his weight in the preliminary ranks, should take Harold Mathews to the cleaners. Torres belongs to Frank Churchill, who has piloted nearly all the good Filipino fighters and he claims that Torres will soon be a main-eventer. Mathews is a strong kid, who won admirers by the game fight he made against Speedy Dado.

Jackie Fields and Willie Rooney have imported Al Isoa from Chicago and they look to see him come home a winner over Matt Codan in the special event. Isoa boxed with Fields in Chicago while Jackie was training for his fights there and he looked so good to the welterweight champion that he told Rooney to sign him and take Isoa back to California.

The pair of four-round bouts will make a strong bid for the honor to the best preliminary. Battling Schultz fights Andy Diaz in the second spot and Tiger Pallicis will open the show with Jose Vasques. Schultz has fought at Hollywood and is a pocket edition of Ace Hudkins.

COAST BATTERS VIE FOR HIGH AVERAGE

The Coast League batting averages present a most interesting study when followed from day to day. At the start of this week's play Smead Jolley and "Buzz" Arlett were tied for leading honors with averages of .390. Ike Boone was hitting .388 and Fuzzy Hufft .387. After the opening games of the week Boone was on top with a mark of .390, with Jolley, Arlett and Hufft tied for second place with averages of .389. After Wednesday's games Jolley and Boone were in a tie for first place with averages of .390, while Arlett and Hufft were tied for second place with marks of .387. The Coast League has never witnessed a more interesting batting race.

Midwick Four Plays Today

CHICAGO, Aug. 22. (AP)—Fort Leavenworth's polo team battered its way to the finals of the United States twelve-goal championships today, scoring an easy 13-to-5 victory over the Fort Benning (Ga.) four.

The Kansas outfit ran up a lead of eight goals to one in the first four chukkers and coasted the rest of the way in.

The other semifinal between Oak Brook-Dupage of Chicago, and the Midwick Club of Pasadena, Cal., was postponed until tomorrow to give their ponies more rest. The final will be played Sunday.

Yale Golfer Has Key to Trick Shots

BY SOL METZGER

Playing in a four-ball match the other day with Leod Goss, member of the Yale frosh golf team this past spring and son of Arthur, pro at the Everglades Club, Palm Beach, I saw one of those shots you'll never forget.

His iron to the 203-yard twelfth was pushed some twenty-five yards to the right of the green. His ball came to rest close to a wire fence and just short of one of the posts. Goss found the call so close to the wire that he could not cut down on it to knock it out toward the green. When he stood outside the fence he also found it impossible to strike it by swinging through normally.

Immediately he kneeled down (as I have sketched him) with niblick in hand and swung his club back under the lower strand of wire and through again, knocking his ball the twenty-five yards to the green. I wonder if any of my readers could send me descriptions of other difficult lies and how to play them so that all golfers who follow these articles may have the benefit of them. I'd appreciate it. Tomorrow—how the British look at golf.

star, Helen Jacobs, will come to grips with the sole surviving English contender, Mrs. Phoebe Watson.

MISS WILLS WINS

Miss Wills crushed Mrs. Peggy Saunders Mitchell, another of England's Wightman Cup players, in two quick sets, 6-0, 6-1; Helen Jacobs easily defeated young Mary Greef of Kansas City, 6-3, 6-3, and the slender, dark-haired Mrs. Watson came from behind to beat out Edith Cross of San Francisco, third in the national women's ranking, by scores of 2-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Against the perfect stroking and pulverizing speed of the champion's game, Mrs. Mitchell managed to score more points than Helen's previous opponents have been in the habit of collecting, but the fourth game in the second set which she took on her service was the only one she was able to win. Miss Wills now has made the unusual record of winning four matches with loss of but two games.

Miss Greef, the 18-year-old player who yesterday eliminated Sarah Palfrey, showed signs of nervousness at the start of her match with Miss Jacobs, dropping the first four games. She improved thereafter but never enough to threaten.

British players dominated the doubles play. In the quarter-final matches, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Mitchell, English champions, downed the Massachusetts team of Mrs. Hazel Wightman and Mrs. Marjorie Morrill, 6-1, 6-3. Mrs. Phyllis Covell and Mrs. Dorothy Shepherd-Barron renewed the threat of an all-British final by crushing Mrs. Charlotte Chapin and "Midge" Gladman, 6-0, 6-1.

The only surviving team that is 100 per cent American that consists of Mrs. Anna Harper and Edith Cross, the San Franciscans, was forced to three sets by Margaret Blake and Mrs. Anna Hubbard, Boston, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

The schedule for tomorrow's semifinal round play:

2:30 p.m.—Mrs. Covell and Mrs. Shepard-Barron vs. Mrs. Harper and Miss Cross.
3:30 p.m.—Miss Jacobs vs. Mrs. Watson.
4:30 p.m.—Miss Wills vs. Mrs. Mitchell.

Big Six

By the Associated Press

With Al Simmons and Chuck Klein still sojourning in the cool of the dugout, the four remaining members of the Big Six played into the hands of pitchers yesterday with the result that no batting average was lifted while most of them descended. Babe Herman held his own at .409 by getting two out of five at Brooklyn, but Rogers Hornsby lost a point through getting two out of six at Baker Bowl. Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx had to be content with one safety apiece, and each lost a bit of ground, Ruth falling to last place behind the idle Klein.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By Paul Lowry

THE TOLSON CASE

"WHY, Wrigley wouldn't take Slug Tolson away from the Angels right when they are in the midst of a hot pennant fight, would he?"

The interrogator was a baseball man who didn't believe the spearmint king would cripple his Coast League team under such conditions.

But the gentleman apparently doesn't know Mr. Wrigley, who is about as much interested in our Angels as he is in the price of navy beans.

Mr. Wrigley is not only going to take Slug Tolson away from the Angels, but he has ordered him on his way immediately as replacement for Charley Grimm, the captain and star first sacker of the Chicago Cubs who broke a bone in his hand against a New York fence the other day.

What the Angels are going to do without the aid of Slug Tolson, who is one of the leading sluggers of the league, apparently isn't interesting Mr. Wrigley.

He is concerned only with the pennant drive of the Chicago Cubs. The Angels can go lump it for all he cares.

If my red-haired contemporary, Mr. Marcus Kelly, wants a better argument for major league baseball in Los Angeles and San Francisco I can't suggest it.

MR. JONES THE CHARMER

MR. ROBERT TYRE JONES came, saw and conquered.

Our Mr. Edward Lawrence is so thrilled over contact with the man who is to golf what Lindbergh is to flying that he yearns for a perpetual position in the Jones court.

He would a faithful follower to Mr. Jones be, and after viewing the great Georgian in action on the Lakeside links he blushes with shame when he contemplates stories that any of our Southern Californians have a ghost of a chance at Del Monte.

Our Mr. Lawrence has even been carried away to the extent of predicting that Mr. Jones will lick the whole wide world at Del Monte.

Inasmuch as several other soothsayers have made the same prediction our Mr. Lawrence seems fairly safe.

Mr. Jones will only be with us until tomorrow night, at which time his special train will be detoured to Del Monte.

But the Georgian will play an exhibition match for charity over the north course at the Los Angeles Country Club tomorrow afternoon, and thus afford the natives a chance to see him in action.

This will be a real treat to those who are unable to visit Del Monte for the national amateur championships, and the five bucks per head in the sake of sweet charity will be a mere drop in the bucket.

NO GOLF FOR "SPIDER"

MR. ADRIAN BAUM, known as "Spider" in the day when he was lean and lanky and was twirling 'em over the plate in the Coast League, has just made a very stirring announcement.

He will not take up golf.

Being of athletic bent Mr. Baum had some leanings toward the game, but after making careful inquiries and analyzing the matter thoroughly he has decided against such a step.

Mr. Baum lists his main objection against the game as one of time.

He objects to early rising, and to play golf and make it to the office by 10 o'clock in the morning Mr. Baum figures he would have to leave the hay by the ungodly hour of 5 or 6 o'clock.

This would cause him to miss his breakfast biscuits, and this would cause deep resentment on the part of Mrs. Baum, who likes her cooking to be eaten.

Then Mr. Baum also is frightened lest golf grip him in its tentacles and weaken his mind.

He points to the sad case of his boss, Mr. Bill Lane, who talks continually of sand pits, divots, soling the club, teeing up, pouring the park into 'er, all of which terms are utterly foreign to Mr. Baum's vocabulary.

ARMOUR LEADS FIELD IN OPEN

Onwentsia Country Club course in 65 strokes, five under par, to nail the medal. One stroke behind him was Horton Smith, the sensational young professional from Joplin, Mo., and the darling of the galleryites, while Gene Sarazen, former national open champion from Flushing, Long Island, and Dick Nelson, a rank outsider, from Indianapolis, came next with 68's.

MANY QUALIFY

One hundred and seventy entrants, whose scores ranged from 80 downward, qualified for the second 18-hole round of the 72-hole scramble for the championship. Under tournament rules, all low 150 and ties qualify and the 80's squeezed in because there were only 149 who had 72's or lower.

Mastery with his irons carried Armour to his triumph today. While his drives were nothing spectacular, he repeatedly rapped his approaches to within easy putting distance. On ten greens he was close enough with his pitches for birdies, and six times he made his easy single putts good. Only once was he over par on any hole and that was on the third, a par 4, where he overestimated the distance of the green and whacked his approach over the carpet. Tommy went out in 33 and came home in 32.

It was one of the best rounds ever turned in by the former holder of the national open crown and it equalled the Onwentsia course record established by Francis Gallet of Milwaukee.

LENGTHY DRIVES

Driving was Smith's forte in his great round. Several times he drove 250 yards down the center of the fairway, and, despite intermittent thundershowers that swept the course, he followed up his advantage with steady pitching and putting.

The Joplin youth, who hasn't won a golf title since the French open in June, was back to the form that brought him fame in last winter's tournament, and his two rounds were equally brilliant—both were 33's, or two under par.

Other low scores for the tournament, including those of yesterday, were:

HUNT, COOK IN DRAW

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 22. (AP) Babe Hunt, Ponca City heavyweight champion, and George Cook, Australian slugger, fought ten fast rounds to a draw here tonight. Judges gave each four rounds, and two were classed as even.

Godfrey and Hawkins Draw Suspensions

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22. (AP)—Suspension of George Godfrey, Libertyville, Pa., and Tom Hawkins, San Diego, negro heavyweights, and Referee Larry McGrath, as a result of an unsatisfactory fight in Los Angeles last week, was announced here today by James Woods, Southern California State Athletic Commissioner. Woods is here to attend a commission meeting Monday at which time the Godfrey-Hawkins bout will be taken up.

MISSIONS COP GAME FROM SENATORS, 6-3

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22. (AP)—The San Francisco Missions jumped up another notch today when they defeated the Sacramento Senators by a score of 6 to 3. Ruff and Boone, both of the Missions, helped the home team to a win by batting in home runs. The Senators staged a small rally in the seventh and eighth, scoring one run in each inning, but were unable to catch the Missions, who had already scored their six.

JOHN VAN RYN.

George M. Lott, Jr., of Chicago, another United States Davis Cup player, gained the other semifinal bracket in Van Ryn's half of the draw by downing Berkeley Bell, Dallas, Tex., national intercollegiate titleholder, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3, 6-0, 6-2. The others to reach the second last round were Big Bill Tilden and his youthful protege, W. F. Coen, Jr., of Kansas City.

COEN WINS

Coen opened the fourth day's play by gaining the only straight-set victory in the quarter-finals singles round. He defeated Paul De Ricou young French player who came here with the Oxford-Cambridge team, 6-0, 6-2, 6-4.

The only unexpected ending of the day came in the doubles play when Philip Neer of Portland, Or., and Bruce Barnes of Austin, Tex., were defeated by J. B. Fenno, Boston, and E. W. Fethleman of New York, 8-7, 6-4, 6-3, in their quarter-finals match.

The Neer-Barnes team, conquerors of John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, the world's champion doubles pair, was expected to survive until the final.

LOTT-DOEG VICTORS

The other pairs to advance were Tilden and Frank Hunter, Lott and Johnny Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., and Mercur and J. Gilbert Hall of New York.

Tilden and Hunter won the right to clash with Lott and Doeg in the semifinals by eliminating R. N. Williams II, of Philadelphia, and Dr. George King, New York, by scores of 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2. Lott and Doeg defeated Guy Cooper and Paul De Ricou, the Anglo-French team, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3, and Mercur and Hall gained their second last doubles bracket by taking three straight sets from Frank X. usual custom of tarrying in the business office when his team wins, was discussing the heroes of the fracas he dwelt long and almost reverently on the feats of the Messrs. Funk and Carlyle.

Only one game away from the top of the heap Mr. Lane hopes Skipper Vitt's guess about Mr. Shellenback, who has been used as a pinch hitter the past two days, is a good one, and that the Stars will win, while Los Angeles and San Francisco lose again.

The run of yesterday's game shows that the Stars once enjoyed an 8-3 lead, but by the time the eighth inning was over were behind, 13 to 8, the Oaks having had an orgy in the eighth which netted them six runs.

The Oaks got two in the first inning, but the Stars went them one better with three markers—and on a single hit.

Governor started the fireworks with a double down the right-field foul line. Reese and Verges went out on infield rollers, but Arlett banged the ball over the center-field fence for a home run, scoring Governor ahead of him. R. Carlyle flew out to Rumler.

For the Stars Lee was hit by a pitched ball, but was forced at second by Rollings. The latter suffered the same fate on a grounder by Funk. Rumler walked and Severeid came to bat. A mighty clout over the fence in left center gave the Stars' catcher the distinction of having scored seven runs on two hits within the last two days. Severeid homed Wednesday with the bases loaded.

With two out in the third inning the Stars scored four runs as the result of singles by Rumler and Severeid, a base on balls to Heath and a hefty po

DEMPSEY NOT SURPRISED AS MRS. RICKARD BROKE

CHICAGO, Aug. 22. (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world and intimate of the late Tex Rickard, today characterized the financial plight of Mrs. Tex Rickard as "the same old story" of a man who had too much confidence in his friends.

The former champion, who received more than $1,500,000 from fights promoted by Rickard, was not surprised after reading Mrs. Rickard's statement, made in New York.

"Tex had too much confidence in his friends," Dempsey said. "He trusted everybody. If Mrs. Rickard says she is broke, she must be.

"I knew things were in a mess. That is why I went to Miami last winter to try and straighten out Tex's dog track there. The law stepped in, stopped betting and made the thing more of a mess than it was."

St. Louis catcher, scoring Butler, was the margin of victory.

course in perfect trim throughout, but it is our personal opinion that Bobby could go out any day he felt like playing golf and register a 66 from as far back as the tees go.

Even in practice yesterday, after a gruelling week on route from Atlanta and only a brief, nine-hole workout on his arrival Wednesday afternoon, Bobby displayed flashes of the game that has made him world famous.

Take for instance the 375-yard seventh hole, where he drove the ball straight down the middle of the fairway for 275 yards, dropped a niblick shot on top of the cup, and then sank a two-footer for a birdie 3. And again on the 390-yard ninth hole, just a mere wood, mashie, and putt for another birdie 3.

When you take into consideration that Bobby had never seen those two holes before in his life, you'll have to admit that's shooting golf.

So far, Bobby has failed to display that famous putting touch. He had trouble all the way out with putts that failed to drop, but came in with a 36, one over par. His woods were marvelous, but he pulled an iron shot or two.

On the 100-yard sixth hole, the prize short hole of the course, Bobby almost holed out, and then wore a disgusted look when he missed a trickling two-foot putt for his birdie.

ONLY HUMAN

Bobby was in trouble a few times. On the 565-yard thirteenth hole, known far and wide as the "River hole," Bobby hit in back of his spoon second, and his iron across the river was inches short. He also had to play out of a couple of traps, but the fans who followed him were more than pleased to find that he is a very human golfer after all, despite the fact that at 27 he reigns supreme in world golf circles.

Here are the cards:

Jones	484	462	353—36
Black	445	443	484—38
Par (in)	453	543	443—35—70
Jones	483	663	453—39—74
Black	462	544	563—39—77

We talked to several Southern California golfers, among them Lewis Thomas and George Marshall of Lakeside, Bill Hunter of Los Serranos, and Bill Jelliffe of Girard, and one and all were enthusiastic over the brand of golf they witnessed.

Joe Hurst, who caddied for Black yesterday and was Walter Hagen's caddie all last winter, says that Bobby has the smoothest golf swing he has ever seen, far superior in that respect than Hagen's. Joe was more than interested in Bobby's putting. Although Bobby stands with his feet close together, while Hagen puts all of his weight on the left foot when putting, Joe claims that their grips and method of stroking the ball are exactly alike. Both Hagen and Jones are great putters, and that is an interesting angle.

VISITS STUDIO

Douglas Fairbanks was an interested spectator yesterday morning, and in the afternoon invited Bobby and his party to visit the studios as his guest.

Today, Bobby plans to play a bit more golf, and in the afternoon will be the guest of Harold Lloyd. The noted comedian also has invited George Von Elm, Charles Evans and Jack Neville to be his guests. A luncheon will be served and possibly Bobby will play a few holes over Lloyd's private course. In the evening Bobby will attend the California Golf Writers' banquet at the Biltmore.

The former national amateur champion, who defeated Bobby in 1927 at Baltusrol, will pair with Neville tomorrow against Evans and Jones in an eighteen-hole exhibition at the Los Angeles Country Club. It will be Bobby's only exhibition in Southern California and the proceeds will go to the Childrens' Hospital. Ducats are $5 a crack and may be obtained only at the gate.

JONES MATCH TO HELP PAY HOSPITAL DEBTS

The $50,000 that Bobby Jones is helping the Children's Hospital to raise, through the coming golf tournament, will be used to pay off the debt incurred by that institution, for the new wing of the building and the nurses' home.

The hospital, one of the largest of the approved hospitals in the United States, receives its annual maintenance or upkeep fund—over $200,000 per annum—from the Community Chest. This sum is barely adequate to maintain the main section of the institution, the new wing having been empty since its completion because of the limited funds.

Started twenty-eight years ago by a group of Los Angeles women, the Children's Hospital does surgical, orthopedic and pediatric work among the sick and crippled children of the city. It also maintains a school, and a social service department which investigates home conditions and follows up cases that are discharged from the hospital.

City Paddle Teams Stage Meet Tonight

With the municipal swimming and diving championships of Los Angeles at stake, the cream of the local unaffiliated aquatic stars will enter the annual municipal swimming meet tonight at Evergreen Municipal Plunge at East Fourth street and Evergreen avenue. The meet will begin at 7:30 p.m. under the direction of the playground and recreation department.

Only paddlers who are unaffiliated with any club and who have a bona fide amateur standing will be allowed to enter tonight's events. The swimming races and diving events are expected to bring forth many new stars of hitherto unknown ability, as has been the case in previous meets of this kind where the club athletes were barred.

The title of municipal champion will go to the winners of events in tonight's meet and suitable medals and trophies will also be awarded.

Women Start Swim Today

TORONTO, Aug. 22. (AP)—Nearly three-score mermaids from a half-dozen nations will take to the chilly waters of Lake Ontario tomorrow in the Wrigley ten-mile marathon swim for women.

Fifty-nine women have entered the contest, but barely a dozen are conceded much of a chance to share in the $13,000 prize money.

Some outsider may break through, but the experts are picking Martha Norelius and Edith Hertle of New York and Olive Gatterdam, formerly of Seattle, Wash., but now of Toronto, to share the first three places. Miss Norelius was in amateur ranks last year when Miss Hertle won the race with Miss Gatterdam second.

In the list of entrants labeled as dangerous to the top three are Ruth Tower, Denver, Colo.; Jane Thomas, Terre Haute, Ind.; Anna Benoit of Holyoke, Mass.; Leah Riley, 16-year-old New York girl, and Mrs. Evelyn Armstrong of Detroit.

First prize is $10,500, second $3000, third $1000, fourth $600, fifth $400. The race is over a rectangular course two miles long, contestants making five laps.

BRADDOCK-OKUN GO MAY BE FOR TOMMY'S TITLE

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams yesterday petitioned the California Boxing Commission to recognize the James J. Braddock-Yale Okun bout, which is billed for Tuesday's Olympic show, as a title affair.

Likewise Jimmy Johnston, who is Okun's manager, made a like plea to the New York ring body.

Commissioner James Woods is in San Francisco and will remain there for a meeting of the three commissioners which is slated for Monday.

Bill Hanlon, president of the California board, was consulted over long-distance telephone and was in accord with the plan. He stated that he could not act without referring the matter to the other two members of the board.

Johnston wired from New York that Tommy Loughran had practically passed his title down to Braddock and that he wants Okun acclaimed the light-heavyweight champion of the world if he wins next week.

The Boy Bandit of Broadway, as Johnston is known in the East, wanted to be sure that the weight was 175 pounds.

Wadhams assured Johnston of this by return wire. Okun scaled only 168 yesterday after a stiff workout with Ernie Owens and other sparring partners. He is using all right-hand swingers.

Braddock is down to 172. His manager, Joe Gould, is afraid that James J. will lose weight working in an inside gymnasium, so may ease up in his remaining work. Okun plans to lay off Saturday and work Sunday and Monday.

Braddock made a much more impressive showing yesterday than he did his first day of boxing. He opened up and proved that he is the socker with a right hand his record shows him to be.

Ravani is the stiffest little hitter the Manhattan gym has seen in months. One of his sparring partners was out for several minutes after being floored in a workout.

If the little Italian wins impressively he may be sent into a main event with either Bud Taylor or Earl Mastro some time next month.

Wadhams has two tentative shots on the fire. One features Speedy Dado and Ernie Peters. The other would send Long Tom Hawkins against Phil Scott. Johnston is Scott's manager.

Frank Moran announced yesterday that Hawkins, George Godfrey and Referee Larry McGrath were on the suspended list until their case can be "aired" at the meeting of the commission next Monday in San Francisco.

Godfrey's $7500 is still being held up. Hawkins was paid.

DUCKS' SPURT SENSATIONAL

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 22. (Exclusive)—If the issue of a split season versus one continuous pennant chase ever comes up again in the Pacific Coast League Portland will be found with one unanimous vote for the divided session. The new deal that was declared in the midst of the present summer instilled new life into the Portland club, gave the spectators something to hope for and revived an attendance at the games that was rapidly approaching the vanishing point.

The Portland team, as the whole circuit knows, is now playing the best baseball that it has in several years. This is probably due, in part, to the insistent public demand that something be done about Portland's habit of staying at the bottom of the ladder or thereabouts. The fans here haven't had a pennant winner for so long that such thoughts do not enter their heads. But they have been trying to avert a baseball inferiority complex that had been fixing itself upon the city. Through the newspapers and in other ways they told Tom Turner, president of the club, that it was time something was being done about it, and Turner finally took the suggestion.

The rejuvenated Portland team that recently broke into the first division is due in part to the fact that Turner loosened up some $30,000 for three young players, as well as adding Frank Sigafoos on option from the Chicago White Sox. Complaint had been in the past that the Portland team was being recruited either from youngsters who were not sufficiently seasoned for the Coast League, or old fellows that could be picked up cheaply because they were practically through. The addition of young blood, players who are in their prime yet know the game, has done wonders for the whole club.

It is not altogether the new players, however. Buster Chatham, the new shortstop, and the others have been a factor, no mistaking that, but the chance given them in mid-season to improve their position was the main inspiration. If a split season had not been declared Portland would have not had the heart to make a fight. Not only were they outdistanced themselves, but the public, at least the Portland public, had lost interest in a race in which the San Francisco Missions and Seals were way out in front with every prospect they would stay there until the final game was played in the fall. Now there is a new interest. Fans who had adopted a what's-the-use attitude are going back to the park and the turnstiles are clicking as they did in other days.

PICK UPLIFTERS TO WIN

Santa Monica Polo Four Favored to Beat Cowboy Team in Struggle Sunday Afternoon

Polo according to Hoyle and the book of rules, and polo as the cowboys on the ranches play it, will be pitted against each other Sunday afternoon at the Uplifters' Field. This turn in affairs comes about when the Cowboy four led by none other than Will Rogers, the fastest talking cowpuncher that ever chewed a piece of gum, tangles with an Uplifters' team, captained by Hal Roach.

The Uplifters, who play polo as the "city fellers" know it, rule slight favorites to defeat the Cowboys who will do their stuff in true western fashion, a style which is not considered orthodox.

On Rogers team besides himself are: Will Rogers, Jr., Gwyn "Big Boy" Williams and Sonny Baker. This is a hard-riding, helter-skelter outfit that will give the fans and the opposition an interesting afternoon even if they are beaten.

Uplifters enjoy somewhat of an advantage over their rivals because of the fact the game is to be played on a turf field. Cowboy stars like skin fields the best, but they can ride on anything, they assert.

The game gets under way at 3:30.

SHUTOUT RECORD

Sixteen shutout games are the most ever scored in one season by a big-league pitcher. This mark was set by Grover Cleveland Alexander while hurling for the Phillies in 1916.

NELSON READY FOR BOUT WITH PORTILLO

Predicting a knockout victory, Al Nelson declares himself in perfect shape for his clash with Tony Portille, Mexican lightweight ace, tomorrow night at the Main-street Athletic Club. Nelson, former 135-pound champion of the Pacific fleet, knocked out Portille at Ocean Park a year ago, but last month dropped a close six-round decision to the Mexican at Wilmington. Nelson says he injured his hand in the fourth round and finished the bout with only one fist.

Gaines and Dunlap in Duel Today

SPRECKELS CUP BRINGS UPSETS

San Diego Stars Beaten in Tilt at Coronado

Girard Player Favored to Retain Trophy

Tommy Owens Takes Match from Ward Edmonds

CORONADO COUNTRY CLUB, Aug. 22.—Tonight, on the eve of what promises to be the greatest duel in the history of competition for the A. B. Spreckels trophy, with Jack Gaines meeting the Southern California amateur champion, Gibson Dunlap, of Riviera, San Diego was gasping for breath, stunned by developments of the day, when the two hometown stars, Ward and Warner Edmonds, went down to defeat.

JACK GAINES

Jack Gaines's victory over Warner Edmonds, at the twenty-third hole of a magnificent match, did not come as a complete surprise. It was surprising though, that Warner could give the defending champion such a battle. At the end of eighteen holes, with the match all square, both players were two strokes under par. Gaines finally cinched the contest on the fifth extra hole when he ran down a long putt for a birdie 3.

The real upset of the tournament, an upset greater than that which nearly occurred yesterday when Gaines defeated "Speed" Martin, after the latter had to all appearances downed the Calcutta pool favorite, was that in which a towsled headed San Diego youngster, Tommy Owens, pitched and putted his way to a 4-and-3 victory over Ward Edmonds, the Stanford athlete who had been rated as San Diego's brightest hope.

Gibson Dunlap, who will meet Gaines tomorrow, and who should either beat him or give him the greatest match of the tournament today coasted through his match with Jim McGregor, beating him handily, 5 and 3.

Tommy Owens tomorrow will meet Jack Mackey, 18-year-old club champion of the Los Angeles Country Club. Jack has finally hit his stride and yesterday scored a decisive victory over the crack Tulsa (Okla.) amateur, L. Van Zandt, who is now off to Pebble Beach for the national amateur championship.

Bisbee's Star Hurler Gets Booted

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Glenn Gabler of the Bisbee Bees, leading pitcher of the Arizona State League with twenty victories and two defeats, was suspended for the rest of the season during an altercatio nwith President Fred Joyce following today's game between the Bees and the Phoenix Senators.

The suspension followed a word battle in which the Bisbee hurler is asserted to have cursed Joyce.

Fontaine is Trapshoot Winner

VANDLIA (O.) Aug. 22. (AP)—Shooting from the 21-yard line, John B. Fontaine of Philadelphia smashed 99 out of 100 targets today to win the preliminary handicap of the grand American trap-shooting tournament.

L. A. Ludwig of St. Benedict, Iowa, was a close second, finishing with 98. Ludwig also was handicapped at 21 yards.

An unusually large list of 980 entered for the preliminary event which is chiefly a practice shoot for the grand American itself, portends an event greater number of entries for the grand classic tomorrow.

Officials of the Amateur Trapshooting Association declared tonight that more than 1000 shooters will go to the traps in competition for the title that represents the zenith of skill.

Because of the great number of entries, the squads will be started off early in the morning and it will require expert handling to bring in all the scores before dark.

Among the entrants were numerous women, who have been blazing away consistently at the clay fliers this week.

Mrs. Norman Tilloq, of Houston, Tex., won the women's preliminary handicap award today with a score of 96 out of 100. Second to her was Miss Eunice Haggard of Winchester, Ky., who had 94. Taking the average of last year's performances as a base the grand American winner this year will have to shoot 197 or better. The handicap distances will be from sixteen to twenty yards.

TROJAN COACH CELEBRATING

Jones Plans Golf Workout on Birthday

Veteran Mentor Completes Forty-fourth Year

Has Coached Grid Elevens Eighteen Seasons

Howard Harding Jones celebrates his forty-fourth birthday tomorrow. The Trojan coach was born in Excello, O., in 1885, and has spent eighteen years, since his graduation from Yale in 1908, in coaching football in various universities throughout the country.

HOWARD JONES

Jones played end on the Yale teams of 1905, 1906 and 1907, and was twice selected All-American end by the late Walter Camp. He was graduated in June of 1908, and coached the Syracuse team of that fall at the age of 23, developing his first All-American, Bill Hoar, a 240-pound tackle. The following year he returned to his alma mater as a coach, and piloted the Blue eleven through an undefeated and untied season, with no opponent getting inside the Yale 30-yard line. Six members of that squad were picked as All-Americans.

In 1910 Jones went to Ohio State as head coach, the Buckeyes not being Big Ten members at that time, and returned to Yale in 1913 in an effort to rescue the Elis from a disastrous slump. He managed to tie Princeton, 3 to 3, with inferior material, but bowed to Harvard, 15 to 5, when Charley Brickley kicked five field goals.

Jones retired from the coaching field until 1916, when he went to Iowa. In eight years, the Hawkeyes played fifty-nine games under Jones, winning forty-two of them and losing seventeen, and piling up 1082 points. In 1924 he went to Duke University, in Durham, N. C., and piloted a woefully weak team to four victories in nine games. He came to Southern California in 1925, and during his four-year reign, has piled up the best record of any coach on the Coast in that period. He has won thirty-six games with Trojan teams, lost five and tied two for a percentage of .878. His teams have run up 1227 points, an average of thirty-nine per game.

Jones will celebrate his birthday by playing a round of golf with friends at the Bel-Air Country Club this afternoon, and tonight will be an honored guest at the California Golf Writer's dinner for Bobby Jones at the Biltmore. Believe it or not, the Joneses are not related!

Izzy Schwartz Defeated by Lamorte

Schwartz was credited with five rounds, three were even, while Lamorte won the rest, according to Referee Gene Roman.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 24.—"Our forefathers enjoyed the game a great deal more than we do," remarked a golf enthusiast to me. And he went on to explain:

"You see, science has ruined the game for us in recent years. Science is a nuisance. There was a time when life was worth living, but not today if one plays golf. Because golf now does not take in the actual playing of the game so much as it does the hours of alibis and aftermath.

"The old boys who lived and golfed in Scotland, played the game in silence and then went home and forgot it. They must have enjoyed their favorite pastime as it should be enjoyed. There are many old books on golf, but nothing compared with what the present generation is going to hand down to posterity.

WALTER HAGEN

"If there was any deep mystery connected with golf a hundred years ago our forefathers kept it to themselves; we find no writings on the subject of psychology or theory, and there were few books dealing with the art of shotmaking and advice on what to do and what not to do.

"The game was played for pleasure, and the old Scotch players refused to make work out of it, although golf has always been taken more or less seriously in Scotland. It has been something akin to a religion. It is their life.

"Today we hear of such things as good timing, bad rhythm, intentional slices and hooks, back spin, playing from the inside out, long discussions about the follow through, and admonitions to keep the eye on the ball and the head down. If we fail to keep up with this sort of golf ourselves, our friends take it upon themselves to furnish free advice—sometimes at the most inopportune moments. One must constantly be reminded of his faults, whether he is pleased to hear about them or not."

It is remarkable how my friend hit the nail on the head. Golf is no longer a pleasure for a great many enthusiasts who feel duty bound to live up to a handicap, and who are miserable when they score a couple of shots more than they should. We Americans are responsible for most of this unrest and dissatisfaction. The American mind works a little differently from the English or Scotch mind in regard to sport.

Over here we go in for golf for all it is worth, and making a success of the game means winning trophies at tournament play. The American rushed into his sport as he rushes to his business. When he is on the links he must either be playing for a large stake or he must be engaged in a tournament for a weekly handicap.

I have visited the British Isles several times and I have had a chance to observe the English and the Scotch golfers close up. Before I went abroad I had a pretty good

Plans for an air-mail service between Panama and Colombia have been abandoned for the present.

SERAPHS RECEIVE CUB HURLER IN PAYMENT FOR SLUG TOLSON

Berlyn Horne, right-handed pitcher, today was turned over to the Los Angeles club, Pacific Coast Baseball League, by the Chicago Cubs in payment for Charles (Slug) Tolson, first baseman, whom the National League club recalled to replace Charlie Grimm, injured infielder. This announcement was made at the headquarters here of the Los Angeles club. Tolson now is en route east from Seattle, where the Angels are playing this week. The Cubs in recalling Tolson, exercised an option they held on the first sacker. Horne was purchased by the Cubs from Jersey City last spring and he was playing his first year in the majors. He will join the Los Angeles club at Portland next Tuesday.

AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

SHIP TERMINAL JOB HALF DONE

Work on Long Beach Project Makes Headway

First Unit's Completion Set for Next April

Entire Enterprise Will Cost Near $5,000,000

BY WALDO DRAKE

The first unit of Long Beach's $5,000,000 shipping terminal yesterday reached the half-way point of completion, it was announced by George Snyder, engineer in charge of operations and vice-president of the C. J. Kubach Company, the contractor. The Kubach contract, entailing construction work to a total of $1,000,000, includes building of a rail terminal and two modern piers along the inner side of the new east breakwater, together with dredging of a thirty-five-foot ship channel.

The first pier, being constructed directly against the inner side of the breakwater, will be 1782 feet in length, one of the largest of its type in the world. It is 350 feet wide, while the second unit being constructed by Kubach—which will be on the opposite side of the new ship channel—is to be 541 feet long and 500 feet wide. It is planned to later extend this dock to the same length as that along the breakwater. Mr. Snyder estimates that the contract will be completed by April 1, 1930, thus giving Long Beach its first deep-water terminal fronting directly on the ocean.

The 1,125,000 cubic yards of earth being dredged from the bay to form the new ship channel is being utilized to fill in the base of the combined rail-water terminal.

The enterprise is unique in that it marks the first time in Pacific port construction that the new German sheet-steel piling has been utilized. This patented piling is interlocking, and, being driven like ordinary piling, forms an inpenetrable wall. All piling for both piers has been driven, according to Mr. Snyder, concrete now being poured for actual wharf construction.

KEEL LAID FOR NEW BARRYMORE YACHT

Keel will be laid today at the Craig shipyards, Long Beach, for John Barrymore's 120-foot steel Diesel-driven yacht from designs by L. E. Geary of Seattle. The new craft, largest of her type ever built on the Pacific, will be powered with two 275-horsepower Atlas Imperial engines, giving her a loaded speed of thirteen knots.

To be completed in six months, she will be used by Mr. Barrymore for a projected extensive cruise through the South Seas next summer. Plans are also going forward at the Craig yards for a 110-foot steel Diesel yacht to be built for George L. Craig from his own designs.

Hermans, express fishing cruiser built at the Harbor boat yards for Tod Ford of Pasadena, and Charles C. Perkins of Camarillo, was completed yesterday and will have her sea trials tomorrow, it was announced by D. M. Callis, designer. The new craft, an unusually beautiful boat of racy lines, is powered with the first two of the new Model K 175-horsepower Cummins Diesel motors on the Pacific Coast and is expected to develop a speed of eighteen knots. Messrs. Ford and Perkins will leave on Hermana in November for a three months' hunting and fishing cruise in Gulf of California waters.

Mickey, first of the new Callis one-design thirty-foot cruising sloops, was also launched yesterday at the yards of the Harbor Boatbuilding Company. With room accommodations for four persons, she has as auxiliary power a twenty-horsepower Gray motor. She was built for Dr. James D. McCoy.

One hundred and eighty tons, the largest catch of tuna ever made by a Southern California craft, was brought in yesterday by the refrigerated bait boat Glenn Mayne from Turtle Bay, 460 miles south of San Pedro. The fish, mostly yellowfin with some skipjack, were delivered to California Packing Corporation.

Both kinds of tuna are reported running well again off the coast of Lower California, half a dozen boats arriving Wednesday with 425 tons and almost as much more was delivered yesterday.

As a result, a fleet of fifty or more small hook-and-line boats are to be dispatched to Turtle Bay immediately by the local canners and more will follow. John Heston will handle the largest fleet.

This decision is irrespective of the export tariff of $26.64 which Mexico confirms in a new proclamation, and which defeats canners' arguments that the rate is $18.91. J. I. Sepulveda of San Diego, chief of the Mexican Fish and Game Commission, brought confirmation of the $26.64 duty on his arrival here yesterday from Mexico City. It is understood the proclamation was made retroactive to April.

Locally the albacore season is practically past, with only about 100 tons recorded, making the seventh straight failure. Twenty-five tons of bluefin tuna yesterday brought the season total to 3300 tons, or half that of last year. Skipjack, however, are reported running off San Diego, and with the bountiful catches off Turtle Bay canners are looking forward to all the fish they need for canning.

Five hundred and twenty-eight passengers are due on the Panama Pacific electric liner California tomorrow morning from New York via Havana, Panama and San Diego. Passengers include Charles Sterns, Pasadena; Joseph V. Connolly of Kings Features News Syndicate, New York; Dr. MacPherson Crichton, Washington, and W. F. Ohlson, Los Angeles.

The largest seaward shipment of oranges, 82,000 boxes, went out in the holds of the Royal Mail refrigerated steamer Nebraska yesterday bound for the United Kingdom. The previous record was around 74,000 boxes, sent on a Blue Star ship two months ago.

"Appendicitis ship" is the new sobriquet for the tanker British Star, now here under charter and carrying fuel oil to Chile for the Chile Steamship Company. Yesterday Dr. F. MacLean Campbell operated on Edwin Shaw, chief steward, for appendicitis. The day before Capt. Thomas Ridley underwent a similar ordeal and just before the ship sailed for here another member of the crew was put ashore at Channarral, Chile, with the same complaint.

Final tribute to the late Capt. Valdemar C. Iverson was paid at sea yesterday at 1 p.m. when his ashes were spread upon the waters as he had requested. The little service took place on the municipal port pilot boat Catherine Cryer, one-half mile seaward from the Los Angeles breakwater and was attended by his fellow-pilots, his son, William G. Iverson, and by Rev. H. H. Kelley. Capt. Iverson died the night of the 17th inst., ending a successful and colorful career of almost fifty years at sea.
